LEVEE BROKEN

East San Rafael Flooding Feared

By JOANNE GRANT

The possibility of serious flooding in East San Rafael looms large this winter unless property owners repair a major break in the levee and provide adequate drainage pipes, city officials said today.

The huge ponding area east of Highway 17, usually empty by this time of year, is not draining.

"With the first rains we're going to have flooding and if nothing is done it could be serious flooding, City Engineer Ely Caillouette Jr. warned.

There is an 18-foot break in the eroded dike and some smaller, shallower cuts. The major break is only inches above sea level and bay water flows freely into the ponding area at high tide.

The two small pipes draining the area are clogged with silt and water only trickles out.

Adding to the problem is the filling of a former ponding area south of Highway 17 by the Quail Hill developers. The loss of this storage area means runoff must be discharged into the bay at a much faster rate than was originally required, Caillouette said.

Letters have gone to the property owners, Francisco Co., Marin Development Co. and Equitable Development Co. urging that planning begin immediately to correct the situation before the rains arrive.

(The address of one of the companies is the same as William Penn Patrick's Holiday Magic Inc. and the other two are the same as Harry Heifetz Co.).

If the property owners don't act, Councilman Harry A. Barbier said he would go to court to force action.

Caillouette said the levee broke in last winter's rains and the area was inundated.

LEVEE BREAK—At high tide, water flows swiftly into the ponding area (right) in East San Rafael through this 18-foot gap in the dike. High tide marks are about 3.5 feet up the side of the eroded levee. The break is one of several drainage problems which could cause serious flooding this winter. In addition to breaks, drains are clogged. (Independent-Journal photo by Bob Hax)

Water came within a foot of the roadway, causing concern to the city and the state division of highways. That happened before filling began in the south ponding area.

A meeting with a representative of Heifetz resulted in installation of a second pipe to drain the area, but more is needed now, Caillouette said.

The pipes are difficult to maintain because of their location and the continual silting. The city can't maintain them because they are on private property.

Caillouette estimated it could cost $10,000 to $15,000 to make repairs to get through the winter.

A drainage plan for the whole area has been prepared and was presented several months ago. Property owners will have to form an assessment district to implement it, Caillouette explained.

Mayor C. Paul Bettini said a meeting is being scheduled for next week to discuss the matter. However, the plan could not be implemented in time to help this year.

The area which must be drained totals almost 500 acres, Caillouette said.

Pentagon Doubts Hanoi Slowdown

State Department's Outlook Questioned

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Pentagon said today North Vietnam sent about 100,000 troops into South Vietnam during the first half of this year, enough to "substantially replace" enemy combat losses.

The Pentagon figured enemy killed during that period at 93,653 but said that loss would be expanded when prisoners, wounded and defections are added in.

It was the first time in months that the Defense Department has released infiltration figures and came at a time when the Pentagon was seeking to play down the idea that it stands in sharp disagreement with the State Department over the significance of a recent infiltration decline which was disclosed yesterday.

Defense spokesman Jerry Friedheim, asserting that there is no disagreement, said both agencies agree that infiltration is lower this year and that there may be a decline of enemy strength in South Vietnam as a result.

But whereas the State Department said it viewed the development as "significant," Freidheim said: "We interpret this cautiously."

Friedheim said the 100,000-man infiltration figure for the first half of 1969 is half the infiltration figure for the corresponding period in 1968, but he said any comparison of the two figures "must be made cautiously" because of special factors which existed last year.

Among these, Friedheim said, are the fact that in early 1968 North Vietnam was preparing for the big Tet offensive. He said also the halt of the U.S. combing of North Vietnam last fall and weather factors over Laos this spring must be considered in any assessment of this year's lowered infiltration.

Friedheim said that while the enemy may have suffered a slight loss in strength in South Vietnam, his strength "remains sufficient to conduct operations under his present strategy." That strategy this year, he said, has been marked by fewer large unit actions.

Friedheim used the 100,000 infiltration figure, which compares with 250,000 all last year, because he said he did not have "specific figures which would

Green Beret Leadership To Change Again—Fourth Time

SAIGON (AP) — The Green Berets in Vietnam, whose leadership has changed hands three times this year, will have another new commander, an Army spokesman said today.

He is Col. Michael D. Healy, a veteran U.S. Special Forces officer. He will succeed Col. Alexander Lemberes, 43, Saturday.

Lemberes took command of the Green Berets when their former commander was charged in the June 20 fatal shooting of a Vietnamese man, reported to have been a double agent.

The reshuffle was another twist in the murder case, which broke Aug. 6.

On that day, the Army said Col. Robert B. Rheault, 43, commander of all Green Berets in Vietnam, had been arrested along with seven other Green Berets on charges of murder and conspiracy to murder.

Rheault, of Vineyard Haven, Mass., had been in command since May 29. He was relieved of his duties July 21 and Lemberes named as his successor.

Lemberes, of Sparks, Nev., an infantry officer who fractured his ankle July 26 taking the mandatory parachutists' training required of the Green Berets, was only an interim commander, the Army said. He had not previously been identified as such.

An Army spokesman said Lemberes will leave for the United States "where he can receive special treatment" for the broken ankle.

Healy, who joined the Special Forces in 1954 and served duty tours as a Green Beret in Germany in 1957 and Vietnam in 1964, is the former commander of the U.S,. Ninth Infantry Division's 1st brigade.

The brigade recently was pulled out of the war under President Richard M. Nixon's withdrawal of 25,000 U.S. troops from Vietnam.

Healy, who arrived last March, accompanied his brigade back to Hawaii—where it now is being deactivated—and returned to South Vietnam this week.

Russia's Latest Trouble With China

"All year I have been visiting the Moscow shops but I have not been able to buy six soup plates for my family. Has our industry stopped producing such necessary items? The situation plays into the hands of the black market speculators who ply their trade near the shops. The speculators offer to sell plates at three times the cost." — From a letter from A. Zhukov to the editor of Komsomolskaya Pravda, the newspaper of the young Communist league.

By AARON R. EINFRANK

MOSCOW (Toronto News Service) —Russians may have more on their plates than ever before in the history of this Communist state, but they have fewer plates than they had in 1957 when Khrushchev was talking about "burying" the West.

Twelve years ago, the inhabitants of the Russian Federation which makes up the bulk of the USSR, were able to purchase 34.7 million plates. During 1969 only 25.8 million plates will be available.

Accroding to Komsomolskaya Pravda, plated emand exceeds plate supply by 200 million annually.

The situation has led to some extraordinary situations. For instance, the shortage of restaurants and the abysmally poor service in the existing restaurants has been aggravated. Customers not only have to wait for food and waiters but also must wait for plates to be washed.

I visited one small cafeteria where a long line had formed. The food was ready but the plates were not. Each time a customer finished his meal, the plate had to be hand-carried to the kitchen for washing.

Then Komsomolskaya Pravda obligingly provided documentation in an expose of the great plate shortage.

According to Nikolai Petrov, of the Soviet Ministry of Light Industry, the prime cause for the scandal is the old Communist failing of fulfilling the plan with junk. On paper, the USSR makes a lot of plates, but an enormous number are defective. The defective plates count in the inflated statistics of state production plans, but they do not look so good in the kitchen where they disintegrate.

Petrov pinpoints poor workmanship and inferior materials as contributing to the disaster. Baking the plates at lower temperature saves fuel, he says, but the result is poor plates.

As for the material, Petrov claims that carloads of defec-

Ross Hikes Tax Rate To $1.72

The Ross Town Council last night set the 1969-70 tax rate at $1.72 per $100 assessed valuation, up 5 cents from last year (Other Ross Town Council stories, page 5.)

The total rate includes $1.22 for general government, 24 cents for parks and boulevards, 10 cents for retirement and 16 cents for drains and flood control.

Councilmen also adopted a final 1969-70 budget of $235,269, down $804 from last year.

Mayor Frederick S. Allen said despite the 5-cent rate hike, most taxpayers will pay less than last year because of the state-granted exemption of $750 of assessed valuation.

For example, the town tax on a $40,000 home would be $8.30 less, he said.

Allen also reported that the city's general operating tax rate limit has been boosted from $1.50 to $1.53 to offset the loss of revenue by removal of the tax personal belongings. the town is levying $1.22 of the general rate for 1969-70.

One redident objected because cost of living pay hike. W. James Dawson, finance committee chairman, explained that the employees had been granted step increases, and the cost-of-living would be reviewed in January after the trend in living costs is established.

Kennedy Attorneys Denied Question Rights At Inquest

EDGARTOWN, Mass. (UPI) —A district court judge today denied the pleas of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's lawyer to examine and cross-examine witnesses at next Wednesday's inquest into the death of Mary Jo Kopechne on grounds the proceedings are not of a criminal nature.

For 20 minutes, Judge James A. Boyle listened to arguments of attorneys for Kennedy and other prospective inquest witnesses, who also requested that counsel be allowed to present evidence and compel witnesses to appear to testify.

The lawyers branded the inquest an "accusatory proceeding."

Boyle then announced at the hearing that he would not honor their motions. He said, "I'm not satisfied that the United States Supreme Court would read the due process clause of the Constitution into our inquest proceedings."

"Therefore, I deny the motions," he said.

The inquest will investigate all circumstances surrounding the death of Miss Kopechne, 28, of Washington, who drowned when a car driven by Kennedy plunged off a narrow bridge on Chappaquiddick Island into a tidal pond.

Edward B. Hanify of Boston, one of four attorneys representing the 37-year-old Senator, said Kennedy will appear to testify at the inquest "not as a United States Senator but as a private citizen.

Lodge Tells Hanoi, Cong Level Of Fighting Halts Withdrawals

PARIS (AP) — The United States said today President Richard M. Nixon had held up action on further U.S. troop withdrawals from Vietnam because North Vietnam ignored American steps to reduce the level of fighting.

At the 32nd weekly session of the peace talks, U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge enumerated to the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong three initiatives he said the United States had taken.

These were President Lyndon B. Johnson's order Oct. 31, 198, to stop the bombing of North Vietnam, President Nixon's order June 8 to withdraw 25,000 U.S. troops, and only last month a directive to reduce B52 Stratofortress missions in South Vietnam.

Despite this, Lodge continued, 130 regular North Vietnamese battalions and "tens of thousands of agents" continue to operate in South Vietnam. Until North Vietnam accepts the principle of mutual withdrawal, a settlement of the war in Vietnam is impossible, he declared.

Thus the talks ended after four and one-half hours with no sign of a break in the deadlock that has persisted since the talks opened.

Noting the presence of North Vietnamese regulars in South Vietnam, Lodge declared: "This is why it is impossible to achieve a negotiated settlement until the Democratic Republic of (North) Vietnam is willing to act on the principle that all non-South Vietnamese forces will leave South Vietnam."

Hanoi has never admitted the presence of its troops in the South. Mrs. Nguyen Thi Binh, head of the Viet Cong delegation, joined Thuy in rejecting the idea of any mutual withdrawal from South Vietnam.

Both said such a withdrawal

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Victory Costs

WASHINGTON (AP) — As part of the Republicans' successful presidential campaign last year they spent twice as much as the Democrats on television and radio campaigning.

The Federal Communications Commission said yesterday Republican expenditures were listed at $15.5 million for both primary and general election contests. The Democrats spent $10.9 million.

However, in presidential primaries, the Republicans spent $2.9 million to the Democrats' $4. 7million.

Highest Award

MOSCO W(AP) —The Soviet Union has given Gustav Husak, the Czechoslovak Communist Party head, the Order of Lenin — its highest award.

The award followed Husak's crackdown last week on Czechs who demonstrated against the USSR on the anniversary of the invasion of their country.

To Ditch Tradition

SAN CLEMENTE (AP)—David Eisenhower says he thinks he may do a hitch in the Navy when his college deferment expires next year.

Eisenhower, 21, is the husband of President Richard M. Nixon's daughter Julie and a grandson of the late Dwight D. Eisenhower. He said his grandfather had advised him to enter the Navy if he did not plan the family's Army tradition.

To Big Now

ROME (AP) — British actress Olivia Hussey, the teenager who sprang to film stardom in "Romeo and Juliet," has lost a leading role in the forthcoming movie "Red Hothsot" because she's a bigger girl now.

Director Piero Zuffi said she had been replaced by Czech actress Susanna Martinkova.

"It seems as if Miss Hussey let herself go a little in recent times and has slightly taken on some weight," Zuffi explained.

Invites Pope

TOKYO (AP) —The Japanese Foreign Ministry said today the government has invited Pope Paul IV to the 1970 World's Fair in Osaka but has not invited the pontiff to visit Hiroshima on the 25th anniversary of its atomic bombing.

A spokesman said the Pope was invited to the fair because invitations went to heads of all states sponsoring pavilions at the fair next summer. The spokesman said Japan has received no reply from the Vatican about the invitation.

To Keep Job

LUSAKA, Zambia (AP) — Vice President Simon Kapwepwe, who sparked a political and tribal crisis Monday by announcing his resignation, now says he has decided not to quit after all.

Kapwepwe told a news conference last night that he had changed his mind because Africans were protesting his resignation and "had threatened to start violence."

The 47-year-old vice president had said he was quitting because some members of the government did not recognize him as vice president, because of tribal discrimination and because he feared bloodshed if he stayed on.

Malaysia Mob

KUALA LUMPER, Malaysia (AP) — Riot police broke up a peaceful demonstration at the University of Malaya today by firing tear gas grenades at students demanding the ouster of Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman. At least one student was reported injured.

About 500 Malay students had conducted a short march carrying signs denouncing the Tunku and were sitting on the ground to hear speeches by student leaders when 70 red-helmeted policemen arrived in trucks.

The police began firing gas at the students. Most of the demonstrators ran into the building. They dispersed after Vice Chancellor Ungku Aziz went inside and pleaded for order.

War Lull Reflected In Casualty Counts

SAIGON (AP) — U.S., South Vietnamese and enemy casualties all dropped off last week as the enemy's fall offensive subsided somewhat, the U.S. Command announced today.

U.S. headquarters said 190 Americans were killed and 1,367 wounded, compared with 244 killed and 1,409 wounded the week before, when the enemy campaign opened with an upsurge of infantry, rocket and mortar attacks.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported 398 government troops killed last week and 928 wounded. The week before the report was 477 killed and 1,269 wounded.

The two commands said 2,757 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese were killed last week, compared with a revised total for the week before of 3,898.

A total of 38,128 Americans now have been reported killed in action in Vietnam since Jan. 1, 1961, while the total wounded has risen to 247,096.

The enemy campaign continued in low gear with six clashes reported and 29 enemy mortar and rocket attacks on towns and allied bases during the night.

The Saigon government announced that 18 militiamen were killed and 24 wounded in a battle yesterday in the Mekong Delta. One American adviser was also killed and one was wounded, but the government said 44 Viet Cong were killed.

Five other small clashes were reported north of Saigon, and allied forces claimed they killed 57 enemy. U.S. casualties were four killed and six wounded.

An Air Force F4 Phantom fighter-bomber was hit by enemy ground fire while on a bombing mission 100 miles southeast of Da Nang yesterday and crashed into the South China Sea. Both crewmen were rescued and reported in good condition.

Meanwhile today, Secretary of the Army Stanley R. Resor completed a week's tour of the war front with a news conference at which he said the U.S. program to strengthen the South Vietnamese armed forces is ahead of schedule and he is confident more American troops can be withdrawn from Vietnam. But he refused to say how many or when.

Also the U.S. Command reported that the withdrawal of 25,000 American troops announced by President Richard M. Nixon last June 8 was completed today.

Israel Urges World Help In Saving Mideast's Jews

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Israel's parliament called on all nations of the world today to help save the Jews of Iraq, Syria and Egypt "before it is too late." It also demanded an urgent United Nations investigation into the plight of Jews in Arab lands.

The Knesset was called out of summer recess for a special session to discuss the execution Monday of 15 alleged Iraqi spies, including two Jews. Nine other Jews were executed in Baghdad earlier this year.

The parliament unanimously approved a call to "all states and parliaments who uphold human rights, as well as to religious heads in the world, to take action without delay to save the Jews.

"Israel will not cease its efforts to save Jews in Arab lands."

Prime Minister Golda Meir accused the U.S. Human Rights Commission of "making a mockery of elementary rules of fairness" by failing to investigate the situation of Jews in Arab countries while conducting an investigation of alleged Israeli atrocities in occupied lands.

The 71-year-old prime minister then appealed to the United Nations and other world bodies to take "urgent action to save the Jewish communities in Arab countries, who are kept there as hostages and are virtually in prison."

As she spoke, about 50 Israelis of Iraqi origin assembled outside the Knesset building for a silent demonstration protesting the Iraqi executions.

In Beirut, Lebanon, King Hussein of Jordan said in a newspaper interview war with Israel was inevitable "and the possibility exists of an explosion at any time."

Meanwhile, little action was reported along the Jordanian front this morning but the Israeli army said its commandos struck deep in the Nile Valley last night for the fourth time in 10 months.

Cargo Works Well

DENVER (AP) — Muffled noises coming from a large cardboard box mystified workers at Stapleton International Airport. A police technician cautiously opened the box. It contained a shipment of 24 burglar alarms, two of which had been set off in transit.

Park Sees No End To U.S. Troops

SEOUL (AP) — President Chung Hee Park declared today that U.S. forces will have to remain in South Korea until the threat from all Communists in North Asia is eliminated.

He referred to the Soviet Union as well as Communist China and North Korea.

Park's interview with the Associated Press was his first since his talks with President Richard M. Nixon in San Francisco last week.

Asked when U.S. forces could be reduced or withdrawn, Park said he and Nixon had discussed the subject, and both recognized the threat from the North Koreans.

"The reason they are not executing their invasion plans," the president said, "is because the U.S. forces are in Korea. A withdrawal of U.S. forces is not foreseeable until the threat has been eliminated. And until then, the continued presence of U.S. forces will be required."

Park said South Korea probably would achieve economic self-sufficiency by the end of the third economic plan in 1976.

"Militarily, however," he said, "we are inferior in some aspects to North Korea. We have to improve our weapons and make them strong enough to deter the North Koreans. When that can be achieved is difficult to predict."

Park added that even if South Korea could withstand an offensive from North Korea, the U.S. presence would have to continue in the face of threats from the Soviet Union and Communist China.

"If the United States were not here," he said, "we would give the Communists an opportunity of renewing their invasion of 1950 . . .

"If Korea were communized, Japan would be the next target."

DEDICATION—Former President and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson listened as President Richard M. Nixon dedicated a redwood grove near Orick, in Humboldt County, yesterday. The plaque acknowledges Mrs. Johnson's service to preserving America's natural beauty. (UPI Telephoto)

Nixon Salutes Johnson, Lady Bird

ORICK (AP) — In the cathedral-like setting of a giant redwood grove President Richard M. Nixon had dedicated to her, Lady Bird Johnson reminded Americans that "conservation is indeed a bipartisan business."

"All of us have the same stake in this magnificent continent—the same love for it and the same feeling that it is going to belong to our children and grandchildren," the former first lady said yesterday, "and the same opportunity to work in our time to see that it stays glorious."

It was the climax of a day in which Nixon saluted former President Lyndon B. Johnson's wife for her conservation and beautification efforts in five years as first lady. They also celebrated Johnson's 61st birthday with cake and serenades of "Happy Birthday."

The Nixon and Johnson families traveled by plane and helicopter 670 miles from San Clemente to this remote Northern California coastal area.

Standing on a redwood platform beneath a 234-foot tall, 675-year-old redwood, Nixon signed a proclamation naming a 300-acre "Lady Bird Johnson Grove." Mrs. Johnson had dedicated the park on this same spot Nov. 25, 1968.

Signing with six pens, Nixon, with a flourish, gave the first pen to Mrs. Johnson, the second to her husband and reserved the rest for the Johnsons' two daughters and sons-in-law.

At San Clemente, the Nixons had rolled up in golf carts to greet the Johnsons at the Western White House. Mrs. Nixon presented a big bouquet of yellow roses and orchids to Mrs. Johnson. An eight-piece sombreroed Mexican band from Nixon's favorite nearby Mexican restaurant launched the "Happy Birthday" serenades with the Nixons joining in.

Nixon and Johnson talked politics and policy for more than an hour, then joined their families for an informal luncheon at the Nixon's oceanfront home.

At the redwoods ceremonies, Johnson noted that one thing both he and Nixon most want to announce "would be peace among men throughout this world."

Johnson had one nostalgic comment: "Presidents are lonely people and the only ones they're sure of all the time are their womenfolk."

Mystery Woman Rules A Tribe

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) — Officials struggling to promote a government community development program have made a breakthrough to a mystery chieftainess who rules 20,000 tribesmen from a remote hilltop kraal (small village).

Chieftainess Charewa, an elderly woman who is Rhodesia's only chieftainess and never leaves her kraal in the Mtoko-Mrewa district, has agreed to the formation of a community board among the Charewa people. A dispensary and a school are the first projects planned, with dams, halls and clinics likely to follow.

Strict taboos are observed when the chieftainess has one of her rare meetings with government officials. Nothing metal or colored red is allowed in her presence and she may not be photographed.

Community Needs And The Hospital

NEW YORK (UPI)—If the modern hospital is to keep pace with community needs it must create a concept of "individual outpatient service," according to Monsignor James H. Fitzpatrick, president of the Catholic Medical Center of Brooklyn and Queens.

Long lines of clinic patients who must wait sometimes for hours before seeing a doctor are "incompatiable with a hospital's obligation to the preservation of human dignity," Msgr. Fitzpatrick said.

"Even though the quality of care available in many clinics is equal to or better than that received by private patients, the manner in which it is delivered must be upgraded," he said.

British Accidents Cost $1.2 Billion

LONDON (AP) — Industrial and road accidents cost Britain 500 million pounds ($1.2 billion) a year — or 10,000 pounds ($24,000) a minute, according to latest figures.

"Five million working days are lost each year through industrial disputes, but we lose 24 million days as a result of accidents," said former attorney-general Lord Shawcross.

He was launching a 250,000 pound ($600,000) appeal to aid research by a medical commission on accident prevention during the next 10 years.

Passenger Is Treated For Wreck Injuries

Mary Lou Brouilland, 22, of 122 Highland Lane, Mill Valley, was treated at Marin General Hospital last night for neck and back strain suffered in a four-car accident near the south end of the Golden Gate Bridge.

She was a passenger in a car driven by Francis Fargo Gregory, 39, same address, the California Highway Patrol reported. The patrol said Gregory's car was struck in the rear by one driven by Elva Jensen Montgomery, 59, of San Francisco, pushing it into one in front, driven by Nancy Christina Hedlund, 22, of a 4 Marin Avenue, Sausalito.

Miss Hedlund's car in turn was pushed into the rear of one driven by John Hillman Curtin, 25, of San Francisco, the patrol said.

Miss Hedlund also was injured slightly in the accident at 10:30 p.m. and went to her own physician.

REDWOOD MEMENTOES PRESENTED

Johnson's was inscribed "Happy Birthday" and Nixon's had his name and the date. The gavels were from the Eureka Chamber of Commerce.

Rep. Don Clausen, R-Calif., who presented the gifts, said the citizens of Humboldt County also gave Nixon a redwood burl with a barometer inset.

Nixon also received some Indian heads from the Hoopa Tribal Council. The Hoopa Indians live in the Hoopa Valley, about 40 miles inland from the dedication site.

Veteran's Lettuce

FRANKFORT, Ky. (UPI)—Maj. John Bibb, a veteran of the War of 1812 and an enthusiastic gardener, developed Bibb lettuce about 1870 at his home here on Petticoat Lane. Bibb was in his 80s at the time and lived to be 95.

Longshoremen Win Ship Packing Rights

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — West Coast longshoremen would pack almost all containers headed for ships under an agreement announced yesterday by union and employer officials.

At issue was whether members of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union or the Teamsters Union would handle the containerized shipments.

The ILWU and the Pacific Maritime Association, which represents shipping firms, said the agreement had been reached after nine months of negotiation and needs ratification by the West Coast's 16,000 longshoremen and clerks.

Under the agreement, longshore union members would pack containers at shore-based stations before they are taken to piers and loaded aboard ships. They also would unload such containers at their destinations.

Teamsters are picketing piers in Oakland and Los Angeles to back their demands that the packing be done by members of their union.

A provision in the agreement commits employers to take as much of the container packing work as possible to waterfront stations by 1971.

At present much container packing is done inland.

If employers have a contract calling for Teamsters to handle such work, such cargoes will not be brought to waterfront stations until that pact expires, the agreement said.

Men in the packing station are to be paid $34.40 a day compared to the $36.72 earned on the piers, the agreement added.

Included in the agreement is a provision that work will not be moved to the packing stations if the ILWU and the Teamsters reach an understanding on splitting the work. The two unions have been arguing over that for months.

LAW IN ACTION

Privacy Rights In Dormitories

A public university's tax-supported dormitory has advantages. But students there may also yield some of their rights to privacy.

Recently an officer heard that he could find marijuana on a certain campus. With the dean of women he entered and searched Mary Ann's room. They found "grass" there. Saying no offense had been committed in the agent's presence, she claimed he had no "probable cause" to search her room.

But at her trial the court said the search was valid. The Fourth Amendment protection did not apply since the school officers had a right to inspect. Had this been her own home or her car, the search would have been invalid.

College discipline, said the court, does not have all the protections of a court proceeding.

Further, the Fourth Amendment does not forbid reasonable searches by someone charged with keeping discipline there. Students waive objection to inspection of their quarters by house mothers and school officials.

Police may search a high school student's locker without a warrant if a school official goes with them, since school people have legal power to keep discipline and to protect the school's interests.

Anyone can freely give consent to searches of his home or person. Force, or great power, may invalidate such "consent." For example, courts have held it invalid to require a "bed check" of people on welfare in return for welfare benefits.

Students in a public school may also be governed by a legal rule of "special necessities." Inspectors have greater right to search without a warrant where someone runs a special kind of business, is subject to special government rules or to needs of health or safety protections. (Note: California lawyers offer this column so you may know about our laws.)

would place the "aggressor" on the same level as the "victims of aggression" and would allow the United States to perpetuate its "neocolonialist domination" of the Saigon government.

Lodge described their demand that all U.S. troops pull out unconditionally as "unreasonable, illogical and unacceptable."

Lodge said Nixon had decided to postpone a decision on further troop withdrawals "until we can further evaluate your recent military activity, in particular the recent wave of attacks, and examine potential activity in the future." Lodge had just returned from a conference with Nixon.

Using almost identical terms, Thuy and Mrs. Binh denounced the new South Vietnamese premier, Gen. Tran Thien Khiem, as a "bloodthirsty puppet guilty of many crimes against the people."

At the end of the meeting, Thuy told newsmen: "There was no progress due to the fact that the United States maintains its obstinate attitude on the troops question."

Lodge said: "The other side does not show the least interest in negotiating. The only news today was that we agreed to meet again next week."

Texas Declares War On Rodents

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—The State Health Department is sponsoring urban rat control courses—half lecture and half field work.

Officials said the six-day sessions across the state are an effort to combat an alarming increase in rats and mice.

State workers estimate more than 1,000 Texans, mainly infants and toddlers, are bitten by rodents each year. And rats are believed to cause 5 to 25 per cent of all fires of "unknown origin" by gnawing insulation off electric wires.

Radio Boom In India

NEW DELHI (UPI) — The number of radio sets in India has increased 33 times since 1947. At the beginning of 1969, there were 920,000 sets with a total revenue from licenses of $16 million.

Gate Board Seeks New Area Name

A longer name for the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District was recommended unanimously today by the district's legislation and public relations committee.

The committee recommended that the words "and Transit" be added. Its recommendation will go before the full board at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow.

The change was proposed by director Lowell Edington of Napa County, who said the district's name should "fall in line with our new responsibility" under a law signed by the governor. The new law empowers the district to operate all forms of transit.

tive material are being delivered to the factories in spite of complaints. He listed two instances where out of 30 carloads of feldspar, 19 were defective, and out of 35 carloads of fireclay, 24 were found to be of poor quality.

Petrov made the astounding claim at that in the entire Russian Federation (130 million people and 10 million square miles) there is only one factory making decent porcelain.

Heirs Claiming Rhodesia Estate

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) — Four Rhodesians are claiming a share in the 60-million Rhodesian pound ($168 million) fortune of a South African adventurer who struck oil in Venezuela and died more than 40 years ago.

They are descendants of Bernard Webber, whose daughter was disinherited becasue she married against his wishes and whose only son was drowned at sea. To prevent his daughter and her children from benefitting from his money, he specified in his will that his wealth be divided equally among members of the third and fourth generations of his family.

A recent search found 24 descendants, but so far only four have lodged claims.

Berkeley Leader In Foremost Scientists

BERKELEY (UPI) — Five University of California scientists have been elected to the National Academy of Sciences. This brings the UC membership up to 110, far ahead of any comparable institution.

Election to the academy, established in 1863, is one of the highest honors accorded an American scientist or engineer. Membership is granted in recognition of distinguished and continuing achievements in original research.

be meaningful for public release."

He explained that specific infiltration figures, which are gleaned from aerial observation, agent reports and sensor signals, are subject to considerable refinement as time passes.

Friedheim said the 100,000 could be off either way by "some thousands."

While Friedheim said he saw "no significant difference of opinion" between the Pentagon and the State Department assessments, the fact remained that the Pentagon was maintaining that the enemy is "substantially replacing" his losses under the reduced infiltration while the State Department was saying that "they are not replacing all their casualties."

In addition to the 93,000-plus enemy killed the first half of this year, the Pentagon listed another 10,237 killed in July, for a total of 103,890.

This compares with 119,000 enemy killed during the first six months of 1968 when a total of 81,000 enemy combat dead were reported for the year.

The Pentagon estimated all enemy killed, captured or wounded in 1968 at 250,000, or equal to the number it estimates infiltrated into South Vietnam last year.

Castro Crowing About Victory In Tournament

MIAMI (AP) — An exultant Fidel Castro is crowing over the airways that the United States conquered the moon but couldn't handle his Cuban amateur baseball players.

Castro spoke at a welcome ceremony for the Cuban baseball team returning from the Dominican Republic after beating the United States 2-1 for the amateur championship.

In a radio interview monitored in Miami yesterday, Castro attributed the victory to what he described as "sport without mercantilism."

Explosion Rocks Bank Of Greece

ATHENS (AP) — An explosion rocked the main office of the Commercial Bank of Greece today shortly after warning phone calls to news agencies from persons identifying themselves as members of the anti-government group called Akritas.

The explosion caused little damage and no injuries were reported.

This was the second time that Akritas has claimed credit for setting off explosions. A bomb went off five days ago in the office of Esso-Pappas Oil Co., causing considerable damage to furniture but no one was in-

Navy Closes Tijuana To GIs

SAN DIEGO (AP) — The Navy ordered the Mexican border city of Tijuana off limits today to the 150,000 military men and women based in Southern California because of exposure to narcotics.

A 30-day limit was set starting about Sept. 15.

The action was taken by the 11th Naval District at the request of Adm. Thomas Moorer, chief of naval operations, a Navy spokesman said. The 11th district supervises all military personnel, including Army and Air Force, "in cases like this," the spokesman said.

Schools Open Under Protection Of Police

NEW IBERIA, La. (AP) — Schools opened under police protection here today but only half the students attended classes at a newly integrated high school following a clash yesterday between rock-throwing Negro students and police.

Police clamped an 8 p.m. to 5 a.m. curfew on the city following the outbreak in which they used tear gas to break up a Negro student demonstration and arrested seven Negroes on charges of disturbing the peace.

OBITUARIES

Victor M. Lamperti Dies At 32

Victor M. Lamperti, 32, a former resident of San Rafael, died last night in a San Francisco hospital after an illness of 18 months.

A native of San Francisco, Lamperti grew up in San Rafael. He was a graduate of San Rafael High School and attended the College of Marin.

He moved to Clear Lake Oaks Lake County, about seven years ago, and was a plumbing contactor there. He was a member of the Elks Lodge.

A formal Army investigation into the case ended Aug. 21. The head of the investigation board, Col. Harold Seaman, Hampton, Va., is studying transcripts and evidence presented in the case.

Ironically, as his replacement was being announced, Lemberes appeared on an Armed Forces television program and spoke of the good work done by the Green Berets in civic action programs in Vietnam.

The program, obviously taped well before the Army announcement, apparently was an effort to refurbish the Green Beret image tarnished by the arrests of Rheault and his seven comrades.

Wounded Man Charged In Fraud

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — A Mill Valley man who was shot in the back last Friday as he fled from a policeman after allegedly trying to buy phonograph records with a stolen credit card has been charged with possession of stolen property.

Jose Reed, 24, a janitor, was arrested after a store clerk called police. Police said Reed tried to break away while waiting for a paddy wagon and the patrolman fired at his legs, but hit his back instead.

Drugged Man Dives To Death

CHICO (UPI)—A nude young man, believed under the influence of drugs, dove off a 200-foot cliff to his death near here early today as two friends watched.

Sheriff's deputies said the youth, whose name was withheld pending notification of kin, drove to the cliff six miles north of Chico with two young men to watch the sunrise.

Shoplift Citation

A 14-year-old San Anselmo girl was cited for shoplifting by San Rafael police yesterday after a security guard at Macy's reported she had taken three hair ornaments and a bottle of breath drops, worth less than $6.

IN MEMORIAM

RAFFO, JOSEPH (JOE) — In loving memory of a dear husband and father JOSEPH (JOE) RAFFO, who passed away five years ago today, August 28th.

In our hearts your memory lingers
Tender, fond and true.
There is not a day, dear Joe,
That we do not think of you.
Memories never die, as days and years go by.
Surrounded by friends, we're lonesome.
With a smile on your face, we've a heartache,
Longing, dear Joe, for you
YOUR LOVING WIFE and SON

MOUNT TAMALPAIS CEMETERY

Quiet Beauty

for families of every faith

Ninety years ago, Marin pioneers set aside this lovely site as a final resting place for all faiths.

Since then, Mount Tamalpais has developed facilities to meet each family's preference. Here are lovely gardens, the Angeles Garden or Memory Chapel mausoleums for above-ground burial, Marin's modern new crematorium, and the Chapel of Light Columbarium.

If you haven't visited Mount Tamalpais, you are invited to see the beauty of its typically Marin setting. Our staff will be glad to answer your questions.

DR. W. JAMES DAWSON
Resigns council post

Dr. Dawson Quits Ross Council Job

Dr. W. James Dawson, a member of the Ross Town Council since July 27, 1967, resigned last night for personal reasons.

Dawson, 39, was appointed to the board in 1967 and elected in April last year to a four-year term.

After submitting his resignation, Dawson mentioned the desire to spend more time with his children. He is an othodontist in San Rafael and teaches at the University of California Medical Center in San Francisco.

Councilmen passed a resolution in appreciation of his service, particularly in city finances, and called for applicants for the post.

Mayor Frederick C. Allen reported that the council will appoint a successor at its Sept. 11 meeting. Anyone who wishes to be considered for the council post should submit an application to the city clerk by Sept. 10, he said.

Mayor Allen said those who applied in April when a council post was open will not have to re-submit applications, since they have been interviewed, and their applications are in.

Dawson is the second council member to resign this year.

Jack Carney, television personality, resigned in April because "pressing business interests" made it impossible for him to attend council sessions. Attorney Ralph C. Walker was appointed to succeed Carney.

Juvenile Court Refuses Visitor

The case of Vicki Jean Wood, an 18-year-old girl who said she was visiting in Marin from the state of Washington when arrested on a burglary charge Aug. 11, has been refused by juvenile court.

A preliminary hearing was set yesterday for Sept. 30 in Municipal Court.

Ross Approves First Unit Flood Project

Ross Town Council last night approved plans for the first portion of the Corte Madera Creek flood control project to be constructed, from the southern town line to about 700 feet south of the Lagunitas Road bridge. (Another Ross Town Council story, page 1.)

Frost said the resolution calling for town approval of details and final plans "gives you another chance for revocation."

Councilman Roy Farrington Jones said the town's rights were set in its original agreement to join the flood control zone.

Frost contended the wording of the council's resolution was so broad that the town could hold up the project on details.

Councilman Natalie G. Lewis pointed out that the council has a moral commitment to town residents to retain its rights.

Charles E. Murphy, flood control zone engineer, said the town and the zone possibly could come to an impasse on a minor item, such as the type of fence covering or the color or texture of the concrete.

Mayor Frederick C. Allen said he it wouldn't be right for the council to "waive approval of the remainder of plans it hasn't seen yet."

Frost said he wasn't asking the town to waive its right to review and comment on detailed plans, but was concerned about the "broadness" of the resolution calling for final approval.

"If the board of supervisors doesn't like it, it's going to be their problem, not ours," said Allen.

Councilmen passed the resolution by a 4-0 vote and forwarded it to county supervisors. Councilman Ralph C. Walker was absent.

Councilmen approved the construction plans as recommended by the Ross Flood Control Advisory Board.

As recommended, the concrete channel would be 33 feet wide with a five-foot walkway along each side all and a fence atop each wall.

Access to the project through the Ross Post Office parking lot would be limited to vehicles under five tons.

Construction rights-of-way cannot be used for storage or staging areas.

Where the new channel will deviate from the existing creek, the old creek bed is to be preserved and provided with drainage.

Growth along the northeast bank of the existing Corte Madera Creek, the Sir Francis Drake Boulevard side, won't be cleared except for three access openings.

The southerly part of a line of acacia trees along the former Northwestern Pacific Railroad track will be preserved, as well as a line of cypress trees and two walnut trees.

Several residents asked if right-of-way easements across private property could be used for various purposes, including planting.

Frost said he expected that any use that didn't impair the function maintenance of the flood control channel would be permitted.

Lygren reported that during the construction period there would be a temporary structure to carry water from the old channel to the new channel during the rainy season.

Peacock Gap Boys Arraigned

Two Peacock Gap youths were arraigned Tuesday in Marin Municipal Court on charges of possessing marijuana and their cases were referred to the probation department for possible transferral to Juvenile Court.

Robert Dudley Deane, 18, of 235 Riviera Drive, and Eugene Fredrick Schenk, 19, of 231 Riviera Drive, were told to return to court Sept. 10.

They were arrested Saturday after police broke up a noisy party near Peacock Gap Country Club.

Banquet Planned To Honor Deputy

Sgt. Guy V. "Mike" Gibbs, of San Rafael, who retired last month after 18 years with the Marin County Sheriff's Department, will be honored Saturday at a banquet at Holiday Inn in San Rafael.

Inspector Bowen Bridges, chairman, said that a cocktail hour will start at 6:30 p.m. and dinner will be served at 7:30 p.m.

Tickets are available from members of the Marin County Deputy Sheriff's Association, which is sponsoring the event.

Design Meet Changed

The San Anselmo Design Review board canceled its meeting scheduled for last night for lack of a quorum and will meet at 8 p.m. Sept. 10 at city hall.

Bagley Can's See State Phone Book

SACRAMENTO (AP) — "Any time we try something new we get some people stirred up," the state's communications chief said of a letter from a stirred up taxpayer — who happens to be an assemblyman.

A. H. Carver, chief of the communications division of the State General Services Department, was joking about the heat generated by the tiny type in one section of the new state telephone directory.

Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, sent Carver a letter saying, "Our offices in Sacramento and San Rafael have just received a dozen or so new directories — all of which have promptly been thrown in the wastepaper basket."

Bagley said he would keep using the April edition rather than "the ridiculously illegible October rendition."

The new book is noticeably different from the earlier edition because it's skinnier.

The difference is in the final section, the yellow pages listing each agency of state government and key individuals. By using type even smaller than that found in the classified section of a daily newspaper, the telephone book planners trimmed that section from 261 pages to 67.

Carver referred questions to his boss, A. Earl Davis, deputy director of the department, who explained this phone book is the first step in a switch away from letterpress printing, in which each line of type is individually cast, then the single lines are put into page forms, from which the page is printed.

But in photocomposition, sophisticated equipment is used to turn out a page of copy in the form of a photographis negative, from which an offset printing plate is made.

SACRAMENTO SUMMARY

Big Property Tax Hike Seen

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Figures presented by controller Nathan Cooper indicated today that the San Francisco property tax rate for fiscal 1970 will be about $12.30 per $100 assessed valuation, an increase of $2.07.

In a report to the board of supervisors yesterday, Cooper recommended a tax rate of $11.685, but that did not include the 61.6-cent tax which the Bay Area Rapid Transit District is expected to levy.

The $10.23 rate for last year included a 49.8 levy by BART.

A homeowner with a $30,000 house would pay a tax of $867.15 or almost $100 more than last year.

LICENSE TIME AGAIN FOR MARIN DOGS

Marin dog owners have through Tuesday to obtain new licenses for their animals.

Applications must either be postmarked by midnight Tuesday, or presented in person by 5 p.m. at either a city hall, the tax collector's office in the county administration building or at the county pound.

Licenses cost $5, up $1 over last year, except in Ross, Tiburon and Belvedere, where the charge remains $4. Spayed females, which last year cost $4 to license, will cost $2.50 this year.

A current rabies certificate must be presented.

Licenses are required for dogs over four months old.

Young Bike Rider Struck By Auto

Brian C. Miles, 8, of 8 Hollyhock Court, Mill Valley, was treated yesterday at Marin General Hospital for multiple scrapes after he was hit by a car while riding a bicycle in Mill Valley.

Police said young Miles was hit at 6:39 p.m. when he and a car driven by Robert H. Grady, 51, of 28 Vasco Drive, Mill Valley, entered the intersection of Hollyhock Court and Vasco Drive at the same time, failing to see each other until it was too late to avoid a collision.

Tar Physicals Set

College of Marin football candidates will receive uniforms and physicals at the College of Marin gymnasium in Kentfield tonight and tomorrow night from 6:30 to 9:30.

Z'berg Asks Special Session On Bagley Business Tax

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—There was little chance today that Gov. Ronald Reagan would call a special legislative session to correct what Assemblyman Edwin L. Z'berg, D-Sacramento, said was a $2.8 million "serious error" in a bill lowering the business inventory tax.

An aide to the vacationing governor said Reagan had "no plans" to call a special session concurrent with the week-long veto session that begins Sept. 8.

Z'berg said 36 counties stood to lose $2.8 million in 1969-70 and $5.6 million in 1970-71 because of the bill authored by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael.

The measure doubles the exemption from the business inventory tax from 15 to 30 per cent. It provides reimbursement to counties for revenue lost through the doubled exemption. Reagan has not yet indicated when he will sign the bill.

Z'berg said some counties would not receive the full reimbursement. But Bagley, chairman of the Assembly Revenue and Taxation Committee, disputed Z'berg's figures.

"If there is any loss at all it will be slight and certainly will not cost 36 counties major revenue losses," Bagley said. He said there would be plenty of time to correct any errors in the bill when the Legislature convenes in January for its 1970 session.

Litter Statistics

NEW YORK (UPI)—Sex and age have a strong bearing on whether a person is a litterburg, according to Keep America Beautiful, Inc. The national anti-litter group says men litter nearly twice as much as women and people between 20 and 35 litter twice as much as those between 35 and 50.

SPCA Cleared Of Illegalities In Pound Operation

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Dist. Atty. John Jay Ferdon on yesterday cleared the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals of any illegality in the operation of its pound.

His letter was prompted by a request from the board of supervisors after pound employees had testified before the board that animals were treated cruelly and some had been destroyed before the legal time limits.

Ferdon said records did not bear that out and inspection of the pound showed it to be in proper order.

Employees had asserted animals were destroyed because of a strike they had threatened in an effort to gain union recognition.

Since then the SPCA has told the city it intends to close the pound it has been operating with some financial help from the city.

Rec Panel Seeking Stiff Park Ordinance

Corte Madera needs an ordinance like Marin County's to regulate conduct on public property, the Corte Madera Park and Recreation Commission decided last night.

The commission asked the town council to pass an ordinance like the county's adding restrictions now posted at the Town Park.

The Town Park regulations ban golfing, motor vehicles and model airplanes from the park. The county ordinance makes it a misdemeanor to "sleep or protractedly lounge" in public areas so as to obstruct pedestrians. It also bans such misconduct as carving benches, damaging plants, building structures and removing plants, soil or sand from public areas.

The commission took no action on another proposed ordinance which would ban "loud and unnecessary noises."

After receiving the resignation of recreation director Robert C. Bundy, the commission asked the council to name a full-time director as soon as possible to maintain continuity with present and planned recreation programs.

Bundy, administrative assistant for the City of Larkspur, was Corte Madera's recreation director on a contract basis. He has taken a job as tdministrative assistant in Merced.

The Corte Madera Park and Recreation Commission also:

SIGN ORDINANCE — Opposed liberalization of the town sign ordinance and sent notice of its opposition to the planning commission for its Sept. 4 hearing on the ordinance.

GIFT — Was told of a $319 gift from the Redwood Sertoma Club to buy a merry-go-round for the children's playground in Town Park.

SIGN Was told Boy Scout Troop 42 will refurbish the entrance sign to Madera Gardens as a civic project.

SUMMER — Heard a report on the summer recreation program and ordered copies sent to town councilmen.

FACILITIES — Heard three residents tell of the need for recreational facilities east of Highway 101. The residents said they will circulate petitions to get citizens' opinions. If enough interest is shown, the commission said, town staff will investigate availability of recreation sites.

Marinite Is Injured In Fatal Crash

Sally Goan, 16, of 1068-F Los Gamos Road, reportedly suffered possible back injuries and first and second degree burns on her right arm and right leg. Her father, Rep. William Goan of Billings, was killed when his plane crashed in a canyon in the Pryor Mountains as they flew toward Billings from a motion picture location.

Miss Goan and Binkley were rescued from the crash site early yesterday by helicopter. The crash set a timber fire which burned two acres on federal Bureau of Land Management land.

Goan was president of a Billings bottling firm, and a four-term member of the Montana legislature. Mrs. Goan and the couple's daughter moved to Marin seven years ago after the couple was divorced.

Mrs. Goan works at Kaiser Foundation Hospital in San Rafael and Sally will be a junior this fall at Terra Linda High School.

'Soul Survival' Set Again At Center

The Black Arts drama group production of "Soul Survival" will be presented at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow, Sunday and Monday at the Manzanita Center in Marin City as originally planned.

Plans to move the production to a Marin City church, announced yesterday in the Independent-Journal, have been canceled, according to a spokesman for the Marin County YWCA, which is co-sponsoring the production with United Bay Area Crusade.

BROWN ACT COPIES TO ALL CITY COUNCILS

Copies of the Ralph M. Brown Act governing agendas of closed meetings and public announcement of special meetings were mailed yesterday to all city councils in Marin by Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales.

The district attorney included copies for every councilman in Marin and suggested that any questions about the Brown Act be directed either to his office or to city attorneys.

The mailing followed an unannounced closed meeting of the Sausalito City Council July 3, subsequently investigated by the district attorney's office for possible violation of the law.

No action was taken when the city administration said it had never received from any newspaper, radio or television station the written request for notification of meetings, required under the Brown Act.

Many Ethnic Groups In State Of Texas

German, Czech or Polish can be heard in various parts of the state, and Spanish is the sole language of many residents. Mexican-Americans represent 15.1 per cent of the state's 11 million people. They are largely concentrated along the border in south and west Texas.

Attempt To Buy Opium Denied

A story in Tuesday's Independent-Journal erroneously attributed to San Anselmo police a report that two San Anselmo youths claimed to have been robbed Sunday of $65 by three young men after seeking to buy opium from the trio.

Allegations of an attempt to purchase opium were made, not by the boys, but by one of the three arrested on suspicion of robbery, John S. Iacono, 19, of Greenbrae. He and his companions, Stephen John Pappas, 19, of San Francisco and Reade Collins Backer, 18, of Ross, were released Monday pending further investigation of the matter.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Gary T. Ragghianti said yesterday that the San Anselmo boys vehemently denied having approached Iacono, Pappas and Backer to purchase opium.

Convicted Killer Granted A Stay

Tony M. Lara, 22, convicted killer scheduled to die in San Quentin's gas chamber next Wednesday, received a stay of execution yesterday from the California Supreme Court.

Lara filed for a writ of habeas corpus alleging he had no opportunity to cross-examine his co-defendant in the execution type slaying of Raymond Mitchell, 17, whose body was found in a dump in Wilmington, Los Angeles County, May 23, 1965.

He also said jurors were excused automatically for opposing the death penalty, a procedure since declared illegal by the U. S. Supreme Court.

Lara's codefendant, Raymond M. Alvarez, received a sentence of life imprisonment for his part in the slaying.

Zoo Animals' Names Come In Odd Ways

Mostly from zoo people, according to the Central Park Zoo.

Bill, a newbornaoudad, was named for a Parks Department executive, who prefers not to be identified.

John and Marilyn, parents of the baby goat, were named after head keeper John Kinzig and his wife.

Visitors sometimes are honored. Charlie, the tiger, is named for a man who visited the zoo every weekend for 15 years.

A new baby rhesus monkey is named Ashley because it was born on Ash Wednesday. Ashley's mother is so protective that zoo keepers have been unable to examine the baby to determine its sex.

Reefer Fleet For Aussie Crop

MELBOURNE (AP) — A fleet of more than 50 refrigerated ships has been assembled by the Australia to Europe Shipping Conference to transport this season's Australian apple and pear exports.

The ships have been drawn from West Germany, Norway, Denmark, the United Kingdom and Israel.

The season's crops are estimated at seven million bushels and will be moved in container ships for the first time.

Support For Bridge Bus System

The Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District should promptly implement the Marin County Transit District's proposed bus system, the Marin Council for Civic Affairs' board of directors urged last night.

The transit district has adopted plans for a 132-bus system costing about $6.9 million, and handed the plan over to the bridge district—which has both the money to set it up and meet its anticipated annual deficit of $1 million.

The bridge district, council directors agreed in their meeting at the Civic Center, "is the agency in the best position to operate the system."

The directors also urged that the bridge district "carry out a program of water transportation."

In another matter, they recommended that the Marin County Housing Authority hold its meetings outside Marin City occasionally to make it easier for citizens throughout the county to attend.

D.J. Satisfactory After Losing Leg

Doctors at Swedish Hospital said the KSFO radio personality was "doing fine" following the surgery.

Sorkin's accident occurred on a rural Marin County road as he was returning to Oakland. His vehicle went out of control and crashed through a fence.

Minor Injuries

Ronald Ray Bolton, 35, of Redwood City, sustained minor injuries at 4:15 a.m. today when his car hit the center divider at the south end of the Highway 101 viaduct in San Rafael, the California Highway Patrol said. He did not require hospital care, according to the patrol.

Friends Of Illegal Airport Call Facility An Economic Necessity

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

A new county crackdown on the illegal airport on the Smith Brothers Ranch yesterday brought an outpouring of testimonials from pilots that it was necessary to the economic health of Marin County.

An airport has operated in the area at least since 1925, County Zoning Administrator Thomas E. Cordill was told at the two-hour hearing at the Civic Center on a use permit asked by the DSI Corp. to continue operating the airport.

But Cordill, noting the airport never had the legal approval of the county, ruled that the corporation, which leases the field, had "no vested rights in the current activities." Thus, he will weigh the application "as though the ground were vacant, and as a new use," Cordill said.

He indicated he expected to make his decision by the middle of next week, adding it could be appealed to the county planning commission and the board of supervisors.

Cordill also noted the airport is within a proposed annexation to the City of San Rafael, and that the county's action on the application would be void if the airport came into the city. However, Deputy County Counsel Thomas G. Hendricks recently said that the city has no provision for airports in its zoning ordinance.

The application for the use permit came after Hendricks said the airport would face abatement action if it continued without a permit.

The highly partisan group of about 50 persons was an almost unprecedented crowd for a hearing before Cordill.

Favoring the application were 27 speakers, the Marin County Aviation Commission and several letter writers, including the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce.

Opposed were one letter writer, who complained of noise from airplanes, one Gallinas Village resident, and the deputy commander of the 78th Fighter Wing at Hamilton Air Force Base, Lt. Col. Donald F. Rhodes. He wrote that air traffic from the airport "creates a significant hazard" to military traffic at Hamilton.

But the applicant's representative, Ben Ostlind, said the corporation had worked out an agreement on separating air traffic from the two fields since Rhodes wrote his letter. Cordill said he would discuss this with Air Force officials.

John C. Hau of the county planning department reported that no building permits had ever been issued by the county for any of the structures at the airport, including one built there in the past two years. He noted that DeYoung's application for a use permit had been denied previously in 1959 by the supervisors.

Ostlind said the closing of the airport would force most of the planes to relocate outside of the county because Gnoss Field, north of Novato, did not have room for them. He added that the planes brought $5,330 in property taxes and other revenue from gas sales to the county this year.

He also said there were fewer problems with crosswinds and fog at the ranch airport than at Gnoss Field.

J. Massberg of San Anselmo termed the airport "the finest close-in facility in the whole Bay Area."

A hearing on a use permit for a drive-through restaurant at the intersection of Ignacio Boulevard and Entrada Drive, Ignacio, was postponed to 9:30 a.m. Sept. 10 in the Civic Center.

Thalidomide Proving Good Leprosy Drug

CARVILLE, La. (AP) — Thalidomide, the drug that fell into disrepute because it caused deformities in infants, is proving to be effective in preventing the crippling effects of leprosy.

Doctors at the U.S. Public Health Service Hospital here are using thalidomide in severe cases of leprosy with the permission of the Food and Drug Administration.

They report "very successful results" in halting or arresting extreme reactions over prolonged periods of time, unless alleviated, cause nerve damage and led to crippling, deformity or paralysis.

The drug is being used experimentally, but Dr. John R. Trautman, hospital director, and Dr. Carl D. Enna, chief of the hospital's clinical branch, are sold on the drug to combat leprosy.

"If we had sufficient quantities, we probably would use it n more cases," Dr. Trauman said.

The drug has been tried with 22 patients under experimental conditions in which the patients did not know whether they were receiving the drug or a placebo. The patients volunteered to be treated with thalidomide.

Evidence from other countries that the drug, despite its bad reputation, was useful in halting leprosy reactions, prompted the doctors to use it.

The doctors realize that the worldwide reaction to thalidomide will make widespread use difficult. The deformities it caused led to a ban on the drug in the United States.

"We shouldn't let something like this throw out a medicine completely," Dr. Enna said.

The drug is used to combat reactions from the most severe type of the disease-lepromatous leprosy. Many patients here suffer from this form of the disease.

The doctors use the drug only on male patients. However, they feel that continuing research could lead to its use by women patients, provided it is under controlled conditions.

Their experiments are "double blind." One proup of patients is given a placebo, the other thalidomide. Only Dr. Enna knew which patient was getting the drug.

San Anselmo Seeks Stalls For Parking

Existing apartment buildings in San Anselmo may be required to install off-street parking at some future date a city study committee said last night.

The city council's streets and traffic committee discussed off-street parking problems and offered two tentative proposals City Engineer Charles R. Leitzell reported.

One would require off-street parking for existing multi-family dwellings with a resonable time allowed for installation.

The otheer would encourage installation of off-street parking at existing one-family houses but parking would not be mandatory. An ordinance might set up automatic granting of variances for installation of parking decks on hillside homes the committee suggested.

The committee expects to have towo more work sessions before presenting recommendations to the city council Leitzell said and set its next meeting for 8 p.m. Sept. 8 at the administration office of San Francisco Theological Seminary.

Courts Next Stop In Negro Job Demands

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The national labor director of a civil rights organization said today his group will file "several suits" to stop all construction being funded with public money to back up demands that more Negroes be admitted to craft unions.

"We are not going to allow billions of dollars of federal, state and municipal funds to be used to subsidize racial discrimination in the construction industry," said Herbert Hill, national labor director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Hill said the NAACP would file next week the first of several suits in U.S. District Court across the nation to stop the expenditure of funds "on projects where Negro workers are barred from getting a fair share of jobs by the building and trades unions."

"Not a single public building has been constructed that has not been in direct violation of antidiscrimination statutes and federal executive orders," Hill said at a news conference in Pittsburgh council chambers at the City-County Building.

While he commented, about 250 construction workers unhappy with an order to stay off the job for two work days marched around the building, carrying signs and chanting.

Hill said, "Federal, city and state officials are violating law and order by continuing to subsidize racial discrimination. Black workers are going to close down every public construction site in the U.S. either by demonstrations or court action.

"We are not going to permit union bigots to decide who is qualified to work," he said. "Only an employer is qualified to decide who is competent."

The demonstration by the construction workers lasted for about three hours. After marching through Pittsburgh's streets, they gathered at the City-County Building.

Protesters have marched since Monday, demanding more jobs for Negroes in the construction field.

U.S. Assures Thailand Of Continued Support

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — The U.S. government has pledged to honor existing agreements with Thailand despite the impending withdrawal of some American troops, Prime Minister Thanom Kittikachorn said today.

Speaking to newsmen after a meeting of the National Assembly, Thanom said the pledge was contained in a message sent Rogers to Foreign Minister Thant Khoman.

Thanom did not say when Rogers' message was sent and did not elaborate fully on its contents. However, he said it "reaffirmed existing agreements the United States has with Thailand." He said the United States would not "turn away" from Thailand in matters concerning the country's security.

Turning to the negotiations opening Monday between Thailand and the United States on the gradual withdrawal of some of the 50,000 American troops, Thanom said Thailand wanted only to know about U.S. plans for a reduction in troop strength.

He said he did not know how many troops would be withdrawn but he understood "they will not withdraw immediately, because the situation in Vietnam has not improved." After talking with Thanat and U.S. officials yesterday, visiting Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Il., predicted only 1,500 American troops would be withdrawn.

Thanom said Thailand was not considering withdrawing its 12,000 troops from Vietnam even though the United States was cutting back its own forces there.

"The United States most likely will not pull out its troops from Thailand right away," he said. "When the time comes for the pullout, some units are expected to remain here in order to act jointly with Thailand in accordance with the SEATO (Southeast Asia Treaty Organization) pact."

Asked if the U.S. forces would take their weapons with them when they leave, Thanom replied: "We don't know their plans yet. Most of the U.S. troops here are airmen."

Asked if Thailand had any plans for taking over the air bases, used by the U.S. Air Force Thanom said this was what Thailand had in mind.

While Thanon spoke of U.S. treaty obligations, the United States has made clear it will not help in combatting Communist guerrillas in Thailand and Thai officials have said they understanding this.

Pair Charged For Marijuana, Hidden Weapon

Two men arrested Friday near Nicasio Lake were charged yesterday in Marin Municipal Court with possessing marijuana. One was charged with having a concealed weapon.

Roger Lee Shenkey, 23, of 1209 Shuman Lane, Petaluma, and Michael Alfred Castellino, 29, of San Francisco, were to return to court Sept. 5 for further arraignment.

Sheriff's deputies said they stopped the car when the men were attempting to make a quick exit from a parking lot, apparently because of the arrival of the officers.

The deputies said that Castellino tried to shove a brown bag, which apparently contained marijuana, under a seat. He also had a unlicensed revolver with him, according to the officers.

Two young women with the men were not charged.

Game meat should be aged from five to 10 days so the body enzymes will have time to tenderize and firm the meat.

Parks Commission Backs High-Cost Proposed Center

The community center plan which shocked San Rafael City Council members last week received the blessing of the city's parks and recreation commission again last night.

The council was taken aback at cost estimates of $681,000 for the proposed center, reporting they had expected a $200,000 to $300,000 plan.

The commission re-evaluated the plans last night and unanimously agreed there was no way to cut down unless a cheaper building were built. Members opposed cutting space, Andrew J. Snyder Jr., director of the parks and recreation department reported.

Snyder said the current building, a leased facility at the corner of Second and Brooks streets is 9,500 square feet. The facility being proposed is 19,000 square feet.

Building in two phases or eliminating half of it, as suggested by the council would not materially increase space, he said.

The commission also heard from San Rafael Architect Robert W.F. Severin on his proposal to put the community center on the courthouse square.

The commission felt the idea should be explored, Snyder reported.

He said he was chiefly concerned with the lack of open park-like area but suggested a park could be built on top of a parking lot.

The San Rafael Parks and Recreation Commission also:

MEETING — Changes its meeting time from the fourth to the second Wednesday of the month, beginning next month. Meetings are at 8 p.m. at the city hall.

CANAL—Heard a report on progress of plans for a small recreation center in the canal area as proposed by Robert Schoen, a barber. Schoen said the next step was incorporation and Commissioner Fred C. Robbins Jr. offered to help. Severin and the parks and recreation department staff also volunteered.

SUBSIDY—Urged the County of Marin to reconsider its plan to eliminate matching funds for senior citizens programs.

Stinson Fire Tax Rate 36 Cents

The Stinson Beach Fire Protection District's 1969-70 tax rate will be 36 cents per $100 assessed valuation, down from 38.5 cents, district board President Joseph Lawrence said today.

Lawrence announced the lower tax rate — which will support a udget of $18,324—at a board meeting last night.

In other action, the fire board approved purchase of 500 feet of dacron hose at a cost of about $500; decided to make a survey of all hydrant systems in the district to determine needs, and agreed to investigate the cost of buying a four-wheel drive pumper for fires in rough terrain.

McCoy's Children To Grandparents

The ex-guru of Rancho Olompali, Donald C. McCoy Jr., and his former wife yesterday agreed that the rearing of their three daughters should be turned over to her mother and step-father.

After both signed a stipulation giving custody to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Lang of Mill Valley, Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court signed the order.

Both McCoy and his former wife Paula, a onetime Haight-Ashbury resident, were granted the right to see and visit the children at "reasonable times and places."

The girls, Maura, 11; Dana, 10, and Mary, 8, first lived with their father at Ranch Olompali after their parents' divorce on Nov. 24, 1967.

On March 21 of this year McCoy signed an agreement giving the girls' custody to their mother.

McCoy, who abandoned a successful business career for a carefree hippie life, founded "the Chosen Family" at the large ranch north of Novato, where he gathered as many as 100 persons at one time.

When his father-in-law complained that McCoy was frittering away his money by supporting hippies on the ranch, McCoy agreed to have his estate placed under Lang's control.

The commune was also plagued by other misfortunes — the historic mansion on the ranch was nearly destroyed in a fire, narcotics officers twice raided the group, and two little girls died after tumbling into a murky swimming pool there.

Finally the ranch was sold and the Chosen Family was evicted.

McCoy, who had been a patient in Marin Community Mental Health Center earlier this summer, is reportedly now living elsewhere in the County.

State Attacks Gas Stamp War

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— The State of California clamped down yesterday on "trading stamp wars" currently raging among service stations.

Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch against a number of stations in an effort to halt the stamp battle, which apparenlty replaced periodic price wars in the retail motor fuel industry.

Some service stations are offering as many as 19 times the regular amount of trading stamps with purchases of gasoline. But Lynch said the stations, in their advertising signs, failed to note that they also jacked up the price of gasoline to as high as 50 cents a gallon to cover the cost of the stamps.

About one third of all lead used in the U.S. goes into automobile batteries.

College Of Marin To Receive $326,224 From Budget Surplus

College of Marin will receive an additional $326,224 in state construction funds from the larger-than-expected state budget surplus.

The state funds will be added to $388,194 in Marin Junior College District funds for five construction projects, college publicist Earlene Jones said.

Junior college districts in 26 counties will share $29.6 million from the $79.8 million surplus, $41.1 million larger than anticipated, Assemblyman Victor V. Veysey, R-Brawley, reported. Assembly finance committee and author of this year's school finance bill.

Miss Jones said the college was notified in June the additional money would be available, and planned construction accordingly.

The money will be spent for these projects, she said:

Harlan Center development for 1969 including site preparation, working drawings, location of utilities and a footbridge across the flood control channel. State funds will be $124,345 and total cost $279,426.

Working drawings for site development at the Novato campus, state share $57,508, total $120,000.

The local share of the construction will be financed by a 7.8 cent property tax levy authorized this year under Senate Bill 691, Miss Jones said.

More Than 350 To Attend Circus

More than 350 children and adults from Marin County foster homes, Sunny Hills, St. Vincent's School for Boys, Cedars Development Foundation of Marin in Ross and Sonoma State Hospital will attend tonight's performance of Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus in San Francisco as guests of Silent Majority Against Revolutionary actics (SMART) of Marin, according to Eric C. Kinsey Jr., president.

The circus donated free passes to the group, he said.

'Employee Of God' Curtailed

A man who said his employer was God was committed to Mission Emergency Hospital in San Francisco last night after he told a California Highway patrolman he wanted to do a swan dive of Golden Gate Bridge to "get the feel of it."

Patrolman L. G. Cook said that Ama Giesta Fleming, 28, of San Francisco, walked up to him as he was parked in the toll plaza parking lot and asked for directions to the bridge walkway so he could dive off.

Fleming told Cook he was a disciple of God, a polarist, a painter, playwright and "held numerous other worldly occupations." He also said he had written a play in "all m's" which he "wanted to be his last farewellf."

Cotati School Pay Hiked By Windfall

All employees of the Cotati School District have been granted 7 per cent salary scale increases.

Superintendent Duncan A. Coleman said all employees, including teachers, administrators and classified personnel, will receive the increases in addition to regular step increases. The salary range for teachers will be $6,634 to $11,647 as compared to the past range of $6,200 to $10,885.

Coleman said the increase, approved by district trustees Tuesday, would cost the district an additional $56,166 which will be covered by an additional $100,000 received last week from the state.

In dividing up the unexpected windfall, the trustees granted the increases and placed $41,460 in a reserve fund. Other portions of the extra money will be used for new materials and equipment.

The trustees met yesterday at the new Thomas Page School for an inspection tour. The district had feared the building might not be completed in time for the Sept. 2 opening of school, but the trustees found everything in order. Coleman said that the installation of a septic tank pump system is the only major work remaining.

The Cotati School District Trustees Also:

PORTABLES — Asked the Sonoma County Superintendent of schools office to relocate two portable classrooms at the Waldo Rohnert school. The board felt the classes for trainable mentally retarded should be placed farther away from the street.

CABLE TV — Heard a report that cable television had been installed free of cost in one wing of the John Reed School and that the Parent-Teachers Association would pay for installation in the other wing.

RETAINING WALL — Agreed to pay the costs of construction for a wooden retaining wall at the property of Thomas Koga adjoining the Cotati school. Dirt had been removed from his property for fill at a Rohnert Park school damaging his property. Wall costs were estimated at between $100 and $200.

ANNEXATION — Approved the annexation of the Thomas Page School property to the city of Cotati. Coleman said the annexing procedure will begin soon through the Sonoma County local agency formation commission.

City Manager To Be Named For Marin City

The Marin City Council is expected to name its city manager at its 8 p.m. meeting today at Manzanita Neighborhood Center, Council Chairman Rev. Samuel L. Banks Jr. said today.

Banks said it is hoped the manager will be on the job by next Tuesday. He also said the positions for secretary and planning intern are open in the council's manager's office.

The council and residents also will get a comprehensive survey of future planning at tonight's meeting, Banks said. He said representatives of Advocate Design Associates of Berkeley, Barrett Construction Co. of San Francisco, the Retirement Housing Foundation of Long Beach, Montgomery and Co. of San Francisco, Modular Manufacturing Co. of San Francisco and the Development Corporation of Marin City will discuss planning at the meeting.

Two home design concepts by Southern Marin architects also will be on display at the meeting.

Socialists Fail To Shake Mrs. Gandhi

NEW DELHI (AP) — A Socialist attempt to move a motion of no confidence in parliament against Prime Minister Indira Gandhi's government failed today. The Socialists could not muster the requisite 50 members.

Three members of the Samyukta united Socialist Party led by its leader, Madhu Limaye, said Mrs. Gandhi's government was "a government of contradictions and it worked in collusion with big business, capitalists and bureaucracy." She recently launched a Socialist program beginning with the nationalization of major Indian banks.

Preparing Johnny For First Grade

By PATRICIA McCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI)—You're getting this child three feet tall prepared for that great first day of school.

You tell child it's a big step, and it means he's growing up. You make it all so serious that he can hear an abrupt slamming of the door on little boyhood—and all its joys.

Please, don't prepare your child for school in such a manner. He'll get the feeling some great big change is coming over him. He'll think he's going into a hostile world where all sorts of strange things will happen to him all at once.

He might get a bent psyche and even develop school phobia.

RATHER THAN making the start of school seem like some huge fork in life's road, tell the child learning, his main business at school, isn't a brand new experience.

Dr. Robert Gilstrap, executive secretary of the American Association of Elementary, Kindergarten, and Nursery Educators, made such a point in an interview.

"Get it into the child's mind that he's already been learning at home," Dr. Gilstrap said. "Learning to wolk, talk and so on. At school there will be a continuation of learning, not a brand new thing."

Dh. Gilstrap also advised against hovering over the child at the school doorstep.

"PARENTS MANY times don't realize that a child of five is independent," he said. "Respect the child's growing independence and let him be a member of the group."

Some basic things to talk over before the first day, according to the executive secretary of the association, a National Education Association affiliate:

—When in classroom, other children will mean sharing and respecting others. Children of five are rather self-centered. Remind them that they're not going to have everything their own way in school.

—Let the child know that the teacher is someone who must be respected. Tell him he must mind the teacher.

—In this new place to learn, let him know, he also will get to play with other children.

—While you build school up, avoid making the child so excited that he will be letdown if he doesn't get the equivalent of a soda, fireworks, merry-go-round fun each day.

LETTING GO of your child for the first time is difficult. You may even want to laden the teacher with a profile of the child's pet moods, bathroom habits and so on. Please, don't.

"Take it a little easy on the teacher," Dr. Gilstrap said. "That first day of school is quite a day for teachers. You suddenly meet one group of youngsters you've never seen before and you must work a full year with them, teaching—a tremendous responsibility."

Why do mothers usually cry when they send their "babies" to school for the first time?

"Parents," said Dr. Gilstrap, father of two preschoolers, "don't want to give up the child, to see this new phase of life start. They envision and hate to see the child going through the hard life ahead."

IF YOU CRY, please keep your wits about you.

A Staten Island, N.Y., mother one recent first day of school couldn't see through the tears and put her first-timer on the wrong school bus.

Child spent the first few hours of her school life at a parochial school instead of the public one with which she had been familiarized during a lengthy orientation session the week before!

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

It's Her Business If She Takes The Pill Before The Wedding

DEAR HELEN:

My girl friend won't be married for another two months. Yet she got her first prescription for the pill yesterday. I was with her when she picked it up at the drug store.

I'm terribly shocked and disappointed in her. She always had such high moral standards. Why would she stoop to this? — DISULLUSIONED

DEAR DIS:

Many doctors prescribe the pill two months before a girl's wedding date, this so that she will adjust to adverse reactions which may show up in the first weeks of use. Often the prescription must be changed, if it causes undue nausea, bloating, skin blemishes, or other side effects.

Your girl friend is wisely planning ahead — and if she's planning anything else it's nobody's business but her own! — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I love being a girl, but I hate it sometimes too. I may have just lost the best guy I almost had, because of girl problems. He asked me to go on a swimming party, and I had to cancel at the last minute. It was either that or be terribly embarrassed about not going into the water.

Naturally I couldn't tell him the reason, so he thinks I'm a party pooper, and probably upstaging him besides. He hardly speaks to me now. What did I do wrong? — HATES BEING A GIRL

REAR GIRL:

You blew it! Boys understand girl problems, but they don't go for last-minute broken dates. You could have been in the swim without getting in the water if false modesty hadn't interfered. Write the boy a short "I'm sorry" note, and I think he'll get the message. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

My mother and father both work for the police department so there's a lot of law and order around our house.

It all seems to fall on me because I am the oldest, so I get blamed for not only the things I do, but what the other kids don't do. I'm supposed to see that they clean their rooms and do their work. If they don't, I get slapped, not them.

Whatever goes wrong, it's my fault, and I'm constantly being grounded.

If I get a boy friend, he's never right, and they run him into the ground. They'd like it if I never went out, as they lose a baby-sitter. They criticize me in front of their friends. I do more work than any of the other six kids because I have to do theirs or get bawled out.

Why can't parents see that the oldest child isn't a third parent but just an ordinary teen? — ABOUT TO RUN AWAY

DEAR ATRA:

Why indeed! I hope your parents read your letter and recognize themselves. Sometimes a working mother loads her firstborn with all the responsibility, her excuse being she's too tired. She'd better revise her thinking before she has one less child in the family. — H.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel J. Gallagher and James's parents are Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Strachan, all of San Rafael. (Faulkner photo)

Miss Duhme Wed At St. Hilary's Rite In Tiburon

St. Hilary's Church in Tiburon was the setting for the wedding of Helen Frances Duhme and Anthony David Branbling-Bennett at noon Saturday.

The bride was attended by her sisters, Anne Duhme of Tiburon, who was maid of honor, and Mary Duhme of Tiburon, who was the bridesmaid.

Samuel Lane of Santa Monica was the best man.

The reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Duhme Sr. in Tiburon, the bride's aunt and uncle with whom she makes her home. She is the daughter of Reeve Duhme of Sacramento and the late Mrs. Duhme.

Thd bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Geoffrey Bennett of Los Angeles. He is a graduate of Harvard University and is an intern at Stanford University School of Medicine in Palo Alto.

Helen attended the University of California at Davis and was graduated from the University of California at Berkeley in June. She is training in medical technology at Kaiser Hospital in Oakland.

Susan Danford Is Bride In Mill Valley

Culmination of a friendship begun when Susan Danford and Charles William Jorgensen III served in the Peace Corts in Africa was their marriage Saturday afternoon in a one o'clock garden wedding at the Mill Valley home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Porter T. Danford.

The bridegroom, better known as "Rusty," is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles William Jorgensen II of Syracuse, N.Y.

Susan's attendants were her two sisters, Mrs. Michael Passovoy, of Madras, Ore., and Mrs. Paul A. Backman of Davis. Richard E. Jorgensen of Ithaca, N.Y., served his brother as best man, and another brother, Peter E. Jorgensen of Syracuse, was the usher.

The couple will live in Sonoma, where Rusty will attend Sonoma State College. Susan plans to resume her work as a medical technician.

A graduate of Marin Catholic High School, she was graduated from the University of California. She has a brother, William T. Danford of Mill Valley.

A graduate of Dwight Morrow High School in Englewood, N.J., Rusty attended the University of Virginia at Charlottesville, N.C., and Fairleigh Dickienson University at Teaneck, N.J.

He has a sister, Elizabeth E. Jorgensen of Syracuse.

Married Men

Bachelors should note that marriage could mean a much better chance to reach old age, according to the Health Insurance Institute. In a recent study of longevity, married men were found to live notably longer than single. The disparity in death rates reached a peak in the age bracket 30 to 44. At all age levels, divorced men showed the highest death rate.

Smith-Burr Wedding Rite Held On Ranch In Sunol

Marriage vows were exchanged by Henry Baldwin Dunlap Smith and Cynthia Burr at 3 o'clock Saturday at the bride's family home on the Burr ranch in Sunol.

Harry, as the bridegroom is known, is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Perry Dunlap Smith Jr. of Tiburon. The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Edwin M. Burr of Sunol.

Leslie Nordman of Oxnard was the maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Molly Johnson of Pleasanton, Deborah Bachman of Des Moines, Iowa, Sherry Carlson of McFarland, and Jennifer Smith of Tiburon, the bridegroom's sister.

The bridegroom asked his brother, Rusty Smith of Tiburon, to be best man. Kevin Kelly of Tiburon, Richard Brown of Los Angeles and Thomas Zellerbach of San Francisco were the ushers.

Cynthia was graduated from Ojai Valley School, and attended Temple Buell College in Denver, Colo. She has one sister, Nancy Burr, now studying in Switzerland. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. E. F. Tyler of Castro Valley and Mrs. Edwin G. Burr of La Falva Beach.

Harry attended Redwood High School and was graduated from the Ojai Valley School. He is attending Colorado College at Colorado Springs, Colo., where he is in his junior year.

The couple will travel to Colorado on their wedding trip, and plan to live in Colorado Springs, while the bridegroom completes his education.

Judson-Taylor Vows Exchanged In Utah Temple

Philip Judson of San Rafael claimed Dora Leah Taylor as his bride Friday in an afternoon ceremony at Salt Lake Latter-Day Saints Temple in Salt Lake City, Utah.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Taylor of Dugway, Utah, and he is the son of Mrs. Allan Judson of San Rafael.

Jean Jenson Orem, Utah, was the maid of honor and bridesmaids were Dora's sisters Fay, Karen and Tamara Taylor all of Dugway.

Grant Hudson of Salt Lake City was the best man and Jess Ray Taylor, of Dugway the bride's brother, ushered.

The couple will live in San Rafael after a wedding trip to Disneyland.

Dora was graduated from Dugway High School and attended Brigham Young University on Provo.

Philip is a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School and Brigham Young University. He is employed at the Naval Area Audit Service in San Francisco. Mrs. Robert Vassar of Terra Linda is his sister and his grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Judson of San Rafael.

Poultry Specials Set For Weekend Shopper

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The following guide to the nation's food buys for the weekend was prepared by the U.S. Departments of Agriculture and Interior for UPI.

USDA's Food and Nutrition Service reports that food shopping for the Labor Day weekend should be relatively easy because there will be ample displays of meat and poultry and adequate stocks of some fresh vegetables and fruit in food stores and supermarkets.

BROILER - FRYER chickens turkeys are expected to be holiday specials in all areas. Beef cuts should also be ample, especially roasts and steaks and ground beef.

Smoked picnics are in abundance along with hams and the usual fresh cuts of pork. Fish buys to watch for are Maine sardines, canned tuna, and fish sticks and portions.

Fresh vegetables in best supply are cabbage, celery, corn, onions, potatoes, and tomatoes. Fresh fruit in best supply are bananas, grapes, peaches, and watermelons.

Other foods in USDA's plentiful foods list for August are peanuts and peanut products, wheat products, limes, nectarines, and pears.

BEEF AND PORK prices are mixed in West Coast markets. In San Francisco ribs are higher and in Los Angeles, hindquarters, forequarters, and rounds are lower.

Fresh pork loins are lower in San Francisco but higher in Los Angeles. Sliced bacon is higher in California markets, but down in Portland. Smoked hams are down in Portland and in Los Angeles but up in San Francisco.

Spring lamb is lower in California markets.

Butter is higher in Seattle. Eggs are higher in San Francisco, Los Angeles and Portland.

Calf, veal, and poultry are mostly unchanged.

Fruits and vegetables in best supply include: apples, bananas, grapes, miscellaneous melons, oranges, cabbage, celery, onions, potatoes, and tomatoes.

Hemlines Hold

It looks like no change in hemline lengths for fall. Daytime and short cocktail dresses still ride three to five inches above the knees. But several designers like the look of short day dresses or culottes with floor length coats, usually flared and belted.

INCONCLUSIVE TESTS

Researcher Urges New Study Of Pill

WASHINGTON (AP) — A government researcher today urged a new, multiple-study approach to settling the question whether oral birth control pills —estimated to be used by 10 million women in the United States—have possible long-term harmful effects.

Dr. R. E. Markush of the National Institute of Mental Health said present evidence suggesting such hazards as potentially deadly blood-clots stems largely from studies limited to guilty-by-association conclusions rather than to a pinned-down, cause and effect relationship.

That is, he told the Eighth International Congress of Gerontology, epidemiological studies of possible harmful effects of the "estrogenic hormones" of The Pill have been almost wholly limited to the so-called associative approach: studies of mortality rates from certain diseases among women since The pill became generally available in 1961.

For example, he said, British investigators have reported a rise in death rates from venous thrombo-embolism, blood clots carried to the lungs and elsewhere, since oral contraceptives became available.

American researchers, he said, have confirmed this, and also found a possible associative link between The Pill and arteriosclerotic heart disease.

But he said the associative approach, while inexpensive and providing sometimes important clues "is weak, since it can not distinguish associations which are causative from those which are not."

What's needed, he said, is a combination of:

1. More studies of the "retrospective" type involving specific examination of the medical records of groups of women who have been on The Pill for a certain period of time and those who have not used the contraceptive.

2. Virtually unused prospective studies involving a kind of fresh-start approach. That is, groups of women would be started on the pill and then they, and comparable groups of non-users, would be closely watched over a period of possibly several decades to see how they made out, both physically and emotionally.

Markush also said that additional studies of the associative type should also be carried on.

The researcher also recommended the three-fold test approach for assessing possible health hazards from the long-term use of "estrogenic hormones" as estrogen-replacement therapy for certain women undergoing the menopause.

Estimates are, he said, that approximately 3 million American women, primarily in the ages 45-54, are using medicinal estrogenic hormones as replacements for their own natural hormone of this type.

The medicinal hormones are designed to relieve unwanted reactions which occur in some women during the menopause, such as "hot flashes," and irregular or heavy bleeding.

More Verdicts Handed Out For Campus Rioting

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A municipal court jury rendered verdicts yesterday for seven persons arrested during a Jan. 23 demonstration at San Francisco State College.

All were charged with disturbing the peace, refusal to disperse and unlawful assembly.

Miranda Bergman and Clifton Y. Yoza were acquitted of all charges. James R. Bliss was acquitted of failure to disperse and convicted of the other two charges.

Martha L. Embry, Thomas E. Gabel, Gail F. Johnson and Bradley F. Kearns were convicted of unlawful assembly but acquitted of the other charges.

So far 84 persons have been convicted, 42 have been acquitted and jurors failed to reach a decision concerning 26. In addition, 107 pleaded guilty or no contest.

The demonstration took place during a strike which unsuccessfully sought the establishment of an ethnic studies college and the admission of all Negroes regardless of academic qualifications.

Home Role Idea For Foes Of Viet War

FAIRFIELD (UPI) — State Supreme Court Justice Stanley Mosk has proposed draftees opposed to the Vietnam conflict could instead perform their service with state and local law enforcement agencies.

The former attorney general outlined the plan yesterday in remarks at a teachers' orientation conference of the Fairfield-Suisun Unified School District.

He said the idea originated with the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, who first suggested it to former Los Angeles Police Chief Thomas Reddin.

"Young men who feel ill-disposed toward bringing order out of chaos in Asia can, in the alternative, help achieve law and order in the cities of America," Mosk said.

He said under the plan, Vietnam objectors would be assigned by Selective Service boards to qualified law enforcement agencies requesting the assistance.

Mosk said draftees would be restricted to support roles, working as clerks and mechanics This would help solve personnel shortages in law enforcement agencies by freeing officers for more important duties.

Mosk said the draftees would be paid the same as their counterparts in the armed forces and be provided living quarters.

But the draftees would be under the exclusive control of the local law enforcement agency to which they were assigned to "avoid any fear of creating a national police force."

Promise Of Equal Voting Rights Cheers Catholics

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — A leader of Northern Ireland's government reportedly promised wide-ranging civil rights legislation last night, including equal voting rights for Roman Catholics in local elections.

Minister of Development Roy Bradford was understood to have given this pledge at a dinner to which visiting British Home Secretary James Callaghan invited a dozen persons representing all sides of the religious warfare which has bloodied the province.

A "one-man, one-vote" law for local elections has been one of the chief goals of the pro-Catholic civil rights movement whose campaign so inflamed Protestant militants.

Because voting in local elections is based on property taxes and most property is owned by Protestants, the Catholics claim they are not represented on the local councils which hand out many jobs and decide who gets public housing.

Callaghan is the British government minister responsible for internal affairs in the United Kingdom, which includes Northern Ireland. He began a three-day fact finding visit yesterday.

Crowds of Protestants and Catholics cheered him as he toured areas of Belfast where there was arson, looting and street fighting the week before last.

Callaghan was visiting more riot-torn areas today. He was also the meet with Rev. Ian Paisley, the firebrand who leads the most militant Protestant faction.

"Perhaps Mr. Paisley will have something to say to me. I will certainly have something to say to Mr. Paisley," Callaghan told newsmen.

S. Africans Offer Prize For Mohair

PORT ELIZABETH, South Africa (AP) — Italian industrialist Count Dr. Angelo Zegna announced here he will award a Rands 2,000 ($2,800) floating trophy to the producer of the highest quality kid mohair in the world.

Dr. Zegna, of Trivero, northern Italy, said South African sculptors will be invited to submit designs for the trophy and they will be judged by a panel of Italian art critics.

Beatle Paul Now A Father

The baby, born in a London clinic, is named Mary.

McCartney and Linda, daughter of a New York lawyer Lee Eastman, married in London in March.

McCartney was the last bachelor among the Beatles, still Britain's top pop group.

Linda, a society photographer, met McCartney when she came to London to take photographs of him for an American magazine. She is 27, a few months older than McCartney, and has a daughter, Heather, 6, by a previous marriage.

Turtle Ride? One Whale Of A Story

LOS ANGELE S (AP) — It took a whale to save Jonah from the briny deep. Chung Nam Kim says he made it with a turtle, and he's got witnesses.

Kim, a 27-year-old South Korean sailor, yesterday described a turtle kept him afloat after he fell from the deck of a merchant ship in the Pacific Ocean.

Hours after his strange adventure began, he was picked up by a Swedish freighter, the Citadel.

Crewmen of freighter said Kim was swimming with one arm on a turtle's back, and one of them took pictures to prove it.

Kim related his story through an interpreter in a radio-telephone interview aboard The Citadel, which is due here Friday.

He said he left his parents and brothers and sisters in Pusan, went to Japan last October and got a job as deckhand aboard the Federal Nagara, a Liberian ship headed for New York.

As the ship sailed about 100 miles off Nicaragua last Friday, Kim said, he got a headache. It was about 2 a.m. and he couldn't sleep.

So he walked out on the deck for some fresh air, he said, and "one foot went off—and then I went off. Nobody saw it." He started swimming.

"I had been swimming it seemed like 13 hours," he said, when he saw an animal. "I thought it was a shark, then I could see it was a turtle.

"I threw an arm around it and we swam, very slowly, very slowly, for about two hours."

The water was cold, Kim said, and "I was very afraid. I thought I was dying."

Finally he spotted The Citadel. He waved. The crew waved back.

Capt. Horst Wedder of The Citadel said he could see the turtle, three or four feet long. One member of his crew took pictures of it, Wedder said. "I don't know yet what they show, but what you could see from a distance was the round back."

Sailors of the freighter threw Kim a lifebelt. He grabbed it and they pulled him out.

Kim said he looked back and saw the turtle disappear under the water. Nobody on the ship saw it again.

Wedder said Kim "has a lot of marks on his skin like he was bitten by some little animals. They're mysterious marks. I don't know what kind of animal could have made them."

That isn't the only mystery. Why did the turtle play Good Samaritan?

A sea turtle is normally very sensitive and dives when it's disturbed, said a marine biologist, Malcolm Gordon, of the University of California at Los Angeles.

"It's awfully unlikely," Gordon said, "that a guy would be able to use one for a liferaft."

Mercy Death For Camille's Pet Victims

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — The crack of a rifle sounds repeatedly along the hurricane ravaged Gulf coast as man offers the mercy of death to injured and starving animals.

Miss Emily Gloeckler, president of the Florida Association of Humane Societies, said Hurricane Camille left untold thousands of dogs, cats and other pets hurt and homeless along the coastal areas of Louisiana, Mississippi and Florida.

Navy Seabees and Army National Guardsmen cooperating with the Humane Societies are destroying the animals, she said.

"It's so sad," Miss Gloeckler said, "but there is nothing else to do. We have been criticized for killing these animal,s but many of them were too badly injured to save and we just can't find the space or food we need to care for the others."

More than one big, husky Seabee or soldier fought back tears as he placed the muzzle of his rifle between the trusting eyes of an injured dog and pulled the trigger, she said.

Donations coming from across the country are being used to care for some animals in areas that were not so badly damaged and to rebuild the Gulfport Animal Shelter, which was destroyed by the storm.

$260 Camera Stolen

A camera valued at $260 was taken from the glove compartment of a car between 6:30 a.m. and 6:45 p.m. yesterday while it was parked in front of 1629 San Jose Boulevard, Novato, Ronald T. Wulff of 17 Washington Street, Novato, reported to police.

Judge Denies Powell Claim For Back Pay

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal judge has declined to issue a judgment awarding Rep. Adam Clayton Powell pay lost when the Harlem Democrat was denied his seat in Congress.

U.S. District Court Judge George L. Hart Jr., said yesterday that before Powell can get his $55,000 in back pay he will have to refute in court charges by the House that he misappropriated congressional funds.

To do this Powell's lawyers would have to file an amended complaint—which would open the way to a trial on the counterclaim by the House.

Otherwise, Hart indicated he would issue a judgment soon, possibly Friday, simply stating that Powell met the qualifications of membership in the 90th Congress and therefore was entitled to be seated.

After hearing arguments from lawyers for Powell and the House, Hart invited them to file additional views by Friday.

Powell's lawyers argued that a U.S. Supreme Court ruling that Powell had been unconstitutionally denied his seat in Congress in 1967 meant that he was automatically entitled to lost salary and seniority privileges.

"If the Supreme Court thought he was entitled to his salary, why didn't they say so?" Hart asked. On the contrary, he said, the high court "skirted the salary issue as carefully as a ballerina.

"If I issue a declaratory judgment now, it will say nothing about salary," Hart said.

Powell also wants the court to lift a $25,000 fine the House assessed this year when it allowed him to resume his seat. He also wants restored the privileges of 24 years seniority. Hart declined to rule on either of these.

Elementary Art On Display

A display of art work from Marin elementary schools will open the 1969-70 season of exhibits at the College of Marin Art Gallery Tuesday.

On display will be work by students last year in an art appreciation program staffed by volunteer parents and sponsored by the Marin Museum Association.

The exhibit will continue through Sept. 24, with the gallery hours, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and 6:30 to 10 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Reluctant Approval Of Strawberry Plan

Strawberry Recreation District directors have endorsed, in principle, plans for the Strawberry Cove marina by developer Leonard B. Fleischman, including areas to be given to the district, according to secretary Jeanne Heick.

However, Mrs. Heick said, the board restated, at its Tuesday night meeting its preference that the cove not be developed at all, but be retained in its natural state.

'Hair' To Officially Open Tomorrow; Giant Box Office

By GARY TISCHLER

Hang on to your hats, folks, it's officially here!

That would be "Hair," the tribal folk-rock musical directed by Tom O'Horgan, which will have its grand opening performance tomorrow at 8:30 p.m. and you can forget about going if you haven't got a ticket. This one is sold out.

The Geary Theater reports that there are still good tickets left for parts of September and most of October and early November. The play has already netted some $500,000 in advance seat revenue.

The San Francisco company of this irreverent smash, which is playing to audiences in England, Europe and Australia as well as the United States, is known as the Ohlone Tribe of the International Hair Confederacy. Steve Gillette is musical director for this production. Original dance director is Julie Arenal. Nancy Potts designed the costumes.

The San Francisco Mime Troupe will give a free performance of Brecht's "Congress of the Whitewashers" at Washington Square at 2 p.m. Monday.

MUSIC

Brilliant young conductor Seiji Ozawa will conduct the New York Philharmonic, the oldest symphonic organization in the country, in two different performances at the Masonic Auditorium Tuesday and Wednesday.

The Tuesday program will feature the popular young pianist, Andre Watts. Clarinetist Stanley Drucker will be featured in the second program.

The Concord Summer Festival, a week-long mish-mash of a variety of music will wind up Sunday.

Here's the lineup Friday through Sunday:

Sunday — The Oakland Youth Chamber Orchestra, It's A Beautiful Day, The Buddy Rich Band and the World's Greatest Jazz Band.

Frankie Laine and Erroll Garner will be teamed up at the Circle Star Theater beginning tomorrow through Monday.

The Fillmore West summer series winds up this weekend with Spirit, Savoy Brown and Womb tomorrow through Sunday.

Other attractions:

Geary Theater — "Hair," nightly except Monday at 8:30 p.m.; Sunday 2 and 7:30 p.m.; Thursday 2 and 8:30 p.m.

California Palace of the Legion of Honor — Paintings by Pietro Annigoni, through Sunday; drinking vessels from the Sichel collection, through Sept. 14; Chinese jade carvings, through Sept. 23.

Westover Seeking Musicians

Now that the Westover Chamber Orchestra is based in Sausalito instead of San Francisco, director Wynn Westover announces that he is seeking more Marin musicians for the group.

Rehearsals are held Wednesdays at 7:15 p.m. in the Parish Hall of Christ Church in Sausalito. Musicians interested may call Westover at his home in Sausalito.

The orchestra usually presents a series of three concerts each season and schedules five or six rehearsals. Repertoire ranges from classical to modern, and solo artists are frequently featured. The first concert will be performed Oct. 4 at the College of Marin Fine Arts Theater.

Westover is a teacher in the College of Marin music department and at the University of California Extension in San Francisco. He also is head of the music theory department at the Community Music Center in San Francisco and is music director of the Tillman Orchestra.

SHADES OF YESTERDAY

Japan's Little Army Suits National Leaders Just Fine

KAITAICHI, Japan (UPI)— Japan has a spiffy little army which some critics say couldn't fight its way out of a paper bag. But a lot of Japanese couldn't care less.

That judgment may be too harsh, but it is a fact that soldiering in Japan isn't what it used to be.

Professional soldiers don't pack much prestige these days in Japan, where Samurai warriors once were treated with great deference and the World War II Imperial Army had things pretty much its own way.

DEFENSE FORCE

Japan doesn't even call its army an army, preferring instead the euphemistic term "ground self-defense force," or simply the GSDF.

The GSDF resembles not at all the Imperial Army hordes that swarmed through Southeast Asia, endangered Australia and threatened to seize half the world. And that suits the present government of Japan just fine.

The GSDF has 173,000 men in uniform and 30,000 in reserve, It has 770 outdated American-made tanks, 530 armored personnel carriers, 50 surface to air missile launchers, 40 surface to surface missile launchers, 180 helicopters and 4,510 artillery pieces, including the 55 mm howitzer.

BRINGS BLAST

Yasuhiro Nakasone, a potential future candidate for prime minister, may have shocked some people when he said last spring that even against an enemy attacking with conventional weapons Japan would not be able to hold out on its own for more than 10 days.

Nakasone, a member of the ruling Liberal Democratic Party, said his country's defense policy, based on outmoded concepts of 1958, is for Japanese forces to resist invasion for a month and then look to intervention by the United States or the United Nations. He said the GSDF doesn't have enough ammunition to meet even this requirement.

The basis of the defense of Japan is the U.S.-Japan security treaty. Not only do many Japanese oppose that pact, which is subject to renewal next summer, many oppose Japan's having any military forces of its own. Japan spends less than one per cent of its gross national product on defense, a percentage topped by just about every other nation in the world.

Until recently few Japanese politicians would dare speak out for a defense buildup. It just is not a popular cause in a nation whose experiences with war were particularly grim.

Another factor is that many people in this prospering nation just do not feel threatened. Even the defense agency admits the possibility of an attack by the Soviet Union or Communist China is highly unlikely.

So it is not surprising that soldiering in the GSDF is not like soldiering in any other army.

The GSDF's 13th Division is based here at Kaitaichi on the outskirts of Hiroshima. Its 7,800 men are charged with the defense of nine prefectures (states), or about 14 per cent of Japan's land area.

The troops here spend a lot of time trying to make the local citizens like them better. Units of the division have been deployed 117 times in the past seven years to aid the people after earthquakes and during storms, floods and other disasters. The troops also support local festivals and Boy Scout units.

Maj. Gen. Tsutomu Fuseya, vice commander of the 13th, believes all this public relating has done some good, but he admits his men receive 60 hours of riot training per week in case they are needed to put down violence that may erupt in opposition to the security treaty.

Discipline in the GSDF is not what it was in the old imperial army. Soldiers who don't like soldiering may simply resign by turning in their uniforms. Privates who punch sergeants are dealt with in civilian courts on assault charges rather than by courtmartial boards.

The basic pay for a private is slightly less than $50 per month. A full colonel gets $200 per month.

The GSDF has three infantry divisions and one mechanized division in its northern army, charged with the defense of Japan's northernmost island of Hokkaido, which lies within sight of the Soviet Union. The rest of Japan is defended by nine infantry divisions.

Empty Seat On Fairfax School Board Is Filled

Fitzgerald, a nine-year resident of Fairfax, was one of six persons who applied for the post. He is a salesman for the Pacific Pipeline Co. of Oakland and has two children attending Deer Park School in Fairfax. Fitzgerald, 38, lives on Buena Vista Avenue.

Weiss resigned in July. Fitzgerald will serve his unexpired term which runs until June 30, 1971.

The Fairfax School District board also:

COMMITTEE — Approved the format for the Citizens Committee on School Finance; It will include an administrator, two teachers, two school board members and eight other citizens not directly affiliated with the school district. Persons to serve on the committee will be announced next week, trustees decided.

TAX RATE — Was informed that the district's tax rate was set at $3, down 1.5 cents from last year's rate. Michael Mitchell, Marin County auditor-controller, told trustees the assessed valuation of the district was $17,884,914, up 5.3 per cent from last year.

MEETING — Set next Tuesday as the date of its next board meeting.

Legally, no marriage ceremony may be held after 6 p.m. in England.

Campers Told To Move On– Marin Filled

State campgrounds in Marin are jammed and will remain so during the Labor Day weekend, state park rangers have reported. Samuel P. Taylor State Park at Lagunitas is completely reserved for the weekend. Mount Tamalpais State Park, where reservations are not taken, is full now and vacancies are unlikely during the weekend, rangers said.

Other state facilities in Marin are for day use only.

Campers should head north and inland during the weekend, state parks and recreation director William Penn Mott Jr. recommended. Campgrounds already filled in Central California include Armstrong Redwoods State Reserve in Sonoma County, Portola State Park and New Brighton, Sunset and Seacliff state beaches in Santa Cruz County.

Southern California state beaches also are packed. Mott said some spaces are available in the Sierra, the central valley and the northern redwoods regions.

Novato Youth, 17, Booked For Grass

A 17-year-old Novato boy has been booked into Marin County Juvenile Hall on suspicion of possession of marijuana, Novato police reported.

His four companions, ages 14,15, 16, and 17, were cited for possession of alcohol, and released to their parents, according to police.

Police stopped the five in a pickup truck at 2 p.m. Tuesday on Fairway Drive in the Marin County Club Estates, when residents complained that they were prowling around houses. The boy booked had two hand-made cigarettes thought to be marijuana and a gollon of wine was found in the truck, police reported.

Special Meeting

The Marin County Housing Authority will hold a special meeting at 8 p.m. today at the Manzanita Neighborhood Center in Marin City to discuss a contract providing for its modernization program for the coming year.

Justice Hall Deadline To Be Met

The builder of the long-delayed Marin County Hall of Justice will meet the board of supervisors ultimatum to finish the $11.7 million structure by Oct. 1.

This was reported yesterday by Asst. County Administrator John F. Barrows after a meeting between county staff and representatives of the contractor, Robert E. McKee Inc. of Dallas, Tex.

The contractor has put more men on the job and "is pushing the subcontractors a lot harder," Barrows told the Independent-Journal.

Architect Aaron Green reported at the meeting that his inspection showed "a substantial increase in effort to complete the building over two weeks ago," when supervisors issued their ultimatum, Barrows said.

The supervisors said if the work were not completed by Oct. 1, a new contractor would be hired to finish the work.

The only significant work that will not be done by Oct. 1, Barrows said, will be seal coating of exterior walls. This would not affect plans to start moving into the building by mid-October, he said. The move will take about two weeks to complete, he estimated.

Completion of the work already is 10 months behind schedule.

They Laughed When I Sat Down To Pray

TOKYO (AP) — Piano companies in Japan say 560,000 youngsters — 10 per cent more than in 1967 — took piano lessons in Japan in 1968.

They attribute the increase to schools which encourage students to learn to play musical instruments.

Planning Group

The Corte Madera Planning Commission will continue its hearing on proposed amendments to sign regulations at 8 p.m. next Thursday at town hall.

Ross School Board Changes Meeting

Ross School District Board, scheduled to meet Sept. 15, has changed its meeting date to Sept. 22 at 8 p.m. at Ross School, Thomas A. Anderson, board secretary, has reported.

The change was made because the regular meeting date was too close to the beginning of the school year, he said.

Double Tolls For Bay Bridge

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — starting Monday, double tolls will be collected from westbound motorists on three bridges across San Francisco Bay. Eastbound motorists will cross free.

Eastbound toll will be eliminated for the Bay Bridge to Oakland, the Hayward-San Mateo bridge, and the Dumbarton bridge at the south end of the bay.

E. R. Foley, chief engineer for the Division of Bay Toll Crossings, said the change would reduce congestion, increase safety and save the state $300,000 a year, mostly in toll collector payroll and booth maintenance.

Fifty-cent one-way tolls have been collected since Oct. 19, 1968 from southbound traffic on Golden Gate Bridge, which pioneered the successful one-way toll system in the Bay Area.

Burglars Take Persian Rugs

Two Persian rugs valued at $1,100 were stolen from the Vincent O'Kelly residence, 17 Buena Vista Avenue, while the family was on vacation, Corte Madera police reported today.

The O'Kellys returned yesterday to discover the loss. The family had stored its other valuables during vacation, but left the 12-by-15 foot and 3-by-6-foot rugs on the floor, police said.

Tricia Nixon Is Said Doing Well

WASHINGTON (AP) — Doctors still haven't pinpointed the cause of abdominal pains which hospitalized Tricia Nixon, but President Richard M. Nixon's elder daughter is reported improving and free of pain.

The White House reported yesterday that Tricia was still under observation at Walter Reed Hospital, where she was taken by ambulance Tuesday morning.

The Western White House at San Clemente reported earlier yesterday that the President's 23-year-old daughter was out of bed, eating and "doing well."

Youth Faces Counts From Hammer Fight

Edwin Wesley Cadra, 18, of San Rafael, arrested Tuesday night in San Rafael after a fight, high speed chase and car crash, was charged yesterday in Marin Municipal Court with misdemeanor offenses of assault and battery and threatening another youth with a hammer.

His case was continued until today.

Police said that Cadra was involved in a fight in San Rafael with Michael J. Smith, 16, of Larkspur and threatened him with a hammer. Following the fight Cadra drove off and was chased by Smith's friends. The high speed chase ended when Cadra's car crashed into a tree on Belle Avenue.

A passenger received minor injuries in the crash.

In another case pending against Cadra, a felony burglary charge, it was reported yesterday in court that the juvenile court refused to accept the matter because of the youth's record.

A preliminary hearing for him and a co-defendant, Dave Joel Shute, 18, also of San Rafael, was set for next Thursday.

Water Work Finished At Justice Hall

Marin Municipal Water District's work at the Hall of Justice has been completed, three years after the contract was let.

Total cost of installing water facilities for the project was $31,541.49, J. Dietrich Stroeh, a district engineer, told the board yesterday.

The cost was $2,596 over estimates because of a 27 per cent increase in imported backfull quantities and two extra work orders, Stroeh said.

The Marin Municipal Water District board also:

PIPE — Bought 18,500 feet of pipe from Marysville Steel Inc., Marysville, on a low bid of $45,543, well below the engineer's estimate of $54,000.

MILL VALLEY — Awarded a contract for installation of water facilities on Sycamore Avenue, Mill Valley to Maggiora and Ghilotti Inc. of Corte Madera on a low bid of $9,542 under the engineer's estimate of $10,650.

SUPPLIES — Purchased 20 tons of copper sulfate from Wilson and George Meyer and Co., South San Francisco for $8,676; electrical materials for $1,048 from National Electric Supply of San Rafael; and tone signaling equipment for the master control system from Acco, Bristol Division, San Francisco for $13,984.

PHOENIX — Approved a request from Redwood High School to use the area around Phoenix Lake for six track meets.

PERSONNEL — Hired Donald Curry and Stephen Kenney as engineering aides at $602 per month; Carolyn L. McGown as an intermediate typist-clerk at $466 a month, and Chester D. Smith and Glenn M. Walsh as laborers at $558 a month.

San Pedro Odor Can't Be Helped

Complaints about odor from the San Pedro Road pumping station were renewed before the San Rafael Sanitation District Board yesterday.

John Hyams of 41 Loma Linda Road, who previously has appeared before the board to protest the odor, said it is continuing.

Chairman Fred E. Jensen said the district "is doing everything it can" to eliminate the odor, and "there's nothing more we can do. We're not going to move the plant."

Directors also received notice from Marin County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell that the district's assessed valuation is $94,156,892, up 2 per cent from last year.

SAUSALITO INTEGRATION

Panther Breakfasts Triggered Major Controversy

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON
(Fourth of five articles.)

Last May 21, with only three weeks remaining of the school term, the Black Panther Party served breakfast to about 125 Sausalito school children, thereby setting off a major brouhaha.

"The Panthers put several posters around the room — pictures of Huey Newton, Eldridge Cleaver and Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. and copies of the Black Panther newspaper. One young man clearing tables led about a dozen children briefly in chants of 'free Huey!' and 'power to the people!" accompanied by the clenched-fist Panther salute. That and the posters were the only propagandizing visible during the breakfast."

That was enough, however, to bring some outcry from Sausalitans over continuing the breakfasts, and to cause State Supt. Max Rafferty to send James M. Hemphill, coordinator of school lunch programs for the state, to take a look at what was going on. Hemphill spent two days in Sausalito, and reported that he observed no propagandizing.

Supt. Phillip W. Schneider said he had authorized the breakfast program, and the Panthers had started it in one week after receiving authorization.

Some residents of Sausalito School District were unsatisfied, however. At the May 26 school board meeting, questions were raised as to how such a program could be started without prior approval by the board. Trustee Martha Freebairn-Smith replied that district policy allowed the superintendent to authorize use of school facilities without board approval.

Mrs. Freebairn-Smith was correct. On Aug. 14, 1967, Schneider — then six weeks in office as superintendent — took before the board a request by Vietnam Summer-Marin for use of the Central School auditorium. The minutes of that meeting relate: "It was decided that present procedure will be continued, requiring the board to consider only the extraordinary or questionable applications."

Apparently Superintendent Schneider did not consider the Black Panther Pary's application to use King School facilities to prepare and serve daily breakfasts was either extraordinary or questionable.

After hearing the complaints that followed start of the breakfast program, the board voted 3-1 to permit the Panthers to continue, James E. Muldoon dissenting and David E. Freedheim absent.

The protests did not die down, however. There were demands that, if it were necessary to serve breakfasts, the program be taken over by some agency other than the Black Panther Party. The Panthers' reply was that no one had ever done anything about it until they started the program.

At a July 23 mass meeting, Schneider reported the federal government might finance the breakfast program. A little later, Hemphill, of Rafferty's office, told a Marin meeting that federal funds for such a program had been available for a year but there had been no request from Sausalito.

Actually, the breakfast program was a variation of a school lunch program Sausalito School District had for many years prior to the 1967-68 school year.

Hot lunches were prepared at kitchens at Richardson Bay (now Martin Luther King) and Central schools. The kitchen at Central has been converted to a science room, but that at King is the one that was used by the Panthers.

Children paid 30 cents per day for lunch, but the district provided free lunches for children unable to pay. It levied an override tax to support the program.

At the Aug. 28, 1967, board meeting (the next after that at which the Vietnam Summer application was taken up), Superintendent Schneider, the minutes record, "announced that for budgetary reasons, the cafeteria will no longer be operated. Sack lunches will be provided for needy children and eligibility will be decided by the school nurse and the community worker."

From time to time thereafter, trustees inquired about the sack lunch program. On Oct. 9, 1967, Asst. Supt. Joseph Amato reported that "all children are being provided nutrition when and at the proper time necessary to sustain them for the school program. Any member of the staff may refer or request any child to receive lunch, breakfast, or snack at any time of day." He made similar assurances at several subsequent meetings.

A side benefit showed up when, at the July 30, 1968, board meeting, Amato reported the tax rate could be reduced for 1968-9 by dropping the override for school lunches, as a surplus had accrued fom the less-expensive sack lunch program. (The surplus was used up in one year.)

A month earlier had come the first hint of need for a breakfast program. Trustee Nathaniel Johnson at the June 24, 1968, board meeting remarked that the monthly report showed more breakfasts than lunches served at Manzanita School and asked why.

Superintendent Schneider replied that "some children are not eating breakfast at home, but are bringing lunches."

(Tomorrow: separatists for an integrated school system.)

Independent-Journal
SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

THIRD SECTION — SAN RAFAEL, CALIFORNIA, THURSDAY, AUGUST 28, 1969 — 21

APPOINTED — Virginia M. Anderson has been named director of nursing services at Cottage Convalescent Hospital, San Rafael. Miss Anderson had been head operating nurse at Marin General Hospital for the past six years.

Walton's View Of The Revolution

Sidney F. Walton Jr. called on black educators at a Berkeley conference nearly two years ago to "work for black revolution and black guerrilla warfare," according to an Oakland teacher who attended the conference.

Walton is the newly hired principal of Martin Luther King School in Sausalito, whose status with Sausalito School District is to be discussed at a closing meeting of the district board tonight.

Hildegarde Dennis of Berkeley, who teaches at Madison Junior High School in Oakland and instructs a night class at Merritt Junior College, said she met Walton at a black educators' conference at University of California in 1967. Black educators from throughout the Bay Area were present, she said. Featured speaker was Nathan Hare, who later was hired by San Francisco State College to head its black studies department and joined the strike of the Black Student Union over the famous "10 non-negotiable demands."

Walton appeared to be in charge of the conference, Mrs. Dennis told the Independent-Journal. He was then a counselor at Merritt Junior College.

Several white teachers from San Francisco showed up, she said, but were ordered to leave. Walton then launched into his revolutionary talk.

Mrs. Dennis said she became angry, rose to contradict him after he cursed the Catholic sisters who teach at parochial schools (she received her early education in such schools) and went on to talk of "killing white bastards and burning down their schools."

The Oakland teacher said she told Walton: "I have had to fight white prejudice all may life; now I'm going to have to fight you."

His response, she said, was to call her a "honky lover." Subsequently, she claimed, "Walton and other Black Power people" tried to get her dismissed from her teaching jobs.

Mrs. Dennis is a graduate of Dillard University in New Orleans and holds a master's degree from Fisk University of California in Berkeley and Santa Barbara. She has been teaching 22 years in California.

Her 18-year-old son, Archie (Tony) Dennis, was severely beaten by a gang of youths last June in San Jose, where he was attending San Jose State College. He is still under treatment at Langley Porter Clinic in San Francisco.

Mrs. Dennis said she had received numerous telephone threats against her life and her son's life. "But they can't scare me," she declared. — to make you afraid. If you are afraid, you are destroyed. They can't do that to me."

Walton's book, "The Black Curriculum," reproduces a newspaper clipping quoting Mrs. Dennis as saying Negro public school students are being told by some black educators to "kill the white man," destroy the schools, and foment revolution against white society.

"She named a counselor at Merritt Junior College, Oakland, and a teacher at Merritt, as being among the leaders of the militant black educators movement," the newspaper story continues.

On the following page of his book, Walton wrote:

"Any 'Negro' who allows himself or herself to be used by the white racist system should be exposed and labeled as a traitor so that the white racist system will see that such people are no longer tolerated in the Black community and that action will be taken against both the 'user' and the 'used.' White newspapers must be made to suffer when they encourage a 'Negro' woman with slave mentality to say what the white racist mother xxxxxx have programmed her to say."

Five Thefts Reported In San Rafael

San Rafael police today reported five burglaries.

Wirecutters were used to open a section of chain link fence around the yard of C and L Auto Wreckers at 931 Second Street, from which $360 worth of auto. transmissions and tires were stolen Tuesday night.

A $30 ice chest was reported stolen Tuesday night from the open garage of Anson A. Troper at 2201 Fifth Avenue.

Lynda M. Lione reported that the screen door on the balcony of her apartment at 55 Fairfax Street was removed August 21 while she was gone and that on Tuesday she found that $24 worth of record albums and a sweater and rings belonging to her roommate were missing. No value estimate was given.

Norma C Wall reported that Tuesday night or yesterday someone entered her home at 632 Belle Avenue by breaking a rear door glass, ransacked drawers and closets, ate a candy bar, left his shirt on the living room floor and departed. Nothing was reported missing.

Attack Of Flu

Ada M. Fusselman of 223 San Anselmo Avenue, San Anselmo, former longtime Marin Junior College District trustee, was reported recovering today in Ross General Hospital from a severe attack of influenza.

Police Arrest Drugs Suspect

Paul Ross Mushen, 19, of Gate 3, Sausalito, was arrested by Sausalito police early today on suspicion of possession of a dangerous drug.

He was held at Marin County Jail for arraignment this afternoon in lieu of $750 bail.

Police said they saw Mushen toss away a small container as they followed him up the Excelsior Lane steps. Officers retrieved the container and it contained a substance believed to be hashish, they said.

Bicycle Stolen

San Rafael police reported today that a $40 bicycle owned by Robert Foppoli of 52 Locksley Lane, San Rafael, was stolen yesterday from in front of Mayfair Market at 340 Third Street.

Petaluma Overcrossing Job Will Be Finished Earlier

The widening and improvement of the Washington Street overcrossing of Highway 101 in Petaluma will be finished earlier than the projected 1977-78 schedule, according to the state highway commission.

In a letter yesterday to Mayor Helen Putnam, T. J. Bagshaw, the commission's executive secretary, said that a report presented to the commission this month showed that widening from two to four lanes will be needed sooner than anticipated because of higher than expected traffic volume.

The report stepping up the construction schedule is an outgrowth of a meeting held in Sacramento in May attended by Mayor Putnam, former councilman Robert S. Lipman and City Mgr. Robert H. Meyer.

Bagshaw said a further review will be made and preparation of designs will be presented to the commission when financing is considered.

Right Address

Rev. John J. O'Conner, who was named to the screening committee for candidates for the Marin County Youth Commission Tuesday, lives at 1 Trinity Way, San Rafael, St. Isabella's rectory, not at 29 Paloma Drive, Corte Madera, as reported yesterday in the Independent-Journal.

Santa Venetia Man Needs More Blood

Patrick Holman of Santa Venetia, recipient of blood donations last year, has been hospitalized again and again needs blood, his wife said today in an appeal for donors.

Holman, 35, of 10 La Brea Way, was admitted to Marin General Hospital Sunday with bleeding in the legs from an old injury. Doctors are stemming the bleeding with cryoprecipitate, a portion of blood plasma, and Holman may be released next week if there is no recurrence, Mrs. Holman said.

Holman has received three bags of cryoprecipitate, each requiring 12 pints of blood, she said. Holman had similar bleeding last November and received more than 36 plasma transfusions.

She asked for donations of any type blood in Holman's name at the Irwin Memorial Blood Bank, 506 Fourth Street, San Rafael.

Driver Injured As Cars Collide

James Stephen Ahola, 18, of 303 Cascade Drive, Fairfax, was injured slightly yesterday when his car was struck in the rear by one driven by Dorothy Cecelia McAuliffe of Lagunitas, the California Highway Patrol said today.

Ahola, who complained of a pain in his neck, did not require medical treatment, the patrol said.

The 2:40 p.m. mishap was on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near Montezuma Road.

"Now, where'd we park that car?"

"Now, where'd we park that car?"
"Six lanes over and one block down."

Bolinas Park Bid Rejected

The Bolinas Community Public Utility District last night rejected a county proposal that the district take over maintenance of Bolinas Park, board secretary Jane Phillips reported today.

The county board of supervisors and parks and recreation department had proposed that the district assume responsibility for maintaining the park if it accepted $2,500 to resurface the tennis courts there.

Mrs. Phillips said Bolinas officials would discuss the matter further with county officials to see if a compromise can be compromise can be worked out.

In other action, the board promoted maintenance engineer Edward Genazzi to maintenance foreman with a $25 monthly salary boost to $635. Genazzi has been with the old Bolinas Beach Utility District and the new utility district 20 years.

Tile Flooring Contract Given

A $343 contract to install vinyl tile flooring in the classroom at the drill tower on Atherton Avenue was awarded last night by the Novato Fire District board to Strand Carpet and Linoleum of San Rafael, lowest of three bidders.

The board officially accepted the resignation of director Donald Donahue, and did not name anyone to fill the vacancy as director Joseph Silviera, was absent, Fire Chief Jack Kidder said.

The board adjourned to 7:30 p.m. next Wednesday when it will go over specifications for a new fire truck.

Theft During Fire

While Marin City firemen were out at a fire Tuesday night, burglars broke into the living quarters at the Drake Avenue county firehouse and stole a television set and a clock radio, sheriff's deputies reported today.

HEAR YE! HEAR YE!

Jack Albee (The Magnifico) will arrive in the shire of San Rafael (Cheers) to improve, uplift and instruct the ignorant natives thereof in the ancient art of pantomine. Little ones will be instructed in baroque movements of royal courtesy, as well as jumping-for-joy movements, the sad postures (wherein we bless all our sorrows) as well as the alphabetical, acrobatical and magical postures of arlequino, pantalone, Charlie Chapolone, Marcel Marcelone and other elegant mimics of the ages. Such notice hath the privy seal of Elizabeth Regina and is delivered to you with her love and blessing for THE PLEASURE FAIRE. Magnifico will teach mime to kids and adults twice a week, mornings & after school for ye full month of September. His students shall then perform at the Pleasure Faire, September 27th. Classes—$30 for six lessons. Taught on the Greenwood Stage. Call ye, 1-752-7421, for this and other matters pertaining to ye Grand Parade of Minds in your shire with his great retinue of fools, ragged royalty, stray dogs, and sundry leprechauns, pipers, pages and platypuses. Save your shillings and pence for Albee is coming hence!

GOOD – BETTER – BEST!
The original owners of this 7 year old hillside home have added many extras that make it a delight to show! Starting with 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, they have added a lovely raised hearth fireplace, a large separate workshop and have landscaped this ¼ acre site. If you desire, they'll leave the range, refrigerator and washer & dryer as well. One thing they couldn't improve on — the view! San Anselmo, Ross Valley, the Berkeley Hills to Mt. Diablo. At $31,950, see it!

SUMMONS
(General)
No. 53072

Superior Court of the State of California for the County of Marin

JERNERAL JOHNSON CRIST, Plaintiff

ROBB POTTER CRIST, Defendant

You are directed to file with the clerk of this court in which the above entitled action is brought a written pleading in response to the divorce complaint within ten days after the service on you of this summons, if served within the above named county, or within thirty days if served elsewhere (except that if the action is against the state pursuant to Section 738.5 of the Code of Civil Procedure, within 180 days). You are notified that unless you so file a written responsive pleading, the plaintiff will take judgment for any money or damages demanded in the complaint, as arising upon contract, or will apply to the court for any other relief demanded in the complaint.

You may seek the advice of an attorney on any matter connected with the complaint or this summons. Such attorney should be consulted within the time limit stated in this summons for filing a written pleading to the complaint.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Chemical Agents Available For Painful Bites By Black Flies

VAN DELLEN

Black fly bites are painful and occasionally are associated with swelling of the nearby lymph nodes. Ointments containing antihistamines or a cortisone-like product relieve the itching. Antibiotics help reduce the inflammatory process.

Applications of a good insect repellent to the skin and clothing are good preventatives. These products are most useful in keeping away biting insects but not bees or wasps that sting when provoked. It is well to avoid perfumes, scented creams, and sprays because these tend to attract insects.

We read more and more about severe allergic reactions to insect bites or stings. The involved area sweils and the victim may develop asthma and go into shock. In many instances, the sensitivity is confined to specific insects for which desensitizing extracts are available. This is true of the black fly.

IT IS DIFFICULT to develop lead poisoning (plumbism) from food and drink because, by law, they cannot be prepared or stored in containers made of the metal. The regulations also cover the use of lead pipes to convey the liquids. The hazard is well-known, yet illegal stills often are made from old automobile radiators and lead piping. Many "mountain people" succumb to lead poisoning after drinking local moonshine.

According to the British Medical Journal, a middle-aged Englishman developed severe abdominal cramps, vomiting, and diarrhea. On questioning, the man said he drank a quart of his own home-brewed cider each day for 30 years. During the distilling process he poured apple juice onto a lead-lined tray at the base of the press.

THE VICTIM used a 120-year-old cider press. Thirty years ago, the bottom began to leak and it was repaired with a watertight lead covering to prevent the loss of the juice. Thirty years elapsed before the tray gave off enough lead to contaminate the cider and bring on the poisoning.

(Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the Independent-Journal.)

RESERPINE

Mrs. C. E. H. writes: Would you please tell me something about reserpine? What is this drug used for and does it require a prescription?

REPLY

Reserpine comes from the roots of the rauwolfia plant that grows in India. The extract is used in the treatment of hypertension, chronic anxiety, severe mental disorders, and as a sedative, or tranquilizer. It is a prescription product.

W. G. writes: Will the person who gives up smoking put on weight?

REPLY

Many men and women gain weight when they stop smoking because appetite returns and food tastes better. In addition, eating gives them something to do. In time, the appetite settles down and so does the weight.

EQUESTRIENNE

W. R. writes: Is horseback riding too strenuous an exercise for a woman who is three months pregnant?

REPLY

Opinions vary. Conservative physicians do not recommend this activity after the third month of pregnancy.

DIABETES

D. M. writes: Do most diabetics have high blood pressure?

REPLY

No. The incidence of hypertension in diabetics is not necessarily any greater than in those who do not have the disease.

Today's Health Hint — Emotional pressures may cause muscular tension.

Horse Show Set For Novato Arena

An all-western horse show will be held Sunday, starting at 8:30 a.m. at the Atherton Stables arena on Atherton Avenue at H Lane, Novato, sponsored by the Novato Equestrians.

There will be 17 classes in the show, including a registered quarter-horse pleasure class. The show has been approved by the California State Horsemen's Association, according to Craig Corwin of 45 H Lane. Further information on the show may be obtained from Corwin.

Jury Selected To Hear Sadistic Slaying Case

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Selection of a seven-man, five-woman jury was completed late yesterday to hear testimony in the trial of four young men charged with the sadistic orgy slaying of a teen-age girl.

The defendants, all former residents of the Haight-Ashbury District, are charged with killing Ann Jiminez, 19, of Bellingham, Wash. Her battered and bruised body was discovered the day after Christmas covered with obscenities scrawned in lipstick.

In addition to murder, Larry Garrett, 26, Clyde Safley, 24, David Hinkle, 18, and Joseph Henerson, 19, are accused of felony counts of rape, sodomy and oral copulation.

Police said their investigation of the case indicated Miss Jiminez was killed as punishment for allegedly stealing a pair of boots.

Injuries Minor In Span Crash

Ronald Paul Mentgen, 35, of 29B Edwards Avenue, Sausalito, was injured slightly early today when his car was struck by another on the Golden Gate Bridge, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The patrol said Mentgen's car was hit in the rear by one driven by David Allan Colvin, 25, of 95 Barbarbe Way, Tiburon. The impact in the northbound lanes sent Mentgen's car across the southbound lanes into the guard rail, the patrol said.

He complained of neck and shoulder pains and was to see his own doctor. The mishap occurred at 2:30 a.m.

good aim

The I-J's on the way—and so is he!

Perhaps it's the daily habit of delivering the news right to your home that gives I-J carriers, like him, a sense of direction in life.

Maybe it's the feeling of managing a route, where each boy is his own boss. Or the idea of collecting and banking money each month. Or maybe the channeling of energy into responsible effort . . . serving others.

It could be the solid training, too, which these boys receive from our experienced circulation advisors.

But one thing's certain: these boys develop AIMS and GOALS often a lot larger than the boys themselves. The aim to serve . . . the goal of a college education, for instance . . . with savings to attain it. They discover that delivering the paper on time, in place, can lead to the larger ends of independence and initiative.

Arraignment On Card Charge

Allen Richard Sledge, 27, of 4 Tamarack Avenue, San Geronimo, was arraigned yesterday in Marin Municipal Court on a felony charge of signing another person's name to a credit card.

Judge Hadden W. Roth released him on his recognizance and told him to return to court Tuesday to plead to the charge.

He is accused of committing the offense July 16.

Hearing Scheduled For Errant Drivers

A preliminary hearing has been set for Sept. 18 in Marin Municipal Court for Kent Earl Hausman, 19, of San Rafael and Michael Henry Sklar, 24, of no known address, who are accused of possessing marijuana July 7.

They were arrested by a narcotics agent who was on his way to the San Francisco zoo when he noticed their car weaving.

BEST SHOWS FOR TONIGHT

Best bets on television tonight:

KPIX (5), KXTV (10), 7:30 p.m.—The Brillian-hued birds of the Ecuadorian jungle are featured on "Animal World."

KQED (9), 8:30 p.m.—"The Brandywine Tradition" is a portrait on the philosophy and work of illustrator Newell Convers Wyeth, the first of three generations of Wyeths. Included is an interview with his son Andrew.

KTVU (2), 9 p.m.—Della Reese welcomes actor Richard Deacan, singer John Gary and Professor Irwin Corey to her show.

KPIX (5), 9 p.m.—Bette Davis plays the title role in "The Nanny," a suspense drama filmed in England, which is a repeat.

New Brush Fires Blaze Along The French Riviera

NICE, France (AP) — Two dozen or more brush fires blazed along the French Riviera today from the Pyrenees to the Italian frontier. Police speculated some were deliberately set.

Campers near Cannes reported seeing someone run away after igniting paper beneath a pile of wood. A fireman near Barjols reported a similar incident.

Officials said several thousand acres were burned out, adding to the more than 10,000 acres ravaged by fires last weekend.

A resident in the fire-blackened Florieyes Valley, formerly one of the Riviera's beauty spots, said: "There won't be anything to burn here for 10 years."

Eighty fire fighters from villages in central France arrived to help more than 1,000 firemen, soldiers, Algerians and U.S. 6th Fleet personnel trying to contain the flames. Firemen were assembled as far away as Paris to fly to the scene if the situation deteriorates.

So far only minor injuries have been reported.

One fire reportedly reached a perimeter of 18 miles during the night. Others were advancing with one or two-mile-wide fronts, officials said.

The wind that fanned the flames last weekend diminished this morning, however, and spokesmen said the fire fighters were able to control the flames in most areas except a 21-mile fire front near Barjols, one of the widest.

More than 650 men with 200 fire engines were battling that blaze, helped by two Catalina amphibian planes dumping four tons of water every few minutes.

San Franciscan Booked For Gun

A 23-year-old San Francisco man who had been stopped for a vehicle violation was arrested by the California Highway Patrol last night on suspicion of carrying a concealed weapon.

Jonathan Walter Randell was booked at Marin County Jail where he was being held for a court appearance this afternoon in lieu of $3,125 bail.

The highway patrol said Randell's car was stopped on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near Wolfe Grade at 8:15 p.m. because it was making excessive noise.

An officer reported he smelled burnt marijuana and when he told Randell he was going to make a search, Randell admitted he was carrying an automatic pistol.

Chrysler, Ford To Hike Prices

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. and Chrysler Corp. are reported shipping 1970 model cars to dealers with tentative price increases as high as $275.

The Detroit News said yesterday that average Ford car prices tentatively will be up $68 or about two per cent.

Chrysler Chairman Lynn Townsend has refused to disclose an average tentative price hike but said the 1970 prices would be higher than last year.

These prices represent only notification on invoices to dealers who arrange preintroduction sales. Final prices may be either higher or lower than these tentative estimates.

Ford prices will be set before the cars go on sale officially Sept. 19. Final Chrysler prices will be decided shortly before their sale opening Sept. 23.

Otis Sued For Stuck Elevator

CHICAGO (AP) A woman filed a $100,000 damage suit against Otis Elevator Co. yesterday charging she was trapped for five days without food or water in a home elevator that the firm serviced.

Mrs. Rosemary Baur Bull, 58, a member of a socially prominent Chicago family, charged that the elevator stopped between the first and second floors in her four-story Near North Side mansion on July 10.

She said she was alone in the house and could not escape from the elevator without help. She was rescued July 15, the suit said, when her handyman returned from a vacation, and heard the alarm bell ringing.

Her suit filed in Circuit Court charges that she paid Otis $600 a year for elevator maintenance and that she had "complained about noises in the elevator."

Records On Cleaver Fund Still Missing

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A federal grand jury investigating the Black Panther Party has failed to obtain records of the Eldridge Cleaver Legal Defense Fund Committee. The records were subpoenaed.

Committee chairman Robert Scheer, editor of Ramparts magazine, and Ric Hyland, executive secretary of the defunct committee, said they told the grand jury yesterday they don't have the records.

Malcolm Bernstein, attorney for Scheer and Hyland, said Ramparts moved since the committee was last active and the records have not been found.

He said Scheer and Hyland "answered all questions. We have nothing to hide. If we had records they would have been produced."

However, he said they would have balked at producing names of contributors.

The appearance of Melvin Newton, Panther finance minister and brother of party founder Huey Newton, was continued until Sept. 9.

Allan Brotsky, Newton's attorney, said he will file a motion Friday to quash the subpoena for Newton to appear and produce records of the defense fund for his imprisoned brother.

Brotsky is fighting the Newton subpoena to prevent disclosure of the names of fund contributors.

He said he would rely on a Supreme Court ruling in a case between the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and Alabama that to reveal such records infringes on freedom of association.

Hyland said he was quizzed about the Peace and Freedom party as well as the Cleaver fund.

U.S. District Court Judge George B. Harris extended the life of the grand jury, due to expire Sept. 5, for three months to permit it to complete its probe and other matters.

Zoo Gorilla Kills Its Baby

OMAHA, Neb. (UPI)—Benoit killed her son because she didn't know what it was, authorities have decided.

But 10 hours after the birth, the baby gorilla died of injuries inflicted by his mother. Zookeepers said Benoit carried the baby with its head in her mouth and shook it vigorously before the keeper was able to tranquilize the mother and place the new born gorilla in an incubator.

Zoo authorities explained Benoit didn't know what the baby was because she had not been raised in a gorilla family-type atmosphere.

Ex-Governor's Wife Expecting First Child

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — The 41-year-old wife of former Gov. Robert B. Meyner is expecting the couple's first child after 13 years of marriage.

Helen Meyner announced yesterday that she and her 61-year-old husband, who is the Democratic candidate for governor again this year, expect a baby in late February.

She said pregnancy was achieved with the aid of the fertility drug Pergonal.

"We had always hoped to have a child, but one has to be philosophical about it," Mrs. Meyner said. "I had had a fertility problem."

She said that she had been under treatment by fertility experts at Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center in New York City for about four years, "then surprisingly it was effective this spring."

Mrs. Meyner, a brunette with blue-grey eyes, said her husband was delighted with the prospect of becoming a father at last.

"He reacted with characteristic humor," she reported. "He said, 'Well, it's too late for grandchildren, so I might as well settle for children.'"

Mrs. Meyner said she was not concerned about giving birth to her first child after the age of 40. "I've never felt better."

She is the former Helen Stevenson, a daughter of former Oberlin College President William E. Stevenson and a cousin of the late Adlai E. Stevenson.

Mrs. Cann Is Marin Champ Of Champs

LAURA CANN, en route to victory

MRS. NANCY GAPINSKI, 86

MRS. BETTY ROBERTS, 87

MRS. VIRGINIA MAY, 88

MRS. TILLIE GONDAK, 88

MRS. JEAN DEKAY, 98

Mrs. John Cann, looking cool and trim and not a bit unruffled, was just a shade disappointed.

"I had too many double bogeys," she said in the San Geronimo National Golf Course clubhouse yesterday afternoon.

The perennial champion of the Meadow-Club near Fairfax and mother of four had three double bogeys, but it wasn't nearly enough to prevent her from charging to the second annual Marin County Women's Golf Tournament of Champions title as she carded a steady 41-41-82 over the demanding San Geronimo course.

Mrs. Gapinski, 43, finished in the runnerup spot, four strokes behind at 41-45—86. Mrs. Don Roberts, 44, the Mill Valley champ, was third at 46-41—87.

Mrs. William May of Indian Valley in Novato, last year's champion, experienced some tough luck around the greens and finished in a tie for fourth with Mrs. Charles Gondak, 49, the Marin Country Club champ at 88. Mrs. May carded a 46-42—88 and Mrs. Gondak wound up with a 43-45—88.

Mrs. Richard DeKay, 45, the Peacock Gap (San Rafael) champion who had said she didn't have a prayer, turned out to be accurate as she finished last with a 48-50-98 total.

Laura Cann, 43, who may have been just a shade unsatisfied with her round, didn't know she'd won the title, having come in with the first threesome.

She found out when the second threesome of Mesdames Gapinski May and Gondak arrived and congratulated her.

"I'm really surprised," she said. "Mostly, I concentrated on meeting the ball squarely. I tried for par. I got the strokes when it counted."

Mrs. Gapinski's game came undone on the back nine.

"I ran into too many par threes on the back nine," she said. "I was really nervous, too. That's Laura's secret. She wasn't."

Mrs. Cann admitted as much. At least she didn't show any case of nerves she may have had.

Both ladies, who are tennis partners when not playing golf, thrived on the pressure of this tournament.

"It's really great," Mrs. Gapinski said. "It's so different playing with a gallery. You're always aware of the audience, how you look, what you're doing."

Marin Firm Jumps Into The Motorsports Market

Last Sunday's Trans-Am sedan stopover at Laguna Seca en route to the Sept. 21 date at Sears Point International Raceway brings to mind motorsports in general and my friend H. K. White of Larkspur in particular.

Mr White is the 31-year-old president of the San Rafael-based H. M. Labs, Inc., whose Sta-Power products are rapidly gaining in the engine conditioning market.

Probably tempted by Andy Granatelli's promotional success with STP through the motorsports market, White is jumping into auto racing with both feet on the accelerator. Think of the Indianapolis 500-mile race and you think of Mario Andretti PLUS Granatelli and STP.

Sta-Power already has under contract drivers Ron Grable and Bob Brown, well-known along the road racing circuit, plus the mechanical know-how of Ken Holden as chief consultant.

May Have Indy Car By 1971

White's newest promotional projects are presently building a Formula One car for international competition and, says he, "Our long-range goal is to have a car carry the name Sta-Power in the 1971 500-mile Indianapolis race."

This is not a piddling financial undertaking because Indy-type cars range from $60,000 to $100,000. It's not like going down to the local motormart, kicking a few tires, taking a spin around the block and then signing a time-payment contract.

But, the rewards can be great, ala Granatelli. Motorsports ranks second only to horse racing and its pari-mutuel inducements as America's most popular spectator sport, so I'm told.

Why, putting the name Sta-Power emblem on an Indy car is better than, say, stamping Saxon Apple Juice on Willie Mays' shirt.

Beth To Be Honorary Ref

MRS. BETH KAUFMAN of Greenbrae, founder of the National Amateur Athletic Union's fabulously successful age-group swimming program, will be honored as honorary referee at a junior swim meet in Lafayette, Sept. 6-7.

EX-BERKELEY sports writer Jim Scott has written a book, "Ernie Nevers, Football Hero," about the Tiburon resident's rise from a teen-age fat boy in Santa Rosa to national gridiron fame. Published by T. S. Denison & So. of Minneapolis, it's directed for the younger readership, much like Scott's previous literary effort on behalf of Bob Mathias, the All-American boy.

HIS MANY Marin friends will be happy to know that ex-Drake High and College of Marin star Bill Ingram has just about nailed down the number one quarterback job at U. of Cal at Davis this fall. Bill was number two man last season.

A SLIGHT correction in final standings from Sunday's Dipsea was announced Monday by the sponsoring Mill Valley Junior Chamber of Commerce. Jack Lawson, who finished 10th, was declared an unofficial entry and bumped off the list, moving everyone up one notch. Thus, 1968 winner Don Pickett of Tiburon placed 10th instead of 11th and two-time winner Jack Kirk 20th instead of 21st.

Power And Speed Of Bonds Keeps Giants Driving

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "I'm not a go-go guy like some other base - stealers," says Giants' second-year star Bobby Bonds. "I only steal when I think it can help the club."

Bonds placed his theory into practice yesterday, making his second steal of the game in the 10th inning and scoring the winning run on Jim Davenport's bases-loaded single for an 8-7 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies.

San Francisco sought its eighth straight win today when Ray Sadecki, 4-8, opposed Billy Champion, 4-6, in the final 1969 competition between the clubs. The Giants hold an 8-3 advantage over Philadelphia.

Bonds' two steals gave him 36 in 39 attempts for a sizzling .923 percentage, tops in the majors. He hadn't attempted a theft since taking over as the Giants No. 5 batter when the winning streak began.

SIX HOMERS

Concentrating more on power, Bonds has belted six homers in the seven games, including his 28th following a walk to Willie McCovey in the second inning yesterday.

"I don't feel any more pressure batting fifth," said Bonds, a former leadoff batter. "A lot of times when they walk McCovey (it's been done 96 times), there's a man on third, so I go for the sacrifice fly."

McCovey also continued his lusty run production in the single in the third inning and a two-out, two-run homer in the fifth after Willie Mays was safe on an error.

The homer was McCovey's league-leading 41st and the four runs batted in boosted him past Ron Santo and into the lead with 110. McCovey has 19 RBIs in the seven games; Bonds, 15.

John Callison was the Phillies' batting hero, cracking a two-run homer in the fifth, a run-scoring double in the seventh and a game-tying triple in the ninth.

FARRELL LOSER

Reliver Dick Farrell, 3-4, yielded Bonds' single and stolen base with one out in the 10th. Dave Marshall was walked intentionally, and Dick Dietz, who homered in the fourth also walked.

Davenport batted for Hal Lanier and lined the second pitch into right field, making Frank Linzy, 11-6, a winner and keeping the Giants a half game ahead of the Reds and Braves, who also won Wednesday.

Mays had to leave the game after chasing Callison's triple. He suffered an injury near his left knee that will sideline him for a few days. Ken Henderson was removed in the third with a stiff neck.

"I've gotten to the point where I don't worry about injuries any more," said Manager Clyde King Wednesday. "Somehow, somebody always steps in and does the job--like Davenport did today."

Davenport explained his seventh game-winning hit of the season: "I was trying to go to right, to get the ball up for a sacrifice fly. I haven't played in quite a while, so I was glad I could help."

Foreman Hints Rick Will Face Lawsuit

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The new owner of the Oakland Oaks hinted strongly yesterday he will sue Rick Barry if the star forward refuses to play for the American Basketball Association team in Washington, D.C.

Earl Foreman, who purchased the Oaks for $2.6 million and plans to move them to Washington and rename them the Capitals, said he plans no further talks with Barry, who starred for the club last year.

"We have a contract with Mr. Barry and when the time comes that he is called upon to fulfill that contract, we will ask him to do so," said Foreman. "If he doesn't we will have to take other action."

DINNER WITH ALEX

Foreman said he had had dinner with Alex Hannum, coach of the Oaks, and very much wanted him to come to Washington with the team.

Hannum has been trying to obtain another ABA franchise Oakland, Albuquerque, N. M., and Kansas City have been mentioned as possible sites.

Barry, in the meantime, remained silent as to his plans in the face of persistent rumors that he would sign with the San Francisco Warriors of the National Basketball Association.

NO COMMENT

The Warriors, for whom Barry played before jumping to the Oaks, also refused comment on whether a signing of Barry was imminent.

Foreman denied reports he would not complete transfer of the team unless Barry and Hannum went with it.

"Without equivocation, without condition, without mental reservation, I have purchased a basketball team and I plan to take that team to Washington," he said.

In another C-I game, Cain's Tire and the Old Mill Tavern battled to an 8-8 tie.

Injuries Cripple Raiders; Lassiter Is Still Missing

SANTA ROSA (AP) — Pete Banaszak probably will replace running back Hewritt Dixon for the Oakland Raiders Sunday against the San Francisco 49ers because Dixon pulled some shoulder muscles Monday night against the New York Jets.

Banaszak looked good yesterday as the Raiders worked hard on their running game, which coach John Madden says is "always the last to get going" in shaping up a football team.

BIRDWELL HURT

Tackle Dan Birdwell is still out with a knee injury and rookie Art Thoms, a No. 1 draft choice from Syracuse, suffered a knee injury against the Jets and was placed on the injured waiver list yesterday.

Put on the list at the same time was Rodger Bird, starting safety, who had surgery for a shoulder injury during the off season and played briefly against New York.

The Raiders also placed 10 or more players on the regular waiver list but would not disclose the names of those cut. Two defensive backs, Don Ford, a rookie, and Charley Werner, a veteran, learned, however, that they were listed and refused to practice yesterday.

Substitute quarterback Cotton Davidson and rookie halfback Ken Newfield, who also has a knee injury, were others put on waivers.

A's Big Question: Kubiak Or Campy?

OAKLAND — Bert Campaneris is having such a poor season with the A's, it's amazing they don't sit him down right now for the rest of the year.

From conversations with several members of the Oakland club—not to mention other American League players—there seems to be no question that the A's would be a far better, more cohesive club in this stretch month with Teddy Kubiak at shortstop.

Campy's record a year ago, when he led the league in hits and, once again, in stolen bases, inspired an A's publicist to call him "the most exciting player in the American League."

But this season Campy has not even been the most exciting player on the Athletics, or the most exciting shortstop in the league. True, he was injured for nearly a month. Yet the injury alone is not sufficient excuse for Campaneris' dreadful play.

KEEPING CAMPY in the lineup would be reasonable, say some of the players, were not Kubiak available. Teddy's outhitting Campaneris by some 20 points and, while filling in during Bert's injury, fielded with excellence. He has more range, although perhaps not the strong arm of Campaneris.

But those physical attributes aside, there's a statistic that should dictate playing Kubiak: While Ted was a regular, the A's won 18 of 23 to keep them in the race with Minnesota. Since Campaneris returned, Oakland has been struggling to play .500 baseball.

And in the first 20 games after his return, Campy hit barely a lick — just above .150. He simply wasn't getting on base; Campaneris' greatest value is getting on base, where he can use his speed to pick up a theft and rattle the pitcher.

UNDER IDEAL, strictly utopian, circumstances, the A's picture a hot-hitting Campy leading off followed by Rick Monday, whose speed and left-handed bat makes the hit-and-run tantalizing. With these two fellows to harass the opposing pitcher, No. 3 man Reggie Jackson could then be at least as destructive as he's turned out anyway.

But the keystone of this plan has collapsed, and Monday never did hit well enough early in the year to merit his elevation to the second spot. So the alternative is to go with rather fast Jose Tartabull at leadoff and follow him with Kubiak.

Oakland won in July this way. And they need to win very badly in September — any way they can.

The knowledgeable baseball people will tell you there are at least eight shortstops in the league better — at bat, afield, or both — than Bert Campaneris. The list includes names such as Brinkman, Belanger, Fregosi, Aparicio, Petrocelli, Cardenas, Michael, Oyler.

MOST INTERESTINGLY, there are those who rate Kubiak — when he's playing regularly — at the level of several of those eight.

Campy is a quiet, brooding loner off the field; a reckless, demonstrative sort when he's playing. He's also a distinct favorite of A's owner Charles O. Finley.

Benching "the league's most exciting player" would draw a surprised, angry reaction from fans. But such a move could be a key to the flag.

Keyes May Be Richest Eagle Ever

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Purdue All-American Leroy Keyes has ended his holdout against the Philadelphia Eagles, and he says he is anxious to get out on the football field to justify the terms of his three-year pact.

General Manager Pete Retzlaff said the contract "has provisions that could make Leroy the highest paid Eagle in the team's history."

Although he refused to discuss the exact terms of the agreement, reportedly in the neighborhood of $200,000, Retzlaff said it includes a "no-cut" provision for the first year and "regular" salaries for the following years.

Keyes and Retzlaff finally came to terms yesterday, some six weeks after the National Football League club began training sessions at Albright College in Reading. After a brief news conference in Philadelphia, the Eagles' top draft choice left for Reading to join the team.

"I feel I'm about 82 per cent in condition right now," the 6-foot-3, 210-pound Keyes joked.

"The other 18 per cent will come with experience, and when the season starts, I hope I'll be able to justify my salary."

Keyes said he had been working out with his former teammates at Purdue while contract negotiations stalled. But he added, "I'm still worried about whether my body is going to be ready for professional linebackers."

Retzlaff said that Keyes might get into an exhibition game Saturday against the New York Giants, in Princeton, N.J.

Mets Turn Bullies, Trail By Only Two

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

It took the New York Mets seven years to recover from the National League's first expansion, but the second one has turned out to be a big hit for them—and Jerry Koosman.

After taking their lumps from the older teams since they came into the league in 1962, the Mets suddenly have become bullies themselves against one of this season's new kids on the block, the San Diego Padres.

With Koosman, who hurled a two-hitter, once again taking advantage of San Diego hitters and embarrassing pitcher Clay Kirby, the Mets rolled to their 11th straight victory over the expansionist Padres Wednesday night.

The 4-1 triumph crept the charging Mets within two games—and even on the all-important loss side—of the sinking Chicago Cubs, the East Division leaders who were beaten by Cincinnati 6-3 in the afternoon for their fourth consecutive defeat.

Cincinnati's victory matched San Francisco's 8-7, 10 inning afternoon verdict over Philadelphia and kept the Reds within a half game and three percentage points of the first-place Giants in the West Division.

PACE KEEPING

Atlanta, a half game and five points back, also kept pace with a 1-0 victory over Pittsburgh, and Los Angeles remained one game behind with a 7-3 triumph over Montreal. Houston, three games back, beat St. Louis 5-1 in 10 innings in the other game.

The Mets, who lost only their first game against the Padres this season, bid a sad farewell to San Diego after their sixth straight victory. Koosman, on the other hand, couldn't be sure whether he was more sorry to leaven San Diego or Kirby.

O-FOR-58

Against the rest of the National League's pitchers, Koosman is 0-for-58, but against Kirby he is 3-for-5 after two hits Wednesday night.

Koosman's line single, his first hit in 49 at bats, in the third inning, started a rally that ended in Cleon Jones' two-run double for a 2-1 lead. He beat out a topper in the seventh. His only other hit this year, off Kirby, was a bunt single.

Kirby, taking his 18th loss against three victories, had other troubles in the sixth when Art Shamsky doubled in a run and scored on Ken Boswell's single.

Koosman, 12-8, and 3-0 against San Diego, yielded only a homer to Ollie Brown and a single to Al Ferrara in the first inning. He beat the Padres 4-1 on six hits during an earlier 11-game Mets' winning streak that brought them alive in May and June and won 3-2 on five hits during their current six-game run—and 12 of 13—that has cut 7½ games off Chicago's lead in two weeks.

The Cubs, losing their third in a row against Cincinnati and seventh in nine games, fell before Alex Johnson's two-run double and solo homer and Lee May's two-run homer.

MAJOR LEAGUES

Division Playoff Schedule Is Set

NEW YORK (AP) — Ten teams, including seven in the National League, have the green light to start printing tickets for baseball's first divisional playoffs for the league pennants but for six of the teams, the tickets will only be souvenirs.

The clubs given the go-ahead yesterday were Baltimore, runaway leader in the American League East, and Minnesota and Oakland in the AL West. In the National League, Chicago and New York were named in the East and Cincinnati, San Francisco, Atlanta, Los Angeles and Houston in the seesaw NL West.

The playoffs, a best-of-five series, are scheduled to start on Saturday, Oct. 4. The AL playoffs will start in the home city of the East winner, presumably Baltimore; while the NL series will begin in the home of the West Division champion, After the first two games, the teams will shift to the home city of the rival club.

Winners of the league playoffs will win berths in the World Series, a best-of-seven contest, starting on Saturday, Oct. 11 in the American League city.

Representatives of 12 clubs were invited to the meeting in the office of Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn. The St. Louis Cardinals and the Pittsburgh Pirates, currently third and fourth in the NL East, attended the meeting but were not given permission to start printing tickets.

The representatives decided there would be a day of travel between the second and third playoff games only if the clubs had to jump from one coast to the other.

Joe Cronin and Warren Giles, presidents of the American and National Leagues, respectively, also said a one-game sudden death playoff would be held in the event of division ties for first place at the end of the regular season.

CAMPY ON THE RAMPAGE

Oakland's Bert Campaneris slides hard and safe into second base, forcing Detroit shortstop Mickey Stanley to drop the ball in the first inning. Campaneris was hit on the shoulder by the same ball on a throw by Tiger first baseman Norm Cash. Detroit won yesterday's game 2-0. (UPI Telephoto)

Detroit Kid Blanks A's On Three Hits

DETROIT (AP) — Mike Kilkenny, the Canadian southpaw who got interested in baseball through bubble gum cards, gummed up Oakland's hitting machine last night by pitching the Detroit Tigers to a masterful 2-0, three-hit-victory.

The 24-year-old rookie from Bradford, Ont., relied on his curve ball and recently developed "sneaky fast ball" to hold the Athletics to three singles. He struck out six in gaining his first major league shutout, evening his record at 4-4.

The teams were to go at it again tonight with Oakland's Chuck Dobson, (14-10), scheduled to oppose Mickey Lolich (16-7).

"I thought it was pretty exciting looking at those pitchers on the baseball cards," Kilkenny smiled.

JUST HOCKEY

"Where I come from all they play is hockey," he said. "In my town nobody wanted to go down to the ballfield because it was a disaster area, and there was nobody around to teach the game anyway."

"When the guys got to be 15 they would find a girl, start sitting in the back rows at the movies—and three days later it seemed like they were almost married.

Kilkenny was given his first major league start July 31 because Tiger Manager Mayo Smith was in dire need of a fourth starter.

LOST FIRST TWO

He lost his first two games to the American League East Division's front runner Minnesota and thought he blew his chance of starting again.

The Tigers tagged Jim "Catfish" Hunter, now 9-12, for lone runs in the third and fourth innings. The first scored on a walk to Bill Freehan, a ground out by Don Wert and a single by Mickey Stanley, who drove in six runs in Tuesday's doubleheader. Then in the next inning, Willie Horton walked, stole second, and reached third when A's catcher Phil Roof's threw into center field for an error. Tom Matchick slashed a single to right scoring Horton.

The only hits Kilkenny allowed were singles to Bert Campaneris in the third and Hunter in the fifth, plus a bunt single by Jose Tartabull in the eighth.

Pro Grid Grudge Weekend

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Houston Oilers, sporting the best squad in years, hope to snap the Dallas Cowboys' hold on the texas Pro Championship tonight in a sell-out game at the Astrodome which kicks off a 13-game holiday weekend program.

Coach Wally Lemm warned his Oilers to watch for quick outside and up the middle plays when he learned that the Dallas starting backfield will include Craig Baynham and Les Shy.

"That's their speed backfield," Lemm said.

The Oilers also will have an eye on Cowboy quarterback Craig Morton, who stepped in for retired Don Meredith to direct the multiple formation Dallas attack. It was Morton who came off the bench late in the game the last two years to clinch 30-17 and 33-19 thrillers for the Cowboys.

Both teams have identical 2-1 pre season records and almost identical rushing records. Dallas has averaged 120 yards on the ground while allowing 86 yards on defense. Houston has averaged 126 yards to its opponents' 86 yards.

Morton has a slight edge over Pete Beathard, the Oilers' rapidly maturing quarterback. In three games, Beathard has completed 35 of 71 passes for 534 yards and four tochdowns while Morton has hit on 39 of 77 for 561 yards and three touchdowns.

Another grudge game is on tap Friday night when the Kansas City Chiefs, unbeaten in four exhibitions and the hottest team in the American Football League, meet the Cardinals at St. Louis for the Governors' Cup. The Chiefs won the inaugural game last year 13-10 and are favored to repeat.

FIRST DEFEAT

Kansas City got a 418-yard, four-touchdown performance from quarterback Len Dawson while beating the Los Angeles Rams 42-14 last weekend. Cardinals' quarterback Charlie Johnson managed 15 for 32, 162 yards and one touchdown in the loss to Minnesota, the Cards' first defeat after two victories.

In Saturday's games, the New York Giants (0-2) meet the Philadelphia Eagles (1-1) at Princeton, N.J.; Los Angeles (1-2) is at San Diego (2-1-1); Chicago (2-2) faces Buffalo (1-3) and Green Bay (1-2) takes on Cleveland (2-0-1) in a doubleheader at Cleveland; Miami (0-4) hosts Baltimore (4-0); New Orleans (1-2) entertains Atlanta (2-1), and Cincinnati (1-2) travels to Pittsburgh (1-1).

In Sunday games, San Francisco (0-3) is at Oakland (1-3), Minnesota (3-0) faces the Jets (2-2) in New York, and Boston (1-2) entertains Denver (1-2).

Eagles' General Manager Pete Ratzlaff indicated running back Leroy Keyes, the last of the big name holdouts who signed yesterday, might see some action against the Giants.

Keyes, All-America from Purdue, said he hoped he'd be able to justify his salary, reported in the vicinity of $200,000.

82 PER CENT

"I feel 82 per cent in condition now," said Keyes, who started working out at Purdue six weeks ago.

Both teams will unleash their best running backs. Tucker Frederickson will make his first start for the Giants and Philadelphia expects their ground game to improve with the return of Tom Woodeshick, who missed the early pre season games because of a knee strain.

The Rams will be minus veteran cornerback Clancy Williams, who was indefinitely suspended by Coach George Allen Wednesday.

Allen threatened to trade Williams because of his "indifferent attitude."

"There's more to this game than just ability," Allen said. "I don't care if he has intercepted 19 passes the last three years. He has had an indifferent attitude toward the game and toward practice this season."

Williams, the Rams' No. 1 draft choice from Washington State in 1965, was not immediately available for comment. He has been bothered by a bruised right arm suffered three weeks ago in the pre season opener against Dallas.

The appearance of Buffalo's O. J. Simpson and Chicago's Gayle Sayers on the same field has helped lure a sell-out crowd for the doubleheader at Cleveland. Simpson played about half the game in last weekend's 24-7 losing encounter with Baltimore. The most publicized rookie in pro football history carried five times for 25 yards and returned a kickoff for 23 yards.

Sayers, in the Bears' 19-17 loss to Houston, was contained in rushing, managing only 34 yards in 11 carries, but he returned a kickoff 97 yards for a touchdown.

Strike May Upset Golf At Hartford

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (AP) — Frank Beard, Dave Hill, and controversial Ray Floyd rule as the top candidates for the first prize today on the eve of the strike-threatened $100,000 Greater Hartford Open golf tournament.

Among them, they have won eight tournaments this year, well over $300,000 in purses and have been in the forefront of this season's major development—the emerging dominance of some of the younger tour regulars.

The tournament, threatened by a strike of local caddies which the caddy master said would have prevented staging the event, has an unusual Friday through Monday foremat because of the Labor Day weekend.

Some 300 local caddies had threatened to stage a sit-down strike on the grounds if professional touring caddies were used. Some 37 top professionals had shown up with their own bag-toters, but 17 of them—including Jack Nicklaus and Dan Sikes—quickly made other arrangements, and the locals were mollified.

JUST SIT THERE

"I don't know what we'd have done if some of the pros hadn't decided to take the boy assigned to him," caddy master Mike Coyne said Wednesday. Coyne was one of the key figures in solving the dispute.

"We couldn't have moved 300 of them off the course. They were just going to sit there and not let anyone get off the tee."

This event is the last of four qualifying tournaments for the rich Alcan Golfer of the Year to be played in Portland, Ore. Sept. 25-28.

Early Start Aids Melnyk In U.S. Amateur Opener

OAKMONT, Pa. — Steve Melnyk got the early start yesterday and it helped quite a bit in giving him the first-round lead in the U.S. amateur golf championships at the Oakmont Country Club.

Melnyk started early when the greens were still damp to make for relatively easy putting. He finished with a one-under-par 70, just two strokes ahead of Vinny Giles, two-time runnerup in this tournament.

Today, Giles, who shot a 72, got the early start.

FOOTBALL

"I don't care if he has intercepted 19 passes the last three years," Allen continued. "He has had an indifferent attitude toward the game and practice this season." Then the coach added: "I am considering trading him."

Today is Thursday, Aug. 28, the 240th day of 1969 with 125 to follow.

The moon is between its full phase and last quarter. The morning stars are Venus and Saturn. The evening stars are Mercury, Mars and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1833 the British Parliament banned slavery throughout the empire.

In 1963 more than 200,000 demonstrators staged an orderly civil rights march in Washington, D.C.

In 1968 the Democratic Party nominated Hubert Humphrey to run for President as Chicago police battled thousands of anti-war demonstrators.

A thought for the day: Theodore Roosevelt said. "The first requisite of a good citizen in this republic of ours is that he shall be able and willing to pull his weight."

Finnish Competition For Santa Claus Land

HELSINKI (UPI)—The Finnish public has been invited to compete in a contest in which a first prize of 18,000 Finnmark ($4,290) will be awarded for the best design submitted for a Disneyland-like park to be known as Santa Claus Land.

The park will be built on a 5,975 square yard site near Rovaniemi in Finnish Lapland. The plan must include small workshops, hotel, sauna, restaurant and amusement facilities. Winners will be announced in November.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

Expert Always Tries To Let Opponents Take The Finesses

Beginners love to take finesses: if the finesse works, the beginner gets something for nothing. Experts hate to take finesses: if the finesse loses, the expert feels he should have tried some other line of play. The expert's solution is to get an opponent to take his finesses for him.

TRUMP TRICK

West opened the jack of diamonds, and declarer won in dummy. He drew one round of trumps with the ace, cashed the rest of the diamonds and then gave East his trump trick.

East returned the three of spades, and South considered a finesse with the jack. A beginner would take the finesse, losing to the king, and would win the spade return with the ace. Now South must lose two club tricks since West will cover with the king of clubs whenever South leads the jack.

BETTER LINE

Since the actual South was an expert he found a better line of play. Instead of trying a spade finesse, South took the ace of spades and then continued with the jack. The idea was to force the opponents to begin the clubs since if West led anything else dummy could ruff while South discarded a club.

After taking the king of spades, West led a low club. Declarer played low from the dummy, and East had to put up the queen to win the trick.

FREE FINESSE

Now East had to return a club, and dummy got a free finesse.

Notice the importance of cashing the diamonds before giving the lead to the defenders. If you want to force the defenders to begin the clubs, you can't afford to leave them a safe exit in diamonds.

DAILY QUESTION

As dealer, you hold:
♠ Q 4
♥ 8 7 6 4 3
♦ A Q 7
♣ A 10 3.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Pass.

You have 12 points in high cards and one point for the doubleton. This is enough for an optional opening bid, but you decline the option because a doubleton queen is not quite worth three points and because your long suit is too emaciated to bid. You would bid one heart if you had two low spades and five hearts headed by the queen.

English More Popular Than German

In 1968, 71 per cent of the students took English as their first foreign language, compared with 65 per cent in 1964-65. Only 28 per cent studied German. Before World War II, the main first language was German.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

Automotive Repair Complex Is Mushrooming In Novato

There are now three separate businesses at 862 Vallejo Avenue, Novato, where a single firm operated before.

Novato Automotive Service, previously listed here, continues doing general automotive service and repair work. It is operated by Valesco Baldwin of Petaluma, who has the master lease on the building, using five stalls.

Body work is done by Jerry Gulick of Petaluma, using two stalls, under the name of Novato Auto Body Shop. This will have a separate phone number.

Novato Radiator Shop, also with two stalls, is being operated by George Ascot of Novato. This, too, will have a separate phone number.

Moving in within the next few days, with an opening next week, will be Roland Trehearne Associates, located for the past two years at 508 Third Street, San Rafael. Trehearne has leased larger quarters at 25 Mitchell Boulevard through William W. Hoey and Co.

This company acts as manufacturers agent for computer hardware and other electronic equipment.

JOHN S. SANFORD of Tiburon has been appointed Mexico City representative for Wells Fargo Bank. An assistant vice president, he joined the bank in 1954. He was once assistant manager of the San Rafael office and later manager of the 725 Irving Street office in San Francisco. Most recently he has been on the staff of the training department. He and his family will live in Mexico City.

Sanford

Uston

KENNETH S. USTON of Tiburon has joined the staff of the Pacific Coast Stock Exchange as a vice president for finance, personnel and planning. He was formerly director of planning for American Cement Co. Before that he was a management consultant with Cresap, McCormick and Paget and earlier was with Southern New England Telephone Co.

JACK A. STEPHENS of Sleepy Hollow has been appointed western regional manager for Rand McNally and Co. and will have his headquarters in San Francisco. For the past 15 years he has been with Scott Foresman and Co., educational publishers in Palo Alto.

ROY (DUSTY) RHODES of San Rafael is new traffic and parking director at the San Rafael main office of Bank of Marin, replacing Robert Bond, who has recently moved to Nevada. Rhodes, who finds it difficult to go into complete retirement, in now a healthy 73. At the age of 47 he decided to apply for enlistment in the U.S. Navy, was accepted and later saw police action in Korea. He has also seen service as custodian of the Masonic Building in San Rafael and with Crocker-Citizens National Bank.

NATIONAL SALES HONORS have been awarded by the Addressograph-Multigraph Corp. to Andrew J. G. Watson of San Anselmo, assistant sales manager in San Francisco, and to Gary D. Drummond of San Rafael, sales representative for Marin County. Both have been made members of the company's Hundred Club for going over their sales quotas and will attend a company meeting in Hollywood, Fla., in September.

Nepal-Chinese Trade At $2.6 Million

KATMANDU (UPI) — Nepal will import Communist Chinese goods valued at $2.6 million during 1969, according to an agreement signed between Nepal's state-owned National Trading, Ltd., and the state corporation of Communist China.

Proceeds from sale of the Chinese goods will be used to finance Chinese-aided projects in Nepal.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Investor Patience Needed For Turnaround Situation

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I foolishly got caught by conglomerate glamor and bought Avnet around 35. I'd appreciate your opinion. — R. N.

A. I believe Avnet is worth holding as a turnaround though you will need patience while evaluating its emergence from a series of adverse circumstances.

Stocks of many respected electronics firms have been having a hard time; conglomerates are depressed, and in addition Avnet has had strikes to contend with as well as shrinking margins from price weakness in color-TV tubes and overcapacity in its copper wire plant.

However, earnings should move up in fiscal 1969-70, aided by cost cuts, corporation restructuring and the current uptrend in sales which is expected to continue. Broadened operations are being skillfully integrated through long-term planning by experienced managers.

Q. Last January I bought 25 shares of Clary Corp. at 23⅝. My adviser thinks it will be a winner so I've held on. Should I sell if I don't need the cash? —W. H.

A. Clary peaked out in July, 1968, at 32¼ and you've ridden it down from its best performance level in 1969. Until earnings are out of the red — they slipped early this year — I don't expect share price to show any real bounce.

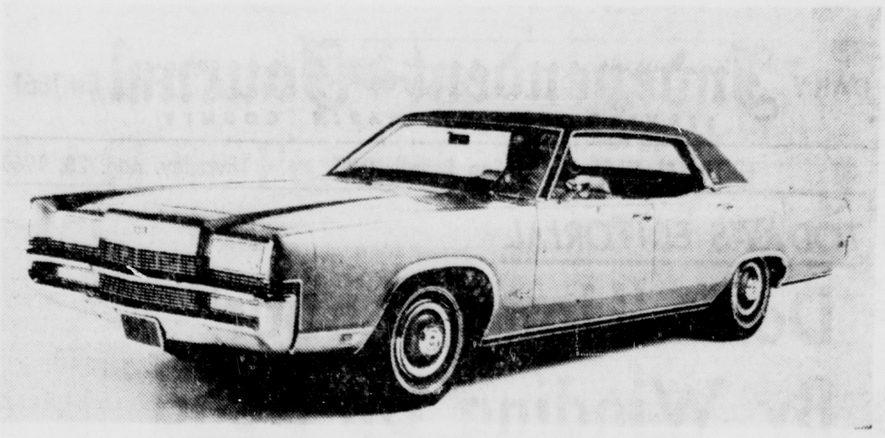
The company's product mix of gyroscopes, small computers and peripheral equipment, mobile homes and housing components suggests areas of potential profitability that could help Clary to become a speculative winner. How long this might take is impossible to predict. The burst of speculative strength in Clary's shares a year ago reflected a tripling of earnings between 1966 and 1968, from 16 cents a share to over 50 cents. Since then sales have fallen off 21 per cent, an earnings deficit has appeared and recent acquisitions must be effectively integrated. Your decision to hold or to sell depends largely on your temperament because even partial recovery to your cost seems rather far away.

Extra Facilities

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Power Commission has authorized Colorado Interstate Gas Co. to build $4.6 million worth of additional natural gas facilities in Wyoming.

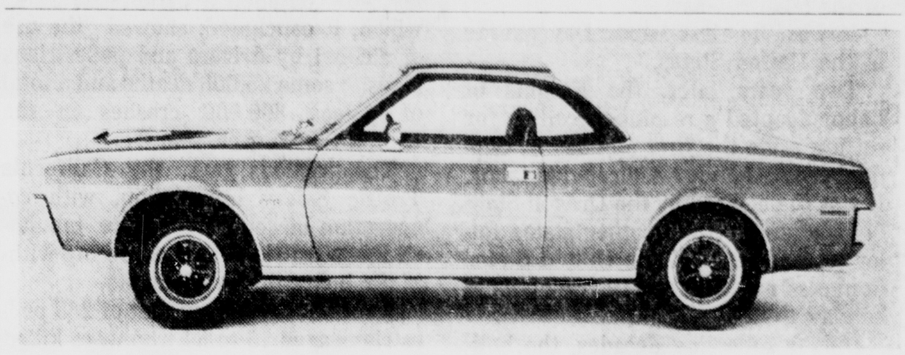
Hawaii Costs High

HONOLULU (UPI) — Food costs in Hawaii run from 15 to 20 per cent higher than those on the West Coast, according to the U.S. Bureau of Labor statistics.



MERCURY MARQUIS FOR 1970

Engineering and design refinements and a number of new options are in the new Marquis to go on sale in September. The 1970 model maintains its Continental look and has newly designed grille and tail lights. Cars will be sold in Marin at Larry Brink Motors, Mill Valley, and Marin Bay Lincoln-Mercury, San Rafael.



1970 JAVLIN LONGER

American Motors' Javelin sports hardtop includes numerous exterior and interior styling changes and will be almost two inches longer. A new hood features two simulated air scoops, which with an optional performance package, are used to facilitate a ram-air induction system. Javelins will go on sale Sept. 25 at Anderson Motor Co., Novato; Dexter Rambler, San Rafael, and Larry Brank Motors, Mill Valley.

Woolworth Sales Top $1.9 Billion

NEW YORK (UPI)—A business that started with nickels is nearing the $2 billion mark in annual sales.

There was a 5-cent ceiling on all merchandise when F. W. Woolworth opened the first of the stores to bear his name 90 years ago. Price ceilings, which went to 10 cents and later to 20 cents, were abandoned in 1935.

Today the company has annual sales exceeding $1.9 billion.

Stocks On Higher Side At Day's End

Motors traded in both directions. Florida East Coast Railway was one of the biggest moving rails after climbing more than 5 Wednesday.

Conglomerates were mixed, as were gold mining shares. Steels and chemicals traded in fractions, but oils and electronics were ranging to more than a point from previous closings, generally on the plus side.

Aircrafts and airlines showed scattered strength.

Among the most active issues were Leasco Data, Fairchild Camera, McGraw-Hill, Cities Service and Loew's Theatres.

Don't 'Honor Labor' By Winding Up Dead

On the first Monday of September in 1882, the Knights of Labor, led by Terrence V. Powderly, grand master workman, paraded in the streets of New York in a demonstration of solidarity of the laboring classes.

It was the first Labor Day parade in the United States.

Two years later, the Knights of Labor adopted a resolution calling for setting aside the first Monday of September as a holiday dedicated to labor. It was so declared by the Oregon State Legislature in 1887. Other states followed, and in 1894 the United States Congress made Labor Day a national holiday.

During following decades, the holiday was marked by parades of labor union members, generally in the working clothes of their trades, and by picnics, athletic events, and public programs.

THE AUTOMOBILE changed all that.

Labor Day now is an excuse for a holiday away from home. Because it falls on a Monday, the resulting "long week end" lures Americans by the millions onto the highways, starting Friday evening. The resulting slaughter in traffic accidents has made the Labor Day week-end a "holiday of death."

Adding to the dangers from crowding of highways is the holiday atmosphere which results in more drinking drivers than on normal week ends.

DESPITE THE ADAGE that "gasoline and alcohol don't mix," a lot of people try to mix them on the Labor Day week end.

The fatality of the mixture is demonstrable. The U.S. Department of Transportation in a report to congress last year detailed a nationwide study which, it concluded, showed "the use of alcohol by drivers and pedestrians leads to some 25,000 deaths and a total of at least 800,000 crashes in the United States each year."

The previous year, the California Traffic Safety Foundation, with cooperation of county coroners, tabulated 2,099 traffic deaths occurring within six hours of the accidents.

It found that 61 per cent of 283 pedestrians aged 15 to 64 who were killed in traffic had been drinking.

Of 1,510 drivers fatally injured, 53 per cent had been drinking.

The figures speak for themselves.

LABOR DAY would do more honor to organized labor—for which it was established—if we went back to parades, picnics, and programs for its observance. But who goes to a parade nowadays? And to get to picnic grounds means getting out on the road in an automobile—especially in a place like Marin, where public transportation is minimal at best and almost nonexistant on a holiday.

There's one solution left, however: Stay home. Watch the television. Mow the lawn. Get to know the family a little better.

And if you have to drive some place this week end, don't drink. Becoming a corpse is a poor way to pay honor to labor.

Yellow Lights Mean Caution

Have you ever seen a pair of bright yellow reflectors in your headlights or in a flashlight beam in the garden? These yellow reflectors are just the size of pennies, but they mean caution for they are the bright, inquisitive eyes of a raccoon. Few wild creatures have eyes with comparable reflecting ability.

It is almost uncanny to come face to face with a pair of these little, yellow headlights unexpectedly. Sometimes it can be a bit eerie until one realizes that they are just the curious eyes of friendly, lovable Mr. Raccoon.

"Sure, You're a Cute Kid—But, if I'm Seen With You I'll Lose My Job!"

AN EDUCATOR'S VIEW

How 'Democratic Process' Is Applied On Campuses

By JOHN W. GILBAUGH
Professor of Education
San Jose State College

As the country moves toward political conservatism at the polls, college campuses continue undisturbed as bastions of left-wing liberalism. Consequently, the alienation between town and gown and between the university community and the general taxpaying public is becoming more pronounced.

Why do changes mandated at the polls by the electorate go unheeded on college and university campuses? Do those elected lack the capacity to establish campus control? Not entirely. Somehow professors have convinced trustees and state legislators that college and university campuses should be autonomous political entities. And that they whould be run democratically as local state and federal governments Since city councilmen, mayors, state assemblymen and senators and governors, and federal congressmen and the President are elected, so also, should college and university department heads, deans, presidents and members of university senates be elected.

Though the analogy is widely used in public higher education, it is fraudulant and misleading.

WHILE ON the surface, city, state and federal electoral systems seem applicable to colleges and universities, the fatal flaw in the comparison becomes readily apparent if the system of electing administrators and college senators is applied to off-campus political entities. For example, at the city level, using the college system, firemen and policemen would elect their own officers and administrators, determine who among their number would be hired, promoted or fired, and formulate all regulations regarding firefighting and law enforcement. City employees, not qualified voters at large, would determine the membership of the city council and the method of naming a mayor.

At the state level, assemblymen and senators would be elected by the state's civil service employees. They, in turn would elect the governor. Each department of government would elect officers and determine within broadly prescribed limits who would be hired, promoted, or fired.

On the federal level, United States congressmen and senators would be elected by government employees. The President of the United States would be designated by Congress, or a committee established by that branch of government. The armed forces would be virtually autonomous — free to impose their edicts on the populace at will. What, then, would be the role of Mr. Average Taxpayer? Why 8he voting for the tax collector and paying taxes!

SO, WHILE college and university professors press forward in establishing "communities of scholars" with virtual political autonomy, patterned after city, state and national levels of government — the voice of the taxpayer has been effectively muted. Indeed, the system is out of harmony with one of America's most sacred traditions — taxation with representation.

Though trustees are said to be the link between the taxpaying public and the public's campuses, the public interest has not been too well served. For trustees, insulated in office by long-term appointments, have become mesmerized by professorial rhetoric. Consequently, while the general public cries out for campus sanity, college and university campuses continue their leftward political thrust unimpeded.

Consumers Get Some Protection In Newly Enacted State Laws

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — California consumers are somewhat better off as the result of legislation passed by the 1969 session, according to Speaker of the House Robert T. Monagan, R-Tracy.

Monagan says, "high among the accomplishments of the legislature this year must be listed the laws enacted for the protection of consumers."

AMONG THESE laws he lists some of the annoyances the consumer suffers in what has been a flow of unsolicited merchandise through the mail.

The state, of course, cannot control what goes through the mail, but it can and did enact laws whereby the recipient is no longer responsible for returning matter that was unsolicited.

Gov. Ronald Reagan has signed a measure authored by Monaghan which declares that mail-delivered, unsolicited merchandise "constitutes a free gift" which the recipient can "utilize, give away, or throw away."

In other words if you receive a package of address labels, or anything else, along with a dun for money or a contribution, you can use them or toss them in the wastebasket, as you choose, and the sender under the new California law, can't come back and demand his money.

ALONG WITH THIS goes withdrawal from participation in book-clubs, record clubs, picture clubs, etc., which has been a difficult matter in the past.

Policies of some organizations operating these kinds of businesses is to ignore a cancellation and keep on sending the merchandise, threatening a law suit in small claims court if the receiver fails to pay.

This is going to be different now. Just give the club 30 days' notice of cancellation, anf if it keeps on sending the merchandise, the receiver won't be held responsible under the law.

The new measure no doubt will cause the clubs, including those that are legitimate, to pay more attention to their computerized address systems.

CREDIT CARDS were another item dealt with by the legislature. Similar relief is given the individual who is sent an unsolicited credit card, as he has no responsibility and is absolved from any obligation with regard to unauthorized purchases made with such a card if he has not used it himself.

Also a credit card holder's obligation is cancelled when he gives responsible notice of loss of the credit card by phone, telegram, or letter.

Additional protections were enacted to shield the consumer from being victimized in connection with insurance purchases and cancellations, prescription labeling, purity of pet food, property purchases in subdivisions, and home improvement contracts, Monagan said.

Soupy Sales, crossing the campus of a Southern California institution of learning, saw a bearded and beaded student burning something in a trash can. "Your draft card, no doubt?" hazarded Soupy. "No, sir," replied the student with unexpected civility. "I'm not opposed to war. I'm opposed to work. This is my social security card."

McCarthyism In Reverse Shadows Upcoming Senatorial Campaign

WASHINGTON — The most severe and the most crucial struggle for control of the Senate since 1950, when the rampant right-wing forces of Sen. Joseph McCarthy were threatening responsible government itself, is in clear prospect for 1970.

The Senatorial elections of next year will be at once the least partisan and the most significant of those two decades. It is already plain, parenthetically, that the companion contest for the House of Representatives will be so far overshadowed as to seem all but irrelevant.

IN 1950, because the virulent and largely fradulent nature of the so-called anti-Communist "crusade" of the McCarthy types was an infinitely bigger issue than any mere matter of party labels, the more responsible members of the Senate in both parties largely abandoned routine partisan considerations in the campaign. Democrat did not necessarily support Democrat and Republican did not necessarily support Republican. The touchstone was how candidates stood on McCarthyism and, in general, on a politics of reckless emotional violence.

McCarthyism with all it implied was imperiling the effective functioning of the Republican party, though the senator himself was a Republican, and the times insistently demanded a holiday on conventional partisanship.

NOW, the challenge is in some respects quite similar; and this time it directly involves the Democratic rather than the Republican party. For the New Left within the Democratic Party is imperiling its effective functioning. Where Joseph McCarthy proceeded with a harsh cynicism to force this government into an irrationally extreme hard line against world communism, the current Democratic New Left is motivated by an irrationally excessive trust. Its shrill conviction — which it simply will not allow to be debated in dispassionate political terms — is that peace is just around the corner if only this country will sufficiently disarm itself.

McCarthy's devil-hunt was among alleged pro-Communists in the State Department; the Democratic New Left's devil is a "military-industrial complex" alleged to reside in the Pentagon and endlessly to lobby for war and suffering.

McCarthy's notion by logical extension wound up in something close to the infinitely dangerous doctrine of preventive war. The Democratic New Left's dogma by logical extension winds up with something close to the appalling foolishness of neutralism and pacifism. So, a blindness from the right of 20 years ago has been succeeded by a blindness from the left of today.

IT HAPPENS, moreover, that it is precisely this sort of Democratic senator who is most numerous this time among those who must meet the voters in 1970. If the Republicans can unseat as many as seven of this type, they can take the Senate. Ordinarily, they would have hardly a ghost of a chance. But the times are not ordinary; and the simple truth is that, as in 1950, many a sitting Democratic senator, and many a powerful Democrat outside the Senate, will no more lift a finger in aid of New Left colleagues than many a responsible Republican senator of 1950 would lift one in behalf of right-wing colleagues.

It is, therefore, not wise to wave off, as typical partisan overstatement, the claims of the Republican senatorial campaign committee, headed by John Tower of Texas, that the GOP can, in fact, win the Senate. It can do so, that is, if the country grows tired enough meantime of the vehement new isolationism and flight from reality that has been foisted upon the Democratic Party in the Sanate by a minority which nevertheless controls the leadership and largely dominates the headlines.

This, then, is the name of the game for 1970. Shall the Republicans — who have, parenthetically, some problem of their own from the left but on no such scale as that of the Democrats — ride to power on the suicide impulse of far-liberal Democrats who seem to have mistaken the howls of campus "demonstrators" for the voice of the people?

Here's Real Reward For Recreation Staff

I would like to thank Ed Adams, Gary Howell, Ed Johnson, and the rest of the staff of the Novato Parks and Recreation Department.

They did a fine job and I participated in it as much as I could. Just recently they took us on a trip to Marine World. I had a lot of fun and so did a good many others.

I hope they continue their great work.

Nixon, To Woo China, Needs Finesse Of Troudeau

By FREDERICK NOSSAL
Toronto Telegram News Service

HONG KONG — To woo China, the Nixon administration will have to follow the path taken by Canada's Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau. Like Mr. Trudeau, President Nixon will have to make the Chinese Communists feel they are wanted and needed in the international community, and that as a potential great power China should be given a say in global affairs.

The present U.S. position is negative. Washington is putting out feelers toward Peking because it may be dangerous not to do so.

Secretary of State William Rogers said in Canberra recently that China had been isolated from world affairs for too long, and that this was one reason the United States is seeking to open channels of communication. But the dialogue with the Chinese proposed by Mr. Rogers will be utterly barren unless the dilemma of Formosa is at least discussed intelligently.

THE CHINESE are convinced they have been wronged by the United States and by other countries pursuing a similar policy toward them. In grossly oversimplified terms — because to go into the tangled history of Sino-American relations in detail would fill several volumes — this is how Peking sees the situation:

Japan grabbed Formosa and other Chinese islands following the Sino-Japanese War of 1895. Japan invaded Manchuria in 1931, pushed southward through the rest of China later that decade, and subsequently tried to conquer all of Asia.

Long before the end of the Pacific war, the Allies promised China that all possessions taken by the Japanese would be returned. Formosa was returned to Chiang Kai-shek's regime in 1945, but Chiang lost the civil war against the Communists and took refuge on the island province.

The Chinese Communists today claim they have an excellent legal case to ownership of Formosa.

MR. TRUDEAU has sidestepped this difficulty by using one of Peking's favorite slogans — that the question of Formosa is one to be decided by the Chinese themselves.

Canada is not willing to endorse the territorial limits of China as outlined on Communist maps. But the Trudeau Government is not saying — as did the Pearson administration — that there is an independent de facto nation called Formosa or Taiwan. The matter of Formosa's legal status is simply left in the air.

Obviously President Nixon cannot take similar short cuts to improve ties with Peking. The United States has specific treaty commitments to Chiang's regime, the Republic of China.

Mistress Maria, Not Contrary Puts TLC Into Her Garden

The other day we met Maria West of Corte Madera who has a hardy garden where the sweet corn harvest is now going great.

"It grew crazy," said Mrs. West. "People don't have good corn around here. I had the best of luck. I got real corn on the cob."

Asked how this was accomplished, Mrs. West replied that she just uses horse manure and straw.

SHE ALSO HAS a row of zucchini running right across the garden and, around the border, flowers. The tomatoes are coming on now and Mrs. West says she has a Mexican squash that grew "the size of a watermelon."

This year she experimented with Jerusalem artichoke, which is not known too well, looks like ginger root and is high in protein.

"I have potatoes in the ground," Mrs. West, a slim lady with dark eyes, said.

MRS. WEST, barefoot and in shorts, pointed with pride to her French shallots and garlic drying on the rail of the porch. Then she rubbed some leaves of a potted plant and put her fingers up for smelling.

"Basil," she exclaimed proudly, "that the Dagos pay a big price for." "Are you Italian?" we asked. "Yeah," she said, smiling.

Mrs. West said she gardens barefoot, "like a hippy — but I'm not one."

She said that she is from Louisiana and her folks gardened .

"That's all I knew (gardening) until I learned waitress work," Mrs. West said.

THE BAREFOOTED gardener said she also preserves her crops and has about 500 jars of canned goods stored away.

Swiss chard can be grown all year around in Marin, Mrs. West said, and it doesn't take up much space. She also grows onions, carrots and cabbage all year.

She said one doesn't need a green thumb if he puts a little TLC (tender loving care) in the ground as she does.

"It gives me a wonderful feeling about how soil does make things grow — just like those guys that went into orbit — and that you can really accomplish things with your hands if you want to put yourself to it. They ask me, 'Is that how you stay so slim? You're out in the garden so much.' "

THE TOMATOES are ripe, too, in a couple of pots behind the San Anselmo firehouse, according to fireman Don Whitney, who says he brings fertilizer in from a ranch and rest is accomplished by watering.

He added, "We have a real garden at Station 2 which is cared for by Al Colombo and Gerry Cahill." He said they have squash, tomatoes, lettuce and beans. Whitney said the firemen get a lot of supplies from the garden and added, "It helps cut down the cost of food around here."

ART BUCHWALD

Once-In-A-Lifetime Thrill —For The Entire Family

CAPE COD — One of the problems of taking children on vacation is that there is nothing to do with them in the evenings. There is one movie house in our town on Cape Cod, and it shows a different film every night. Unfortunately none of the children has been able to go because every film that they've shown has been graded by the Valenti code as "M" for mature audiences only, "R" for restricted audiences only, or "X" which means you have to prove you're Dirty Old Men before they let you in.

You can therefore imagine my surpirse when I heard the other day the Bijou Cinema was advertising for Saturday night a "G" picture, which meant it was for the entire family. I couldn't believe it, so I ran down to the theater to see if it was possibly true.

OTHER PARENTS had also heard the rumor, and there was a large crowd in front of the building staring at the "coming attractions" poster which said the film on Saturday had been declared for general audiences "without any restrictions."

"What could it possibly be?" a father next to me said. "I don't know," I admitted. "I thought they had given up making films for the entire family." "Maybe it's a foreign film," his wife suggested. "It could be an old MGM film that they retitled," another man said. "I'm sure Hollywood wouldn't make new film for children to see."

A LADY became indignant. "They should have given us some advance notice. I had a big dinner planned for Saturday evening and now I have to cancel it." "Why?" cancel it." "Why?" a man asked. "I've never seen a movie for general audiences, and another one may not come along for years," she said.

Apparently word had spread beyond the town because people were driving in from the countryside to see the poster. Main Street was clogged with cars and fathers were standing in the middle of the street holding their children on their shoulders so they could get a better look at the "G" rating.

The manager of the movie house came out perspiring. "Please go home. This is Thursday and the family movie isn't scheduled until Saturday night. You're hurting my regular business."

NOBODY MOVED. "How do we know we can get in on Saturday night?" a man shouted. "Yeah," someone else yelled, "suppose the whole Cape hears you're showing a 'G' movie? We won't be able to get in. Why can't we buy our tickets now?"

The crowd was becoming ugly. The manager got up on a box. "Please," he said, "It's not my fault. We're only permitted to show one film for the entire family each summer. If it was up to me I'd show another one, though heaven knows where I'd find it."

A mother cried, "We support you when you show you 'M' and 'R' movies. Why can't we get some consideration when you show a 'G' movie?"

"HOW ABOUT a matinee?" I suggested. "In that way more people could see it."

"I can't show it at a matinee. Next Saturday's matinee is already booked for 'I Am Curious — Yellow.' "

"My child's never seen a movie," another mother cried. "Couldn't children who have never seen a movie be given first preference?"

"Madam," the manager said. "We can't cater to lower age groups."

IT LOOKED hopeless, so I decided to go home. As I suspected, the word had spread all along the Cape that our cinema was going to show a family movie, and on Friday morning caravans of people started to arrive with tents and sleeping bags.

By Saturday morning people had abandoned their cars 20 miles from the town and walked on foot in hopes of seeing it. By Saturday afternoon the place looked like the Woodstock Festival at Bethel, N.Y. The Bijou Cinema has only 500 seats, so 60,000 people had to be turned away from the theater. But they didn't seem to mind.

The father of one tribe said as he tied up his bedroll, "I think just being in town where they were showing a film for the entire family, even if we didn't get in, was a wonderful experience for the kids.

Bakersfield Slayer Could Be Paroled

BAKERSFIELD (UPI) — A man sentenced to die by hanging 42 years ago for the slaying of his wife and stepdaughter is coming up for parole at San Quentin Prison.

Kern County Asst. Dist. Atty. Richard Bradshaw said he was informed today by the California Department of Corrections that Odd Cornell, 75, would be up for parole soon. He did not mention a date.

At his trial in February, 1927, the prosecution said Cornell, a Bakersfield truck driver, became angry with his wife Oct. 17, 1926, for charging him with a statutory offense against the step-daughter, Fairy Gerace, 14.

He was said to have shot his wife, Fairy Cornell, three times with a .45-caliber weapon and then shot the girl before turning the gun on himself. After shooting himself, he saw the girl was still alive, and shot her again, the prosecution contended.

Cornell subsequently recovered from a chest wound.

On Feb. 9, 1927, Cornell was sentenced to death by hanging by then Superior Court Judge R. T. Lambert.

However, he escaped the gallows when he later was declared insane and was sent to Mendocino State Hospital.

Several years later, Cornell was declared cured and returned to San Quentin. But Gov. James Rolph Jr. commuted the death sentence to life in prison without possibility of parole.

Later the sentence was changed to life in prison with possibility of parole, but when Cornell applied for parole in 1935 the action created a furor in Kern County and he was turned down.

Bradshaw said there was no indication Kern County authorities would oppose Cornell's parole this time.

Contrary Addendum In Portnoy

COCOA, Fla. (AP) — Religious leaflets have been finding their way into the sexy parts of "Portnoy's Complaint" and other novels in Cape Kennedy area public libraries.

"It's a sneaky way of creeping up behind you and socking it to you," said director Charles E. Huber of the Cocoa Library.

Huber said he wrote to "Gospel" in Eau Gallie, Fla., which signed the leaflets and complained of their insertion while the books are on the library shelves.

James T. Lufin, director of the small religious group, said: "I print them and give them out at no cost. I have no idea what happens to them after that."

Huber said he had found more than a dozen of the leaflets in the library's books. Particular targets, he said, are sexy novels.

The leaflets carry brief sermons and Biblical quotations, Huber said.

Huber wrote Gospel: "Any responsible citizen is welcome to donate to the public library books that reflect his view of the world, but those views must compete on open and equal terms in the intellectual marketplace, and not be inserted into the legitimate works of other men."

Even A Princess Can't Wear Mini

ROME (AP) — Princess Paolo of Liege, sister-in-law of Belgian King Baudouin, ran afoul of the Vatican's ban on miniskirts, two Italian publications reported today.

The newspaper Il Tempo said the princess, a native of Italy who is the wife of Baudouin's younger brother, Prince Albert, was stopped by a guard as she was about to enter St. Peter's Basilica with two friends.

Paolo told the guard, "All right, we will come back some other time," Il Tempo said.

The magazine Novella 2000 published a picture of the princess smiling as she talked with a guard at the entrance to St. Peter's. She was wearing a miniskirt that was not as short as many but still ended above the knees.

The Vatican last week banned women in miniskirts and men in shorts from St. Peter's.

Youths Plead Guilty In Theft

Three San Rafael youths accused of burglarizing a San Rafael house Aug. 20 pleaded guilty yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to a reduced charge of petty theft.

Sentencing was set for Sept. 26 for Michael B. Harris, 18, Gerry S. Boatright, and Robert B. Moffett, both 19.

They were arrested when they reportedly were removing furniture from a house at 66 Brookdale Avenue.

LEVEE BROKEN

East San Rafael Flooding Feared

By JOANNE GRANT

The possibility of serious flooding in East San Rafael looms large this winter unless property owners repair a major break in the levee and provide adequate drainage pipes, city officials said today.

The huge ponding area east of Highway 17, usually empty by this time of year, is not draining.

"With the first rains we're going to have flooding and if nothing is done it could be serious flooding, City Engineer Ely Caillouette Jr. warned.

There is an 18-foot break in the eroded dike and some smaller, shallower cuts. The major break is only inches above sea level and bay water flows freely into the ponding area at high tide.

The two small pipes draining the area are clogged with silt and water only trickles out.

Adding to the problem is the filling of a former ponding area south of Highway 17 by the Quail Hill developers. The loss of this storage area means runoff must be discharged into the bay at a much faster rate than was originally required, Caillouette said.

Letters have gone to the property owners, Francisco Co., Marin Development Co. and Equitable Development Co. urging that planning begin immediately to correct the situation before the rains arrive.

(The address of one of the companies is the same as William Penn Patrick's Holiday Magic Inc. and the other two are the same as Harry Heifetz Co.).

If the property owners don't act, Councilman Harry A. Barbier said he would go to court to force action.

Caillouette said the levee broke in last winter's rains and the area was inundated.

LEVEE BREAK—At high tide, water flows swiftly into the ponding area (right) in East San Rafael through this 18-foot gap in the dike. High tide marks are about 3.5 feet up the side of the eroded levee. The break is one of several drainage problems which could cause serious flooding this winter. In addition to breaks, drains are clogged. (Independent-Journal photo by Bob Hax)

Water came within a foot of the roadway, causing concern to the city and the state division of highways. That happened before filling began in the south ponding area.

A meeting with a representative of Heifetz resulted in installation of a second pipe to drain the area, but more is needed now, Caillouette said.

The pipes are difficult to maintain because of their location and the continual silting. The city can't maintain them because they are on private property.

Caillouette estimated it could cost $10,000 to $15,000 to make repairs to get through the winter.

A drainage plan for the whole area has been prepared and was presented several months ago. Property owners will have to form an assessment district to implement it, Caillouette explained.

Mayor C. Paul Bettini said a meeting is being scheduled for next week to discuss the matter. However, the plan could not be implemented in time to help this year.

The area which must be drained totals almost 500 acres, Caillouette said.

Pentagon Doubts Hanoi Slowdown

State Department's Outlook Questioned

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Pentagon said today North Vietnam sent about 100,000 troops into South Vietnam during the first half of this year, enough to "substantially replace" enemy combat losses.

The Pentagon figured enemy killed during that period at 93,653 but said that loss would be expanded when prisoners, wounded and defections are added in.

It was the first time in months that the Defense Department has released infiltration figures and came at a time when the Pentagon was seeking to play down the idea that it stands in sharp disagreement with the State Department over the significance of a recent infiltration decline which was disclosed yesterday.

Defense spokesman Jerry Friedheim, asserting that there is no disagreement, said both agencies agree that infiltration is lower this year and that there may be a decline of enemy strength in South Vietnam as a result.

But whereas the State Department said it viewed the development as "significant," Friedheim said: "We interpret this cautiously."

Friedheim said the 100,000-man infiltration figure for the first half of 1969 is half the infiltration figure for the corresponding period in 1968, but he said any comparison of the two figures "must be made cautiously" because of special factors which existed last year.

Among these, Friedheim said, are the fact that in early 1968 North Vietnam was preparing for the big Tet offensive. He said also the halt of the U.S. combing of North Vietnam last fall and weather factors over Laos this spring must be considered in any assessment of this year's lowered infiltration.

Friedheim said that while the enemy may have suffered a slight loss in strength in South Vietnam, his strength "remains sufficient to conduct operations under his present strategy." That strategy this year, he said, has been marked by fewer large unit actions.

Friedheim used the 100,000 infiltration figure, which compares with 250,000 all last year, because he said he did not have "specific figures which would

Green Beret Leadership To Change Again—Fourth Time

SAIGON (AP) — The Green Berets in Vietnam, whose leadership has changed hands three times this year, will have another new commander, an Army spokesman said today.

He is Col. Michael D. Healy, a veteran U.S. Special Forces officer. He will succeed Col. Alexander Lemberes, 43, Saturday.

Lemberes took command of the Green Berets when their former commander was charged in the June 20 fatal shooting of a Vietnamese man, reported to have been a double agent.

The reshuffle was another twist in the murder case, which broke Aug. 6.

On that day, the Army said Col. Robert B. Rheault, 43, commander of all Green Berets in Vietnam, had been arrested along with seven other Green Berets on charges of murder and conspiracy to murder.

Rheault, of Vineyard Haven, Mass., had been in command since May 29. He was relieved of his duties July 21 and Lemberes named as his successor.

Rheault succeeded Col. Harold A. Aaron of Annandale, Va.

Lemberes, of Sparks, Nev., an infantry officer who fractured his ankle July 26 taking the mandatory parachutists' training required of the Green Berets, was only an interim commander, the Army said. He had not previously been identified as such.

An Army spokesman said Lemberes will leave for the United States "where he can receive special treatment" for the broken ankle.

Healy, who joined the Special Forces in 1954 and served duty tours as a Green Beret in Germany in 1957 and Vietnam in 1964, is the former commander of the U.S. Ninth Infantry Division's 1st brigade.

The brigade recently was pulled out of the war under President Richard M. Nixon's withdrawal of 25,000 U.S. troops from Vietnam.

Healy, who arrived last March, accompanied his brigade back to Hawaii—where it now is being deactivated—and returned to South Vietnam this week.

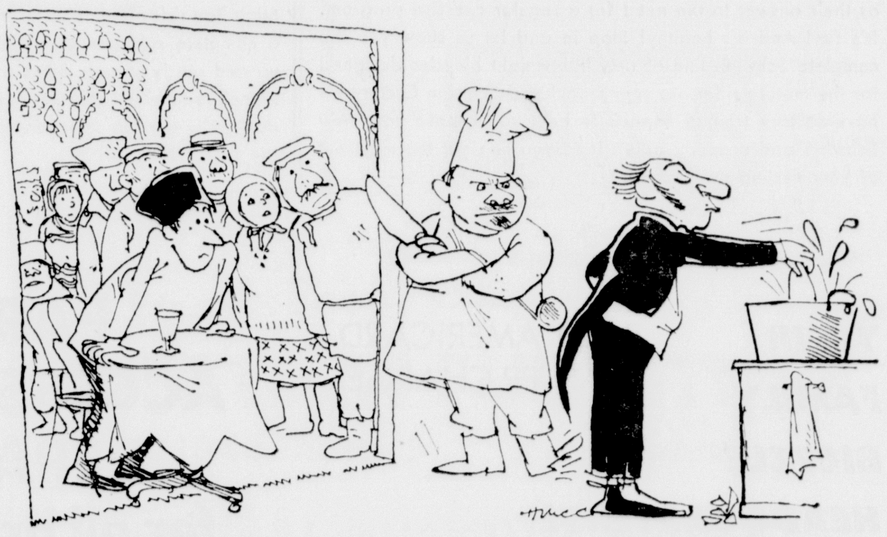
Russia's Latest Trouble With China

"All year I have been visiting the Moscow shops but I have not been able to buy six soup plates for my family. Has our industry stopped producing such necessary items? The situation plays into the hands of the black market speculators who ply their trade near the shops. The speculators offer to sell plates at three times the cost." — From a letter from A. Zhukov to the editor of Komsomolskaya Pravda, the newspaper of the young Communist league.

By AARON R. EINFRANK



MOSCOW (Toronto News Service) —Russians may have more on their plates than ever before in the history of this Communist state, but they have fewer plates than they had in 1957 when Khrushchev was talking about "burying" the West.

Twelve years ago, the inhabitants of the Russian Federation which makes up the bulk of the USSR, were able to purchase 34.7 million plates. During 1969 only 25.8 million plates will be available.

Accroding to Komsomolskaya Pravda, plated emand exceeds plate supply by 200 million annually.

The situation has led to some extraordinary situations. For instance, the shortage of restaurants and the abysmally poor service in the existing restaurants has been aggravated. Customers not only have to wait for food and waiters but also must wait for plates to be washed.

I visited one small cafeteria where a long line had formed. The food was ready but the plates were not. Each time a customer finished his meal, the plate had to be hand-carried to the kitchen for washing.

Then Komsomolskaya Pravda obligingly provided documentation in an expose of the great plate shortage.

According to Nikolai Petrov, of the Soviet Ministry of Light Industry, the prime cause for the scandal is the old Communist failing of fulfilling the plan with junk. On paper, the USSR makes a lot of plates, but an enormous number are defective. The defective plates count in the inflated statistics of state production plans, but they do not look so good in the kitchen where they disintegrate.

Petrov pinpoints poor workmanship and inferior materials as contributing to the disaster. Baking the plates at lower temperature saves fuel, he says, but the result is poor plates.

As for the material, Petrov claims that carloads of defec-

Ross Hikes Tax Rate To $1.72

The Ross Town Council last night set the 1969-70 tax rate at $1.72 per $100 assessed valuation, up 5 cents from last year (Other Ross Town Council stories, page 5.)

The total rate includes $1.22 for general government, 24 cents for parks and boulevards, 10 cents for retirement and 16 cents for drains and flood control.

Councilmen also adopted a final 1969-70 budget of $235,269, down $804 from last year.

Mayor Frederick S. Allen said despite the 5-cent rate hike, most taxpayers will pay less than last year because of the state-granted exemption of $750 of assessed valuation.

For example, the town tax on a $40,000 home would be $8.30 less, he said.

Allen also reported that the city's general operating tax rate limit has been boosted from $1.50 to $1.53 to offset the loss of revenue by removal of the tax personal belongings. the town is levying $1.22 of the general rate for 1969-70.

One redident objected because cost of living pay hike. W. James Dawson, finance committee chairman, explained that the employees had been granted step increases, and the cost-of-living would be reviewed in January after the trend in living costs is established.

Kennedy Attorneys Denied Question Rights At Inquest

EDGARTOWN, Mass. (UPI) —A district court judge today denied the pleas of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's lawyer to examine and cross-examine witnesses at next Wednesday's inquest into the death of Mary Jo Kopechne on grounds the proceedings are not of a criminal nature.

For 20 minutes, Judge James A. Boyle listened to arguments of attorneys for Kennedy and other prospective inquest witnesses, who also requested that counsel be allowed to present evidence and compel witnesses to appear to testify.

The lawyers branded the inquest an "accusatory proceeding."

Boyle then announced at the hearing that he would not honor their motions. He said, "I'm not satisfied that the United States Supreme Court would read the due process clause of the Constitution into our inquest proceedings."

"Therefore, I deny the motions," he said.

The inquest will investigate all circumstances surrounding the death of Miss Kopechne, 28, of Washington, who drowned when a car driven by Kennedy plunged off a narrow bridge on Chappaquiddick Island into a tidal pond.

Edward B. Hanify of Boston, one of four attorneys representing the 37-year-old Senator, said Kennedy will appear to testify at the inquest "not as a United States Senator but as a private citizen.

Lodge Tells Hanoi, Cong Level Of Fighting Halts Withdrawals

PARIS (AP) — The United States said today President Richard M. Nixon had held up action on further U.S. troop withdrawals from Vietnam because North Vietnam ignored American steps to reduce the level of fighting.

At the 32nd weekly session of the peace talks, U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge enumerated to the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong three initiatives he said the United States had taken.

These were President Lyndon B. Johnson's order Oct. 31, 198, to stop the bombing of North Vietnam, President Nixon's order June 8 to withdraw 25,000 U.S. troops, and only last month a directive to reduce B52 Stratofortress missions in South Vietnam.

Despite this, Lodge continued, 130 regular North Vietnamese battalions and "tens of thousands of agents" continue to operate in South Vietnam. Until North Vietnam accepts the principle of mutual withdrawal, a settlement of the war in Vietnam is impossible, he declared.

Noting the presence of North Vietnamese regulars in South Vietnam, Lodge declared: "This is why it is impossible to achieve a negotiated settlement until the Democratic Republic of (North) Vietnam is willing to act on the principle that all non-South Vietnamese forces will leave South Vietnam."

Hanoi has never admitted the presence of its troops in the South. Mrs. Nguyen Thi Binh, head of the Viet Cong delegation, joined Thuy in rejecting the idea of any mutual withdrawal from South Vietnam.

Both said such a withdrawal

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Victory Costs

WASHINGTON (AP) — As part of the Republicans' successful presidential campaign last year they spent twice as much as the Democrats on television and radio campaigning.

The Federal Communications Commission said yesterday Republican expenditures were listed at $15.5 million for both primary and general election contests. The Democrats spent $10.9 million.

However, in presidential primaries, the Republicans spent $2.9 million to the Democrats' $4. 7million.

Highest Award

MOSCO W(AP) —The Soviet Union has given Gustav Husak, the Czechoslovak Communist Party head, the Order of Lenin — its highest award.

The award followed Husak's crackdown last week on Czechs who demonstrated against the USSR on the anniversary of the invasion of their country.

To Ditch Tradition

SAN CLEMENTE (AP)—David Eisenhower says he thinks he may do a hitch in the Navy when his college deferment expires next year.

Eisenhower, 21, is the husband of President Richard M. Nixon's daughter Julie and a grandson of the late Dwight D. Eisenhower. He said his grandfather had advised him to enter the Navy if he did not plan the family's Army tradition.

Young Eisenhower is in his senior year at Amherst College.

To Big Now

ROME (AP) — British actress Olivia Hussey, the teenager who sprang to film stardom in "Romeo and Juliet," has lost a leading role in the forthcoming movie "Red Hothsot" because she's a bigger girl now.

Director Piero Zuffi said she had been replaced by Czech actress Susanna Martinkova.

"It seems as if Miss Hussey let herself go a little in recent times and has slightly taken on some weight," Zuffi explained.

Invites Pope

TOKYO (AP) —The Japanese Foreign Ministry said today the government has invited Pope Paul IV to the 1970 World's Fair in Osaka but has not invited the pontiff to visit Hiroshima on the 25th anniversary of its atomic bombing.

A spokesman said the Pope was invited to the fair because invitations went to heads of all states sponsoring pavilions at the fair next summer. The spokesman said Japan has received no reply from the Vatican about the invitation.

To Keep Job

LUSAKA, Zambia (AP) — Vice President Simon Kapwepwe, who sparked a political and tribal crisis Monday by announcing his resignation, now says he has decided not to quit after all.

Kapwepwe told a news conference last night that he had changed his mind because Africans were protesting his resignation and "had threatened to start violence."

The 47-year-old vice president had said he was quitting because some members of the government did not recognize him as vice president, because of tribal discrimination and because he feared bloodshed if he stayed on.

Malaysia Mob

KUALA LUMPER, Malaysia (AP) — Riot police broke up a peaceful demonstration at the University of Malaya today by firing tear gas grenades at students demanding the ouster of Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman. At least one student was reported injured.

About 500 Malay students had conducted a short march carrying signs denouncing the Tunku and were sitting on the ground to hear speeches by student leaders when 70 red-helmeted policemen arrived in trucks.

The police began firing gas at the students. Most of the demonstrators ran into the building. They dispersed after Vice Chancellor Ungku Aziz went inside and pleaded for order.

War Lull Reflected In Casualty Counts

SAIGON (AP) — U.S., South Vietnamese and enemy casualties all dropped off last week as the enemy's fall offensive subsided somewhat, the U.S. Command announced today.

U.S. headquarters said 190 Americans were killed and 1,367 wounded, compared with 244 killed and 1,409 wounded the week before, when the enemy campaign opened with an upsurge of infantry, rocket and mortar attacks.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported 398 government troops killed last week and 928 wounded. The week before the report was 477 killed and 1,269 wounded.

The two commands said 2,757 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese were killed last week, compared with a revised total for the week before of 3,898.

A total of 38,128 Americans now have been reported killed in action in Vietnam since Jan. 1, 1961, while the total wounded has risen to 247,096.

The enemy campaign continued in low gear with six clashes reported and 29 enemy mortar and rocket attacks on towns and allied bases during the night.

The Saigon government announced that 18 militiamen were killed and 24 wounded in a battle yesterday in the Mekong Delta. One American adviser was also killed and one was wounded, but the government said 44 Viet Cong were killed.

Five other small clashes were reported north of Saigon, and allied forces claimed they killed 57 enemy. U.S. casualties were four killed and six wounded.

An Air Force F4 Phantom fighter-bomber was hit by enemy ground fire while on a bombing mission 100 miles southeast of Da Nang yesterday and crashed into the South China Sea. Both crewmen were rescued and reported in good condition.

Meanwhile today, Secretary of the Army Stanley R. Resor completed a week's tour of the war front with a news conference at which he said the U.S. program to strengthen the South Vietnamese armed forces is ahead of schedule and he is confident more American troops can be withdrawn from Vietnam. But he refused to say how many or when.

Also the U.S. Command reported that the withdrawal of 25,000 American troops announced by President Richard M. Nixon last June 8 was completed today.

Israel Urges World Help In Saving Mideast's Jews

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Israel's parliament called on all nations of the world today to help save the Jews of Iraq, Syria and Egypt "before it is too late." It also demanded an urgent United Nations investigation into the plight of Jews in Arab lands.

The Knesset was called out of summer recess for a special session to discuss the execution Monday of 15 alleged Iraqi spies, including two Jews. Nine other Jews were executed in Baghdad earlier this year.

The parliament unanimously approved a call to "all states and parliaments who uphold human rights, as well as to religious heads in the world, to take action without delay to save the Jews.

"Israel will not cease its efforts to save Jews in Arab lands."

Prime Minister Golda Meir accused the U.S. Human Rights Commission of "making a mockery of elementary rules of fairness" by failing to investigate the situation of Jews in Arab countries while conducting an investigation of alleged Israeli atrocities in occupied lands.

The 71-year-old prime minister then appealed to the United Nations and other world bodies to take "urgent action to save the Jewish communities in Arab countries, who are kept there as hostages and are virtually in prison."

As she spoke, about 50 Israelis of Iraqi origin assembled outside the Knesset building for a silent demonstration protesting the Iraqi executions.

In Beirut, Lebanon, King Hussein of Jordan said in a newspaper interview war with Israel was inevitable "and the possibility exists of an explosion at any time."

Meanwhile, little action was reported along the Jordanian front this morning but the Israeli army said its commandos struck deep in the Nile Valley last night for the fourth time in 10 months.

Cargo Works Well

DENVER (AP) — Muffled noises coming from a large cardboard box mystified workers at Stapleton International Airport. A police technician cautiously opened the box. It contained a shipment of 24 burglar alarms, two of which had been set off in transit.

Park Sees No End To U.S. Troops

SEOUL (AP) — President Chung Hee Park declared today that U.S. forces will have to remain in South Korea until the threat from all Communists in North Asia is eliminated.

He referred to the Soviet Union as well as Communist China and North Korea.

Park's interview with the Associated Press was his first since his talks with President Richard M. Nixon in San Francisco last week.

Asked when U.S. forces could be reduced or withdrawn, Park said he and Nixon had discussed the subject, and both recognized the threat from the North Koreans.

"The reason they are not executing their invasion plans," the president said, "is because the U.S. forces are in Korea. A withdrawal of U.S. forces is not foreseeable until the threat has been eliminated. And until then, the continued presence of U.S. forces will be required."

Park said South Korea probably would achieve economic self-sufficiency by the end of the third economic plan in 1976.

"Militarily, however," he said, "we are inferior in some aspects to North Korea. We have to improve our weapons and make them strong enough to deter the North Koreans. When that can be achieved is difficult to predict."

Park added that even if South Korea could withstand an offensive from North Korea, the U.S. presence would have to continue in the face of threats from the Soviet Union and Communist China.

"If the United States were not here," he said, "we would give the Communists an opportunity of renewing their invasion of 1950 . . .

"If Korea were communized, Japan would be the next target."

DEDICATION—Former President and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson listened as President Richard M. Nixon dedicated a redwood grove near Orick, in Humboldt County, yesterday. The plaque acknowledges Mrs. Johnson's service to preserving America's natural beauty. (UPI Telephoto)

Nixon Salutes Johnson, Lady Bird

ORICK (AP) — In the cathedral-like setting of a giant redwood grove President Richard M. Nixon had dedicated to her, Lady Bird Johnson reminded Americans that "conservation is indeed a bipartisan business."

"All of us have the same stake in this magnificent continent—the same love for it and the same feeling that it is going to belong to our children and grandchildren," the former first lady said yesterday, "and the same opportunity to work in our time to see that it stays glorious."

It was the climax of a day in which Nixon saluted former President Lyndon B. Johnson's wife for her conservation and beautification efforts in five years as first lady. They also celebrated Johnson's 61st birthday with cake and serenades of "Happy Birthday."

The Nixon and Johnson families traveled by plane and helicopter 670 miles from San Clemente to this remote Northern California coastal area.

Signing with six pens, Nixon, with a flourish, gave the first pen to Mrs. Johnson, the second to her husband and reserved the rest for the Johnsons' two daughters and sons-in-law.

At San Clemente, the Nixons had rolled up in golf carts to greet the Johnsons at the Western White House. Mrs. Nixon presented a big bouquet of yellow roses and orchids to Mrs. Johnson. An eight-piece sombreroed Mexican band from Nixon's favorite nearby Mexican restaurant launched the "Happy Birthday" serenades with the Nixons joining in.

Nixon and Johnson talked politics and policy for more than an hour, then joined their families for an informal luncheon at the Nixon's oceanfront home.

At the redwoods ceremonies, Johnson noted that one thing both he and Nixon most want to announce "would be peace among men throughout this world."

Johnson had one nostalgic comment: "Presidents are lonely people and the only ones they're sure of all the time are their womenfolk."

Mystery Woman Rules A Tribe

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) — Officials struggling to promote a government community development program have made a breakthrough to a mystery chieftainess who rules 20,000 tribesmen from a remote hilltop kraal (small village).

Chieftainess Charewa, an elderly woman who is Rhodesia's only chieftainess and never leaves her kraal in the Mtoko-Mrewa district, has agreed to the formation of a community board among the Charewa people. A dispensary and a school are the first projects planned, with dams, halls and clinics likely to follow.

Strict taboos are observed when the chieftainess has one of her rare meetings with government officials. Nothing metal or colored red is allowed in her presence and she may not be photographed.

Passenger Is Treated For Wreck Injuries

Mary Lou Brouilland, 22, of 122 Highland Lane, Mill Valley, was treated at Marin General Hospital last night for neck and back strain suffered in a four-car accident near the south end of the Golden Gate Bridge.

She was a passenger in a car driven by Francis Fargo Gregory, 39, same address, the California Highway Patrol reported. The patrol said Gregory's car was struck in the rear by one driven by Elva Jensen Montgomery, 59, of San Francisco, pushing it into one in front, driven by Nancy Christina Hedlund, 22, of a 4 Marin Avenue, Sausalito.

Miss Hedlund's car in turn was pushed into the rear of one driven by John Hillman Curtin, 25, of San Francisco, the patrol said.

Miss Hedlund also was injured slightly in the accident at 10:30 p.m. and went to her own physician.

Community Needs And The Hospital

NEW YORK (UPI)—If the modern hospital is to keep pace with community needs it must create a concept of "individual outpatient service," according to Monsignor James H. Fitzpatrick, president of the Catholic Medical Center of Brooklyn and Queens.

Long lines of clinic patients who must wait sometimes for hours before seeing a doctor are "incompatiable with a hospital's obligation to the preservation of human dignity," Msgr. Fitzpatrick said.

"Even though the quality of care available in many clinics is equal to or better than that received by private patients, the manner in which it is delivered must be upgraded," he said.

British Accidents Cost $1.2 Billion

LONDON (AP) — Industrial and road accidents cost Britain 500 million pounds ($1.2 billion) a year — or 10,000 pounds ($24,000) a minute, according to latest figures.

"Five million working days are lost each year through industrial disputes, but we lose 24 million days as a result of accidents," said former attorney-general Lord Shawcross.

He was launching a 250,000 pound ($600,000) appeal to aid research by a medical commission on accident prevention during the next 10 years.

REDWOOD MEMENTOES PRESENTED

Johnson's was inscribed "Happy Birthday" and Nixon's had his name and the date. The gavels were from the Eureka Chamber of Commerce.

Rep. Don Clausen, R-Calif., who presented the gifts, said the citizens of Humboldt County also gave Nixon a redwood burl with a barometer inset.

Nixon also received some Indian heads from the Hoopa Tribal Council. The Hoopa Indians live in the Hoopa Valley, about 40 miles inland from the dedication site.

Veteran's Lettuce

FRANKFORT, Ky. (UPI)—Maj. John Bibb, a veteran of the War of 1812 and an enthusiastic gardener, developed Bibb lettuce about 1870 at his home here on Petticoat Lane. Bibb was in his 80s at the time and lived to be 95.

Longshoremen Win Ship Packing Rights

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — West Coast longshoremen would pack almost all containers headed for ships under an agreement announced yesterday by union and employer officials.

At issue was whether members of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union or the Teamsters Union would handle the containerized shipments.

The ILWU and the Pacific Maritime Association, which represents shipping firms, said the agreement had been reached after nine months of negotiation and needs ratification by the West Coast's 16,000 longshoremen and clerks.

Under the agreement, longshore union members would pack containers at shore-based stations before they are taken to piers and loaded aboard ships. They also would unload such containers at their destinations.

Teamsters are picketing piers in Oakland and Los Angeles to back their demands that the packing be done by members of their union.

A provision in the agreement commits employers to take as much of the container packing work as possible to waterfront stations by 1971.

At present much container packing is done inland.

If employers have a contract calling for Teamsters to handle such work, such cargoes will not be brought to waterfront stations until that pact expires, the agreement said.

Men in the packing station are to be paid $34.40 a day compared to the $36.72 earned on the piers, the agreement added.

Included in the agreement is a provision that work will not be moved to the packing stations if the ILWU and the Teamsters reach an understanding on splitting the work. The two unions have been arguing over that for months.

LAW IN ACTION

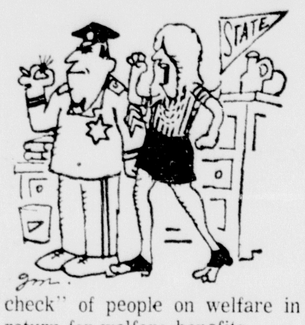
Privacy Rights In Dormitories



A public university's tax-supported dormitory has advantages. But students there may also yield some of their rights to privacy.

Recently an officer heard that he could find marijuana on a certain campus. With the dean of women he entered and searched Mary Ann's room. They found "grass" there. Saying no offense had been committed in the agent's presence, she claimed he had no "probable cause" to search her room.

But at her trial the court said the search was valid. The Fourth Amendment protection did not apply since the school officers had a right to inspect. Had this been her own home or her car, the search would have been invalid.

College discipline, said the court, does not have all the protections of a court proceeding.

Further, the Fourth Amendment does not forbid reasonable searches by someone charged with keeping discipline there. Students waive objection to inspection of their quarters by house mothers and school officials.

Police may search a high school student's locker without a warrant if a school official goes with them, since school people have legal power to keep discipline and to protect the school's interests.

Anyone can freely give consent to searches of his home or person. Force, or great power, may invalidate such "consent." For example, courts have held it invalid to require a "bed check" of people on welfare in return for welfare benefits.

Students in a public school may also be governed by a legal rule of "special necessities." Inspectors have greater right to search without a warrant where someone runs a special kind of business, is subject to special government rules or to needs of health or safety protections.

would place the "aggressor" on the same level as the "victims of aggression" and would allow the United States to perpetuate its "neocolonialist domination" of the Saigon government.

Lodge described their demand that all U.S. troops pull out unconditionally as "unreasonable, illogical and unacceptable."

Lodge said Nixon had decided to postpone a decision on further troop withdrawals "until we can further evaluate your recent military activity, in particular the recent wave of attacks, and examine potential activity in the future." Lodge had just returned from a conference with Nixon.

Using almost identical terms, Thuy and Mrs. Binh denounced the new South Vietnamese premier, Gen. Tran Thien Khiem, as a "bloodthirsty puppet guilty of many crimes against the people."

At the end of the meeting, Thuy told newsmen: "There was no progress due to the fact that the United States maintains its obstinate attitude on the troops question."

Lodge said: "The other side does not show the least interest in negotiating. The only news today was that we agreed to meet again next week."

Texas Declares War On Rodents

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—The State Health Department is sponsoring urban rat control courses—half lecture and half field work.

Officials said the six-day sessions across the state are an effort to combat an alarming increase in rats and mice.

State workers estimate more than 1,000 Texans, mainly infants and toddlers, are bitten by rodents each year. And rats are believed to cause 5 to 25 per cent of all fires of "unknown origin" by gnawing insulation off electric wires.

Radio Boom In India

NEW DELHI (UPI) — The number of radio sets in India has increased 33 times since 1947. At the beginning of 1969, there were 920,000 sets with a total revenue from licenses of $16 million.

Gate Board Seeks New Area Name

A longer name for the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District was recommended unanimously today by the district's legislation and public relations committee.

The committee recommended that the words "and Transit" be added. Its recommendation will go before the full board at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow.

The change was proposed by director Lowell Edington of Napa County, who said the district's name should "fall in line with our new responsibility" under a law signed by the governor. The new law empowers the district to operate all forms of transit.

tive material are being delivered to the factories in spite of complaints. He listed two instances where out of 30 carloads of feldspar, 19 were defective, and out of 35 carloads of fireclay, 24 were found to be of poor quality.

Petrov made the astounding claim at that in the entire Russian Federation (130 million people and 10 million square miles) there is only one factory making decent porcelain.

Heirs Claiming Rhodesia Estate

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) — Four Rhodesians are claiming a share in the 60-million Rhodesian pound ($168 million) fortune of a South African adventurer who struck oil in Venezuela and died more than 40 years ago.

They are descendants of Bernard Webber, whose daughter was disinherited becasue she married against his wishes and whose only son was drowned at sea. To prevent his daughter and her children from benefitting from his money, he specified in his will that his wealth be divided equally among members of the third and fourth generations of his family.

A recent search found 24 descendants, but so far only four have lodged claims.

Berkeley Leader In Foremost Scientists

BERKELEY (UPI) — Five University of California scientists have been elected to the National Academy of Sciences. This brings the UC membership up to 110, far ahead of any comparable institution.

Election to the academy, established in 1863, is one of the highest honors accorded an American scientist or engineer. Membership is granted in recognition of distinguished and continuing achievements in original research.

be meaningful for public release."

He explained that specific infiltration figures, which are gleaned from aerial observation, agent reports and sensor signals, are subject to considerable refinement as time passes.

Friedheim said the 100,000 could be off either way by "some thousands."

While Friedheim said he saw "no significant difference of opinion" between the Pentagon and the State Department assessments, the fact remained that the Pentagon was maintaining that the enemy is "substantially replacing" his losses under the reduced infiltration while the State Department was saying that "they are not replacing all their casualties."

In addition to the 93,000-plus enemy killed the first half of this year, the Pentagon listed another 10,237 killed in July, for a total of 103,890.

This compares with 119,000 enemy killed during the first six months of 1968 when a total of 81,000 enemy combat dead were reported for the year.

The Pentagon estimated all enemy killed, captured or wounded in 1968 at 250,000, or equal to the number it estimates infiltrated into South Vietnam last year.

Castro Crowing About Victory In Tournament

MIAMI (AP) — An exultant Fidel Castro is crowing over the airways that the United States conquered the moon but couldn't handle his Cuban amateur baseball players.

Castro spoke at a welcome ceremony for the Cuban baseball team returning from the Dominican Republic after beating the United States 2-1 for the amateur championship.

In a radio interview monitored in Miami yesterday, Castro attributed the victory to what he described as "sport without mercantilism."

Explosion Rocks Bank Of Greece

ATHENS (AP) — An explosion rocked the main office of the Commercial Bank of Greece today shortly after warning phone calls to news agencies from persons identifying themselves as members of the anti-government group called Akritas.

The explosion caused little damage and no injuries were reported.

This was the second time that Akritas has claimed credit for setting off explosions. A bomb went off five days ago in the office of Esso-Pappas Oil Co., causing considerable damage to furniture but no one was in-

Navy Closes Tijuana To Gls

SAN DIEGO (AP) — The Navy ordered the Mexican border city of Tijuana off limits today to the 150,000 military men and women based in Southern California because of exposure to narcotics.

A 30-day limit was set starting about Sept. 15.

The action was taken by the 11th Naval District at the request of Adm. Thomas Moorer, chief of naval operations, a Navy spokesman said. The 11th district supervises all military personnel, including Army and Air Force, "in cases like this," the spokesman said.

Schools Open Under Protection Of Police

NEW IBERIA, La. (AP) — Schools opened under police protection here today but only half the students attended classes at a newly integrated high school following a clash yesterday between rock-throwing Negro students and police.

Police clamped an 8 p.m. to 5 a.m. curfew on the city following the outbreak in which they used tear gas to break up a Negro student demonstration and arrested seven Negroes on charges of disturbing the peace.

OBITUARIES

Victor M. Lamperti Dies At 32

Victor M. Lamperti, 32, a former resident of San Rafael, died last night in a San Francisco hospital after an illness of 18 months.

A native of San Francisco, Lamperti grew up in San Rafael. He was a graduate of San Rafael High School and attended the College of Marin.

He moved to Clear Lake Oaks Lake County, about seven years ago, and was a plumbing contactor there. He was a member of the Elks Lodge.

Survivors are his wife, Brenda Lamperti, a daughter, Tami Lamperti; a son, Tony Lamperti, all of the home in Clear Lake Oaks; a sister, Dorothy Werner, and a brother, Albert Lamperti, both of San Rafael.

A formal Army investigation into the case ended Aug. 21. The head of the investigation board, Col. Harold Seaman, Hampton, Va., is studying transcripts and evidence presented in the case.

Ironically, as his replacement was being announced, Lemberes appeared on an Armed Forces television program and spoke of the good work done by the Green Berets in civic action programs in Vietnam.

The program, obviously taped well before the Army announcement, apparently was an effort to refurbish the Green Beret image tarnished by the arrests of Rheault and his seven comrades.

Wounded Man Charged In Fraud

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — A Mill Valley man who was shot in the back last Friday as he fled from a policeman after allegedly trying to buy phonograph records with a stolen credit card has been charged with possession of stolen property.

Jose Reed, 24, a janitor, was arrested after a store clerk called police. Police said Reed tried to break away while waiting for a paddy wagon and the patrolman fired at his legs, but hit his back instead.

Drugged Man Dives To Death

CHICO (UPI)—A nude young man, believed under the influence of drugs, dove off a 200-foot cliff to his death near here early today as two friends watched.

Sheriff's deputies said the youth, whose name was withheld pending notification of kin, drove to the cliff six miles north of Chico with two young men to watch the sunrise.

Shoplift Citation

A 14-year-old San Anselmo girl was cited for shoplifting by San Rafael police yesterday after a security guard at Macy's reported she had taken three hair ornaments and a bottle of breath drops, worth less than $6.

IN MEMORIAM

RAFFO, JOSEPH (JOE) — In loving memory of a dear husband and father JOSEPH (JOE) RAFFO, who passed away five years ago today, August 28th.

In our hearts your memory lingers
Tender, fond and true.
There is not a day, dear Joe,
That we do not think of you.
Memories never die, as days and years go by.
Surrounded by friends, we're lonesome,
In the midst of our joy we're blue.
With a smile on your face, we've a heartache,
Longing, dear Joe, for you

MOUNT TAMALPAIS CEMETERY

Quiet Beauty

for families of every faith

Ninety years ago, Marin pioneers set aside this lovely site as a final resting place for all faiths.

Since then, Mount Tamalpais has developed facilities to meet each family's preference. Here are lovely gardens, the Angeles Garden or Memory Chapel mausoleums for above-ground burial, Marin's modern new crematorium, and the Chapel of Light Columbarium.

If you haven't visited Mount Tamalpais, you are invited to see the beauty of its typically Marin setting. Our staff will be glad to answer your questions.

DR. W. JAMES DAWSON
Resigns council post

Dr. Dawson Quits Ross Council Job

Dr. W. James Dawson, a member of the Ross Town Council since July 27, 1967, resigned last night for personal reasons.

Dawson, 39, was appointed to the board in 1967 and elected in April last year to a four-year term.

After submitting his resignation, Dawson mentioned the desire to spend more time with his children. He is an othodontist in San Rafael and teaches at the University of California Medical Center in San Francisco.

Councilmen passed a resolution in appreciation of his service, particularly in city finances, and called for applicants for the post.

Mayor Frederick C. Allen reported that the council will appoint a successor at its Sept. 11 meeting. Anyone who wishes to be considered for the council post should submit an application to the city clerk by Sept. 10, he said.

Mayor Allen said those who applied in April when a council post was open will not have to re-submit applications, since they have been interviewed, and their applications are in.

Dawson is the second council member to resign this year.

Jack Carney, television personality, resigned in April because "pressing business interests" made it impossible for him to attend council sessions. Attorney Ralph C. Walker was appointed to succeed Carney.

Juvenile Court Refuses Visitor

The case of Vicki Jean Wood, an 18-year-old girl who said she was visiting in Marin from the state of Washington when arrested on a burglary charge Aug. 11, has been refused by juvenile court.

A preliminary hearing was set yesterday for Sept. 30 in Municipal Court.

Ross Approves First Unit Flood Project

Ross Town Council last night approved plans for the first portion of the Corte Madera Creek flood control project to be constructed, from the southern town line to about 700 feet south of the Lagunitas Road bridge. (Another Ross Town Council story, page 1.)

Frost said the resolution calling for town approval of details and final plans "gives you another chance for revocation."

Councilman Roy Farrington Jones said the town's rights were set in its original agreement to join the flood control zone.

Frost contended the wording of the council's resolution was so broad that the town could hold up the project on details.

Councilman Natalie G. Lewis pointed out that the council has a moral commitment to town residents to retain its rights.

Charles E. Murphy, flood control zone engineer, said the town and the zone possibly could come to an impasse on a minor item, such as the type of fence covering or the color or texture of the concrete.

Mayor Frederick C. Allen said he it wouldn't be right for the council to "waive approval of the remainder of plans it hasn't seen yet."

Frost said he wasn't asking the town to waive its right to review and comment on detailed plans, but was concerned about the "broadness" of the resolution calling for final approval.

"If the board of supervisors doesn't like it, it's going to be their problem, not ours," said Allen.

Councilmen passed the resolution by a 4-0 vote and forwarded it to county supervisors. Councilman Ralph C. Walker was absent.

Councilmen approved the construction plans as recommended by the Ross Flood Control Advisory Board.

As recommended, the concrete channel would be 33 feet wide with a five-foot walkway along each side all and a fence atop each wall.

Access to the project through the Ross Post Office parking lot would be limited to vehicles under five tons.

Construction rights-of-way cannot be used for storage or staging areas.

Where the new channel will deviate from the existing creek, the old creek bed is to be preserved and provided with drainage.

Growth along the northeast bank of the existing Corte Madera Creek, the Sir Francis Drake Boulevard side, won't be cleared except for three access openings.

The southerly part of a line of acacia trees along the former Northwestern Pacific Railroad track will be preserved, as well as a line of cypress trees and two walnut trees.

Several residents asked if right-of-way easements across private property could be used for various purposes, including planting.

Frost said he expected that any use that didn't impair the function maintenance of the flood control channel would be permitted.

Lygren reported that during the construction period there would be a temporary structure to carry water from the old channel to the new channel during the rainy season.

Peacock Gap Boys Arraigned

Two Peacock Gap youths were arraigned Tuesday in Marin Municipal Court on charges of possessing marijuana and their cases were referred to the probation department for possible transferral to Juvenile Court.

Robert Dudley Deane, 18, of 235 Riviera Drive, and Eugene Fredrick Schenk, 19, of 231 Riviera Drive, were told to return to court Sept. 10.

They were arrested Saturday after police broke up a noisy party near Peacock Gap Country Club.

Banquet Planned To Honor Deputy

Sgt. Guy V. "Mike" Gibbs, of San Rafael, who retired last month after 18 years with the Marin County Sheriff's Department, will be honored Saturday at a banquet at Holiday Inn in San Rafael.

Inspector Bowen Bridges, chairman, said that a cocktail hour will start at 6:30 p.m. and dinner will be served at 7:30 p.m.

Tickets are available from members of the Marin County Deputy Sheriff's Association, which is sponsoring the event.

Design Meet Changed

The San Anselmo Design Review board canceled its meeting scheduled for last night for lack of a quorum and will meet at 8 p.m. Sept. 10 at city hall.

Bagley Can's See State Phone Book

SACRAMENTO (AP) — "Any time we try something new we get some people stirred up," the state's communications chief said of a letter from a stirred up taxpayer — who happens to be an assemblyman.

A. H. Carver, chief of the communications division of the State General Services Department, was joking about the heat generated by the tiny type in one section of the new state telephone directory.

Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, sent Carver a letter saying, "Our offices in Sacramento and San Rafael have just received a dozen or so new directories — all of which have promptly been thrown in the wastepaper basket."

Bagley said he would keep using the April edition rather than "the ridiculously illegible October rendition."

The new book is noticeably different from the earlier edition because it's skinnier.

The difference is in the final section, the yellow pages listing each agency of state government and key individuals. By using type even smaller than that found in the classified section of a daily newspaper, the telephone book planners trimmed that section from 261 pages to 67.

Carver referred questions to his boss, A. Earl Davis, deputy director of the department, who explained this phone book is the first step in a switch away from letterpress printing, in which each line of type is individually cast, then the single lines are put into page forms, from which the page is printed.

But in photocomposition, sophisticated equipment is used to turn out a page of copy in the form of a photographis negative, from which an offset printing plate is made.

Big Property Tax Hike Seen

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Figures presented by controller Nathan Cooper indicated today that the San Francisco property tax rate for fiscal 1970 will be about $12.30 per $100 assessed valuation, an increase of $2.07.

In a report to the board of supervisors yesterday, Cooper recommended a tax rate of $11.685, but that did not include the 61.6-cent tax which the Bay Area Rapid Transit District is expected to levy.

The $10.23 rate for last year included a 49.8 levy by BART.

A homeowner with a $30,000 house would pay a tax of $867.15 or almost $100 more than last year.

LICENSE TIME AGAIN FOR MARIN DOGS

Marin dog owners have through Tuesday to obtain new licenses for their animals.

Applications must either be postmarked by midnight Tuesday, or presented in person by 5 p.m. at either a city hall, the tax collector's office in the county administration building or at the county pound.

Licenses cost $5, up $1 over last year, except in Ross, Tiburon and Belvedere, where the charge remains $4. Spayed females, which last year cost $4 to license, will cost $2.50 this year.

A current rabies certificate must be presented.

Licenses are required for dogs over four months old.

Young Bike Rider Struck By Auto

Brian C. Miles, 8, of 8 Hollyhock Court, Mill Valley, was treated yesterday at Marin General Hospital for multiple scrapes after he was hit by a car while riding a bicycle in Mill Valley.

Police said young Miles was hit at 6:39 p.m. when he and a car driven by Robert H. Grady, 51, of 28 Vasco Drive, Mill Valley, entered the intersection of Hollyhock Court and Vasco Drive at the same time, failing to see each other until it was too late to avoid a collision.

Tar Physicals Set

College of Marin football candidates will receive uniforms and physicals at the College of Marin gymnasium in Kentfield tonight and tomorrow night from 6:30 to 9:30.

Z'berg Asks Special Session On Bagley Business Tax

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—There was little chance today that Gov. Ronald Reagan would call a special legislative session to correct what Assemblyman Edwin L. Z'berg, D-Sacramento, said was a $2.8 million "serious error" in a bill lowering the business inventory tax.

An aide to the vacationing governor said Reagan had "no plans" to call a special session concurrent with the week-long veto session that begins Sept. 8.

Z'berg said 36 counties stood to lose $2.8 million in 1969-70 and $5.6 million in 1970-71 because of the bill authored by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael.

The measure doubles the exemption from the business inventory tax from 15 to 30 per cent. It provides reimbursement to counties for revenue lost through the doubled exemption. Reagan has not yet indicated when he will sign the bill.

Z'berg said some counties would not receive the full reimbursement. But Bagley, chairman of the Assembly Revenue and Taxation Committee, disputed Z'berg's figures.

"If there is any loss at all it will be slight and certainly will not cost 36 counties major revenue losses," Bagley said. He said there would be plenty of time to correct any errors in the bill when the Legislature convenes in January for its 1970 session.

Litter Statistics

NEW YORK (UPI)—Sex and age have a strong bearing on whether a person is a litterburg, according to Keep America Beautiful, Inc. The national anti-litter group says men litter nearly twice as much as women and people between 20 and 35 litter twice as much as those between 35 and 50.

SPCA Cleared Of Illegalities In Pound Operation

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Dist. Atty. John Jay Ferdon on yesterday cleared the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals of any illegality in the operation of its pound.

His letter was prompted by a request from the board of supervisors after pound employees had testified before the board that animals were treated cruelly and some had been destroyed before the legal time limits.

Ferdon said records did not bear that out and inspection of the pound showed it to be in proper order.

Employees had asserted animals were destroyed because of a strike they had threatened in an effort to gain union recognition.

Since then the SPCA has told the city it intends to close the pound it has been operating with some financial help from the city.

Rec Panel Seeking Stiff Park Ordinance

Corte Madera needs an ordinance like Marin County's to regulate conduct on public property, the Corte Madera Park and Recreation Commission decided last night.

The commission asked the town council to pass an ordinance like the county's adding restrictions now posted at the Town Park.

The Town Park regulations ban golfing, motor vehicles and model airplanes from the park. The county ordinance makes it a misdemeanor to "sleep or protractedly lounge" in public areas so as to obstruct pedestrians. It also bans such misconduct as carving benches, damaging plants, building structures and removing plants, soil or sand from public areas.

The commission took no action on another proposed ordinance which would ban "loud and unnecessary noises."

After receiving the resignation of recreation director Robert C. Bundy, the commission asked the council to name a full-time director as soon as possible to maintain continuity with present and planned recreation programs.

Bundy, administrative assistant for the City of Larkspur, was Corte Madera's recreation director on a contract basis. He has taken a job as tdministrative assistant in Merced.

The Corte Madera Park and Recreation Commission also:

SIGN ORDINANCE — Opposed liberalization of the town sign ordinance and sent notice of its opposition to the planning commission for its Sept. 4 hearing on the ordinance.

SIGN Was told Boy Scout Troop 42 will refurbish the entrance sign to Madera Gardens as a civic project.

SUMMER — Heard a report on the summer recreation program and ordered copies sent to town councilmen.

FACILITIES — Heard three residents tell of the need for recreational facilities east of Highway 101. The residents said they will circulate petitions to get citizens' opinions. If enough interest is shown, the commission said, town staff will investigate availability of recreation sites.

Marinite Is Injured In Fatal Crash

Sally Goan, 16, of 1068-F Los Gamos Road, reportedly suffered possible back injuries and first and second degree burns on her right arm and right leg. Her father, Rep. William Goan of Billings, was killed when his plane crashed in a canyon in the Pryor Mountains as they flew toward Billings from a motion picture location.

Miss Goan and Binkley were rescued from the crash site early yesterday by helicopter. The crash set a timber fire which burned two acres on federal Bureau of Land Management land.

Goan was president of a Billings bottling firm, and a four-term member of the Montana legislature. Mrs. Goan and the couple's daughter moved to Marin seven years ago after the couple was divorced.

Mrs. Goan works at Kaiser Foundation Hospital in San Rafael and Sally will be a junior this fall at Terra Linda High School.

'Soul Survival' Set Again At Center

The Black Arts drama group production of "Soul Survival" will be presented at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow, Sunday and Monday at the Manzanita Center in Marin City as originally planned.

Plans to move the production to a Marin City church, announced yesterday in the Independent-Journal, have been canceled, according to a spokesman for the Marin County YWCA, which is co-sponsoring the production with United Bay Area Crusade.

Attempt To Buy Opium Denied

A story in Tuesday's Independent-Journal erroneously attributed to San Anselmo police a report that two San Anselmo youths claimed to have been robbed Sunday of $65 by three young men after seeking to buy opium from the trio.

Allegations of an attempt to purchase opium were made, not by the boys, but by one of the three arrested on suspicion of robbery, John S. Iacono, 19, of Greenbrae. He and his companions, Stephen John Pappas, 19, of San Francisco and Reade Collins Backer, 18, of Ross, were released Monday pending further investigation of the matter.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Gary T. Ragghianti said yesterday that the San Anselmo boys vehemently denied having approached Iacono, Pappas and Backer to purchase opium.

BROWN ACT COPIES TO ALL CITY COUNCILS

Copies of the Ralph M. Brown Act governing agendas of closed meetings and public announcement of special meetings were mailed yesterday to all city councils in Marin by Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales.

The district attorney included copies for every councilman in Marin and suggested that any questions about the Brown Act be directed either to his office or to city attorneys.

The mailing followed an unannounced closed meeting of the Sausalito City Council July 3, subsequently investigated by the district attorney's office for possible violation of the law.

No action was taken when the city administration said it had never received from any newspaper, radio or television station the written request for notification of meetings, required under the Brown Act.

Many Ethnic Groups In State Of Texas

German, Czech or Polish can be heard in various parts of the state, and Spanish is the sole language of many residents. Mexican-Americans represent 15.1 per cent of the state's 11 million people. They are largely concentrated along the border in south and west Texas.

Convicted Killer Granted A Stay

Tony M. Lara, 22, convicted killer scheduled to die in San Quentin's gas chamber next Wednesday, received a stay of execution yesterday from the California Supreme Court.

Lara filed for a writ of habeas corpus alleging he had no opportunity to cross-examine his co-defendant in the execution type slaying of Raymond Mitchell, 17, whose body was found in a dump in Wilmington, Los Angeles County, May 23, 1965.

He also said jurors were excused automatically for opposing the death penalty, a procedure since declared illegal by the U. S. Supreme Court.

Lara's codefendant, Raymond M. Alvarez, received a sentence of life imprisonment for his part in the slaying.

Zoo Animals' Names Come In Odd Ways

Mostly from zoo people, according to the Central Park Zoo.

Bill, a newbornaoudad, was named for a Parks Department executive, who prefers not to be identified.

Visitors sometimes are honored. Charlie, the tiger, is named for a man who visited the zoo every weekend for 15 years.

A new baby rhesus monkey is named Ashley because it was born on Ash Wednesday. Ashley's mother is so protective that zoo keepers have been unable to examine the baby to determine its sex.

Reefer Fleet For Aussie Crop

MELBOURNE (AP) — A fleet of more than 50 refrigerated ships has been assembled by the Australia to Europe Shipping Conference to transport this season's Australian apple and pear exports.

The ships have been drawn from West Germany, Norway, Denmark, the United Kingdom and Israel.

The season's crops are estimated at seven million bushels and will be moved in container ships for the first time.

Support For Bridge Bus System

The Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District should promptly implement the Marin County Transit District's proposed bus system, the Marin Council for Civic Affairs' board of directors urged last night.

The transit district has adopted plans for a 132-bus system costing about $6.9 million, and handed the plan over to the bridge district—which has both the money to set it up and meet its anticipated annual deficit of $1 million.

The bridge district, council directors agreed in their meeting at the Civic Center, "is the agency in the best position to operate the system."

The directors also urged that the bridge district "carry out a program of water transportation."

In another matter, they recommended that the Marin County Housing Authority hold its meetings outside Marin City occasionally to make it easier for citizens throughout the county to attend.

D.J. Satisfactory After Losing Leg

Doctors at Swedish Hospital said the KSFO radio personality was "doing fine" following the surgery.

Sorkin's accident occurred on a rural Marin County road as he was returning to Oakland. His vehicle went out of control and crashed through a fence.

Minor Injuries

Ronald Ray Bolton, 35, of Redwood City, sustained minor injuries at 4:15 a.m. today when his car hit the center divider at the south end of the Highway 101 viaduct in San Rafael, the California Highway Patrol said. He did not require hospital care, according to the patrol.

Friends Of Illegal Airport Call Facility An Economic Necessity

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

A new county crackdown on the illegal airport on the Smith Brothers Ranch yesterday brought an outpouring of testimonials from pilots that it was necessary to the economic health of Marin County.

An airport has operated in the area at least since 1925, County Zoning Administrator Thomas E. Cordill was told at the two-hour hearing at the Civic Center on a use permit asked by the DSI Corp. to continue operating the airport.

But Cordill, noting the airport never had the legal approval of the county, ruled that the corporation, which leases the field, had "no vested rights in the current activities." Thus, he will weigh the application "as though the ground were vacant, and as a new use," Cordill said.

He indicated he expected to make his decision by the middle of next week, adding it could be appealed to the county planning commission and the board of supervisors.

Cordill also noted the airport is within a proposed annexation to the City of San Rafael, and that the county's action on the application would be void if the airport came into the city. However, Deputy County Counsel Thomas G. Hendricks recently said that the city has no provision for airports in its zoning ordinance.

The application for the use permit came after Hendricks said the airport would face abatement action if it continued without a permit.

Favoring the application were 27 speakers, the Marin County Aviation Commission and several letter writers, including the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce.

Opposed were one letter writer, who complained of noise from airplanes, one Gallinas Village resident, and the deputy commander of the 78th Fighter Wing at Hamilton Air Force Base, Lt. Col. Donald F. Rhodes. He wrote that air traffic from the airport "creates a significant hazard" to military traffic at Hamilton.

But the applicant's representative, Ben Ostlind, said the corporation had worked out an agreement on separating air traffic from the two fields since Rhodes wrote his letter. Cordill said he would discuss this with Air Force officials.

John C. Hau of the county planning department reported that no building permits had ever been issued by the county for any of the structures at the airport, including one built there in the past two years. He noted that DeYoung's application for a use permit had been denied previously in 1959 by the supervisors.

Ostlind said the closing of the airport would force most of the planes to relocate outside of the county because Gnoss Field, north of Novato, did not have room for them. He added that the planes brought $5,330 in property taxes and other revenue from gas sales to the county this year.

He also said there were fewer problems with crosswinds and fog at the ranch airport than at Gnoss Field.

J. Massberg of San Anselmo termed the airport "the finest close-in facility in the whole Bay Area."

A hearing on a use permit for a drive-through restaurant at the intersection of Ignacio Boulevard and Entrada Drive, Ignacio, was postponed to 9:30 a.m. Sept. 10 in the Civic Center.

Thalidomide Proving Good Leprosy Drug

CARVILLE, La. (AP) — Thalidomide, the drug that fell into disrepute because it caused deformities in infants, is proving to be effective in preventing the crippling effects of leprosy.

Doctors at the U.S. Public Health Service Hospital here are using thalidomide in severe cases of leprosy with the permission of the Food and Drug Administration.

They report "very successful results" in halting or arresting extreme reactions over prolonged periods of time, unless alleviated, cause nerve damage and led to crippling, deformity or paralysis.

The drug is being used experimentally, but Dr. John R. Trautman, hospital director, and Dr. Carl D. Enna, chief of the hospital's clinical branch, are sold on the drug to combat leprosy.

"If we had sufficient quantities, we probably would use it n more cases," Dr. Traumman said.

The drug has been tried with 22 patients under experimental conditions in which the patients did not know whether they were receiving the drug or a placebo. The patients volunteered to be treated with thalidomide.

Evidence from other countries that the drug, despite its bad reputation, was useful in halting leprosy reactions, prompted the doctors to use it.

The doctors realize that the worldwide reaction to thalidomide will make widespread use difficult. The deformities it caused led to a ban on the drug in the United States.

"We shouldn't let something like this throw out a medicine completely," Dr. Enna said.

The drug is used to combat reactions from the most severe type of the disease-lepromatous leprosy. Many patients here suffer from this form of the disease.

The doctors use the drug only on male patients. However, they feel that continuing research could lead to its use by women patients, provided it is under controlled conditions.

Their experiments are "double blind." One proup of patients is given a placebo, the other thalidomide. Only Dr. Enna knew which patient was getting the drug.

San Anselmo Seeks Stalls For Parking

Existing apartment buildings in San Anselmo may be required to install off-street parking at some future date a city study committee said last night.

The city council's streets and traffic committee discussed off-street parking problems and offered two tentative proposals City Engineer Charles R. Leitzell reported.

One would require off-street parking for existing multi-family dwellings with a resonable time allowed for installation.

The otheer would encourage installation of off-street parking at existing one-family houses but parking would not be mandatory. An ordinance might set up automatic granting of variances for installation of parking decks on hillside homes the committee suggested.

The committee expects to have towo more work sessions before presenting recommendations to the city council Leitzell said and set its next meeting for 8 p.m. Sept. 8 at the administration office of San Francisco Theological Seminary.

Courts Next Stop In Negro Job Demands

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The national labor director of a civil rights organization said today his group will file "several suits" to stop all construction being funded with public money to back up demands that more Negroes be admitted to craft unions.

"We are not going to allow billions of dollars of federal, state and municipal funds to be used to subsidize racial discrimination in the construction industry," said Herbert Hill, national labor director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Hill said the NAACP would file next week the first of several suits in U.S. District Court across the nation to stop the expenditure of funds "on projects where Negro workers are barred from getting a fair share of jobs by the building and trades unions."

"Not a single public building has been constructed that has not been in direct violation of antidiscrimination statutes and federal executive orders," Hill said at a news conference in Pittsburgh council chambers at the City-County Building.

While he commented, about 250 construction workers unhappy with an order to stay off the job for two work days marched around the building, carrying signs and chanting.

Hill said, "Federal, city and state officials are violating law and order by continuing to subsidize racial discrimination. Black workers are going to close down every public construction site in the U.S. either by demonstrations or court action.

"We are not going to permit union bigots to decide who is qualified to work," he said. "Only an employer is qualified to decide who is competent."

The demonstration by the construction workers lasted for about three hours. After marching through Pittsburgh's streets, they gathered at the City-County Building.

Protesters have marched since Monday, demanding more jobs for Negroes in the construction field.

U.S. Assures Thailand Of Continued Support

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — The U.S. government has pledged to honor existing agreements with Thailand despite the impending withdrawal of some American troops, Prime Minister Thanom Kittikachorn said today.

Speaking to newsmen after a meeting of the National Assembly, Thanom said the pledge was contained in a message sent Rogers to Foreign Minister Thant Khoman.

Thanom did not say when Rogers' message was sent and did not elaborate fully on its contents. However, he said it "reaffirmed existing agreements the United States has with Thailand." He said the United States would not "turn away" from Thailand in matters concerning the country's security.

Turning to the negotiations opening Monday between Thailand and the United States on the gradual withdrawal of some of the 50,000 American troops, Thanom said Thailand wanted only to know about U.S. plans for a reduction in troop strength.

He said he did not know how many troops would be withdrawn but he understood "they will not withdraw immediately, because the situation in Vietnam has not improved." After talking with Thanat and U.S. officials yesterday, visiting Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., predicted only 1,500 American troops would be withdrawn.

Thanom said Thailand was not considering withdrawing its 12,000 troops from Vietnam even though the United States was cutting back its own forces there.

"The United States most likely will not pull out its troops from Thailand right away," he said. "When the time comes for the pullout, some units are expected to remain here in order to act jointly with Thailand in accordance with the SEATO (Southeast Asia Treaty Organization) pact."

Asked if the U.S. forces would take their weapons with them when they leave, Thanom replied: "We don't know their plans yet. Most of the U.S. troops here are airmen."

Asked if Thailand had any plans for taking over the air bases, used by the U.S. Air Force Thanom said this was what Thailand had in mind.

While Thanon spoke of U.S. treaty obligations, the United States has made clear it will not help in combatting Communist guerrillas in Thailand and Thai officials have said they understanding this.

Pair Charged For Marijuana, Hidden Weapon

Two men arrested Friday near Nicasio Lake were charged yesterday in Marin Municipal Court with possessing marijuana. One was charged with having a concealed weapon.

Roger Lee Shenkey, 23, of 1209 Shuman Lane, Petaluma, and Michael Alfred Castellino, 29, of San Francisco, were to return to court Sept. 5 for further arraignment.

Sheriff's deputies said they stopped the car when the men were attempting to make a quick exit from a parking lot, apparently because of the arrival of the officers.

The deputies said that Castellino tried to shove a brown bag, which apparently contained marijuana, under a seat. He also had a unlicensed revolver with him, according to the officers.

Two young women with the men were not charged.

Game meat should be aged from five to 10 days so the body enzymes will have time to tenderize and firm the meat.

Parks Commission Backs High-Cost Proposed Center

The community center plan which shocked San Rafael City Council members last week received the blessing of the city's parks and recreation commission again last night.

The council was taken aback at cost estimates of $681,000 for the proposed center, reporting they had expected a $200,000 to $300,000 plan.

The commission re-evaluated the plans last night and unanimously agreed there was no way to cut down unless a cheaper building were built. Members opposed cutting space, Andrew J. Snyder Jr., director of the parks and recreation department reported.

Snyder said the current building, a leased facility at the corner of Second and Brooks streets is 9,500 square feet. The facility being proposed is 19,000 square feet.

Building in two phases or eliminating half of it, as suggested by the council would not materially increase space, he said.

The commission also heard from San Rafael Architect Robert W.F. Severin on his proposal to put the community center on the courthouse square.

The commission felt the idea should be explored, Snyder reported.

He said he was chiefly concerned with the lack of open park-like area but suggested a park could be built on top of a parking lot.

The San Rafael Parks and Recreation Commission also:

MEETING — Changes its meeting time from the fourth to the second Wednesday of the month, beginning next month. Meetings are at 8 p.m. at the city hall.

CANAL—Heard a report on progress of plans for a small recreation center in the canal area as proposed by Robert Schoen, a barber. Schoen said the next step was incorporation and Commissioner Fred C. Robbins Jr. offered to help. Severin and the parks and recreation department staff also volunteered.

TESTS — Learned recreation leaders would be given a written examination in the future.

SUBSIDY—Urged the County of Marin to reconsider its plan to eliminate matching funds for senior citizens programs.

Stinson Fire Tax Rate 36 Cents

The Stinson Beach Fire Protection District's 1969-70 tax rate will be 36 cents per $100 assessed valuation, down from 38.5 cents, district board President Joseph Lawrence said today.

Lawrence announced the lower tax rate — which will support a udget of $18,324—at a board meeting last night.

In other action, the fire board approved purchase of 500 feet of dacron hose at a cost of about $500; decided to make a survey of all hydrant systems in the district to determine needs, and agreed to investigate the cost of buying a four-wheel drive pumper for fires in rough terrain.

Another FCC Member Quits

WASHINGTON (AP) — James J. Wadsworth, a member of the Federal Communications Commission, said today he will resign to join the U.S. representation to Intelsat, as soon as his successor is named.

His departure has been in the works for months and he revealed in June that he was discussing terms with William W. Scranton, former governor of Pennsylvania and now chief U.S. representative to Intelsat —the International Telecommunications Satellite Consortium.

Safety Measures For Coal Miners

FRANKFORT, Ky. (UPI)— Kentucky plans dust quality testing in coal mines in an effort health and mine officials hope will lead to control of black lung and other respiratory diseases.

Conducting the program will be the State Department of Health and the Department of Mines and Minerals. Kentucky is the first state to initiate extensive research on black lung.

The Sony 6050 FM stereo/FM-AM receiver sounds like it should cost far more than its modest price. It delivers the performance of receivers costing many dollars more.

- Superb performance on FM stereo, FM and AM broadcasts, records and tapes.
- Plenty of power even for a high quality low-efficiency speaker system.
- Delivers 75 watts (total music power) into 8 ohms.
- Sensitive tuner turns even weakest signals into enjoyable listening.
- Solid-state IF filter for razor-sharp selectivity, full stereo separation.
- Controls to enhance your listening pleasure — automatic stereo reception, zero-center tuning meter, front panel headphone jack, switches for tape monitoring, muting, speaker selection, tape head or aux. input, loudness.

McCoy's Children To Grandparents

The ex-guru of Rancho Olompali, Donald C. McCoy Jr., and his former wife yesterday agreed that the rearing of their three daughters should be turned over to her mother and step-father.

After both signed a stipulation giving custody to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Lang of Mill Valley, Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court signed the order.

Both McCoy and his former wife Paula, a onetime Haight-Ashbury resident, were granted the right to see and visit the children at "reasonable times and places."

The girls, Maura, 11; Dana, 10, and Mary, 8, first lived with their father at Ranch Olompali after their parents' divorce on Nov. 24, 1967.

On March 21 of this year McCoy signed an agreement giving the girls' custody to their mother.

McCoy, who abandoned a successful business career for a carefree hippie life, founded "the Chosen Family" at the large ranch north of Novato, where he gathered as many as 100 persons at one time.

When his father-in-law complained that McCoy was frittering away his money by supporting hippies on the ranch, McCoy agreed to have his estate placed under Lang's control.

The commune was also plagued by other misfortunes — the historic mansion on the ranch was nearly destroyed in a fire, narcotics officers twice raided the group, and two little girls died after tumbling into a murky swimming pool there.

Finally the ranch was sold and the Chosen Family was evicted.

McCoy, who had been a patient in Marin Community Mental Health Center earlier this summer, is reportedly now living elsewhere in the County.

State Attacks Gas Stamp War

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— The State of California clamped down yesterday on "trading stamp wars" currently raging among service stations.

Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch against a number of stations in an effort to halt the stamp battle, which apparenlty replaced periodic price wars in the retail motor fuel industry.

Some service stations are offering as many as 19 times the regular amount of trading stamps with purchases of gasoline. But Lynch said the stations, in their advertising signs, failed to note that they also jacked up the price of gasoline to as high as 50 cents a gallon to cover the cost of the stamps.

About one third of all lead used in the U.S. goes into automobile batteries.

College Of Marin To Receive $326,224 From Budget Surplus

College of Marin will receive an additional $326,224 in state construction funds from the larger-than-expected state budget surplus.

The state funds will be added to $388,194 in Marin Junior College District funds for five construction projects, college publicist Earlene Jones said.

Junior college districts in 26 counties will share $29.6 million from the $79.8 million surplus, $41.1 million larger than anticipated. Assemblyman Victor V. Veysey, R-Brawley, reported. Assembly finance committee and author of this year's school finance bill.

Miss Jones said the college was notified in June the additional money would be available, and planned construction accordingly.

The money will be spent for these projects, she said:

Harlan Center development for 1969 including site preparation, working drawings, location of utilities and a footbridge across the flood control channel. State funds will be $124,345 and total cost $279,426.

Second phase remodeling of the old arts building, state share $9,920, total $22,292.

The local share of the construction will be financed by a 7.8 cent property tax levy authorized this year under Senate Bill 691, Miss Jones said.

More Than 350 To Attend Circus

More than 350 children and adults from Marin County foster homes, Sunny Hills, St. Vincent's School for Boys, Cedars Development Foundation of Marin in Ross and Sonoma State Hospital will attend tonight's performance of Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus in San Francisco as guests of Silent Majority Against Revolutionary actics (SMART) of Marin, according to Eric C. Kinsey Jr., president.

The circus donated free passes to the group, he said.

'Employee Of God' Curtailed

A man who said his employer was God was committed to Mission Emergency Hospital in San Francisco last night after he told a California Highway patrolman he wanted to do a swan dive of Golden Gate Bridge to "get the feel of it."

Patrolman L. G. Cook said that Ama Giesta Fleming, 28, of San Francisco, walked up to him as he was parked in the toll plaza parking lot and asked for directions to the bridge walkway so he could dive off.

Fleming told Cook he was a disciple of God, a polarist, a painter, playwright and "held numerous other worldly occupations." He also said he had written a play in "all m's" which he "wanted to be his last farewellf."

Cotati School Pay Hiked By Windfall

All employees of the Cotati School District have been granted 7 per cent salary scale increases.

Superintendent Duncan A. Coleman said all employees, including teachers, administrators and classified personnel, will receive the increases in addition to regular step increases. The salary range for teachers will be $6,634 to $11,647 as compared to the past range of $6,200 to $10,885.

Coleman said the increase, approved by district trustees Tuesday, would cost the district an additional $56,166 which will be covered by an additional $100,000 received last week from the state.

In dividing up the unexpected windfall, the trustees granted the increases and placed $41,460 in a reserve fund. Other portions of the extra money will be used for new materials and equipment.

The trustees met yesterday at the new Thomas Page School for an inspection tour. The district had feared the building might not be completed in time for the Sept. 2 opening of school, but the trustees found everything in order. Coleman said that the installation of a septic tank pump system is the only major work remaining.

The Cotati School District Trustees Also:

PORTABLES — Asked the Sonoma County Superintendent of schools office to relocate two portable classrooms at the Waldo Rohnert school. The board felt the classes for trainable mentally retarded should be placed farther away from the street.

CABLE TV — Heard a report that cable television had been installed free of cost in one wing of the John Reed School and that the Parent-Teachers Association would pay for installation in the other wing.

RETAINING WALL — Agreed to pay the costs of construction for a wooden retaining wall at the property of Thomas Koga adjoining the Cotati school. Dirt had been removed from his property for fill at a Rohnert Park school damaging his property. Wall costs were estimated at between $100 and $200.

ANNEXATION — Approved the annexation of the Thomas Page School property to the city of Cotati. Coleman said the annexing procedure will begin soon through the Sonoma County local agency formation commission.

City Manager To Be Named For Marin City

The Marin City Council is expected to name its city manager at its 8 p.m. meeting today at Manzanita Neighborhood Center, Council Chairman Rev. Samuel L. Banks Jr. said today.

Banks said it is hoped the manager will be on the job by next Tuesday. He also said the positions for secretary and planning intern are open in the council's manager's office.

The council and residents also will get a comprehensive survey of future planning at tonight's meeting, Banks said. He said representatives of Advocate Design Associates of Berkeley, Barrett Construction Co. of San Francisco, the Retirement Housing Foundation of Long Beach, Montgomery and Co. of San Francisco, Modular Manufacturing Co. of San Francisco and the Development Corporation of Marin City will discuss planning at the meeting.

Two home design concepts by Southern Marin architects also will be on display at the meeting.

Socialists Fail To Shake Mrs. Gandhi

NEW DELHI (AP) — A Socialist attempt to move a motion of no confidence in parliament against Prime Minister Indira Gandhi's government failed today. The Socialists could not muster the requisite 50 members.

Three members of the Samyukta united Socialist Party led by its leader, Madhu Limaye, said Mrs. Gandhi's government was "a government of contradictions and it worked in collusion with big business, capitalists and bureaucracy." She recently launched a Socialist program beginning with the nationalization of major Indian banks.

Preparing Johnny For First Grade

By PATRICIA McCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI)—You're getting this child three feet tall prepared for that great first day of school.

You tell child it's a big step, and it means he's growing up. You make it all so serious that he can hear an abrupt slamming of the door on little boyhood—and all its joys.

Please, don't prepare your child for school in such a manner. He'll get the feeling some great big change is coming over him. He'll think he's going into a hostile world where all sorts of strange things will happen to him all at once.

He might get a bent psyche and even develop school phobia.

RATHER THAN making the start of school seem like some huge fork in life's road, tell the child learning, his main business at school, isn't a brand new experience.

Dr. Robert Gilstrap, executive secretary of the American Association of Elementary, Kindergarten, and Nursery Educators, made such a point in an interview.

"Get it into the child's mind that he's already been learning at home," Dr. Gilstrap said. "Learning to wolk, talk and so on. At school there will be a continuation of learning, not a brand new thing."

Dh. Gilstrap also advised against hovering over the child at the school doorstep.

"PARENTS MANY times don't realize that a child of five is independent," he said. "Respect the child's growing independence and let him be a member of the group."

Some basic things to talk over before the first day, according to the executive secretary of the association, a National Education Association affiliate:

—When in classroom, other children will mean sharing and respecting others. Children of five are rather self-centered. Remind them that they're not going to have everything their own way in school.

—Let the child know that the teacher is someone who must be respected. Tell him he must mind the teacher.

—In this new place to learn, let him know, he also will get to play with other children.

—While you build school up, avoid making the child so excited that he will be letdown if he doesn't get the equivalent of a soda, fireworks, merry-go-round fun each day.

LETTING GO of your child for the first time is difficult. You may even want to laden the teacher with a profile of the child's pet moods, bathroom habits and so on. Please, don't.

"Take it a little easy on the teacher," Dr. Gilstrap said. "That first day of school is quite a day for teachers. You suddenly meet one group of youngsters you've never seen before and you must work a full year with them, teaching—a tremendous responsibility."

Why do mothers usually cry when they send their "babies" to school for the first time?

"Parents," said Dr. Gilstrap, father of two preschoolers, "don't want to give up the child, to see this new phase of life start. They envision and hate to see the child going through the hard life ahead."

IF YOU CRY, please keep your wits about you.

A Staten Island, N.Y., mother one recent first day of school couldn't see through the tears and put her first-timer on the wrong school bus.

Child spent the first few hours of her school life at a parochial school instead of the public one with which she had been familiarized during a lengthy orientation session the week before!

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

It's Her Business If She Takes The Pill Before The Wedding

DEAR HELEN:

My girl friend won't be married for another two months. Yet she got her first prescription for the pill yesterday. I was with her when she picked it up at the drug store.

I'm terribly shocked and disappointed in her. She always had such high moral standards. Why would she stoop to this? — DISULLUSIONED

DEAR DIS:

Many doctors prescribe the pill two months before a girl's wedding date, this so that she will adjust to adverse reactions which may show up in the first weeks of use. Often the prescription must be changed, if it causes undue nausea, bloating, skin blemishes, or other side effects.

Your girl friend is wisely planning ahead — and if she's planning anything else it's nobody's business but her own! — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I love being a girl, but I hate it sometimes too. I may have just lost the best guy I almost had, because of girl problems. He asked me to go on a swimming party, and I had to cancel at the last minute. It was either that or be terribly embarrassed about not going into the water.

Naturally I couldn't tell him the reason, so he thinks I'm a party pooper, and probably upstaging him besides. He hardly speaks to me now. What did I do wrong? — HATES BEING A GIRL

REAR GIRL:

You blew it! Boys understand girl problems, but they don't go for last-minute broken dates. You could have been in the swim without getting in the water if false modesty hadn't interfered. Write the boy a short "I'm sorry" note, and I think he'll get the message. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

My mother and father both work for the police department so there's a lot of law and order around our house.

It all seems to fall on me because I am the oldest, so I get blamed for not only the things I do, but what the other kids don't do. I'm supposed to see that they clean their rooms and do their work. If they don't, I get slapped, not them.

Whatever goes wrong, it's my fault, and I'm constantly being grounded.

If I get a boy friend, he's never right, and they run him into the ground. They'd like it if I never went out, as they lose a baby-sitter. They criticize me in front of their friends. I do more work than any of the other six kids because I have to do theirs or get bawled out.

Why can't parents see that the oldest child isn't a third parent but just an ordinary teen? — ABOUT TO RUN AWAY

DEAR ATRA:

Why indeed! I hope your parents read your letter and recognize themselves. Sometimes a working mother loads her firstborn with all the responsibility, her excuse being she's too tired. She'd better revise her thinking before she has one less child in the family. — H.

Susan Danford Is Bride In Mill Valley

Culmination of a friendship begun when Susan Danford and Charles William Jorgensen III served in the Peace Corps in Africa was their marriage Saturday afternoon in a one o'clock garden wedding at the Mill Valley home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Porter T. Danford.

The bridegroom, better known as "Rusty," is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles William Jorgensen II of Syracuse, N.Y.

Susan's attendants were her two sisters, Mrs. Michael Passovoy, of Madras, Ore., and Mrs. Paul A. Backman of Davis. Richard E. Jorgensen of Ithaca, N.Y., served his brother as best man, and another brother, Peter E. Jorgensen of Syracuse, was the usher.

The couple will live in Sonoma, where Rusty will attend Sonoma State College. Susan plans to resume her work as a medical technician.

A graduate of Marin Catholic High School, she was graduated from the University of California. She has a brother, William T. Danford of Mill Valley.

A graduate of Dwight Morrow High School in Englewood, N.J., Rusty attended the University of Virginia at Charlottesville, N.C., and Fairleigh Dickienson University at Teaneck, N.J.

He has a sister, Elizabeth E. Jorgensen of Syracuse.

Miss Duhme Wed At St. Hilary's Rite In Tiburon

St. Hilary's Church in Tiburon was the setting for the wedding of Helen Frances Duhme and Anthony David Branbling-Bennett at noon Saturday.

The bride was attended by her sisters, Anne Duhme of Tiburon, who was maid of honor, and Mary Duhme of Tiburon, who was the bridesmaid.

Samuel Lane of Santa Monica was the best man.

The reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Duhme Sr. in Tiburon, the bride's aunt and uncle with whom she makes her home. She is the daughter of Reeve Duhme of Sacramento and the late Mrs. Duhme.

Thd bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Geoffrey Bennett of Los Angeles. He is a graduate of Harvard University and is an intern at Stanford University School of Medicine in Palo Alto.

Helen attended the University of California at Davis and was graduated from the University of California at Berkeley in June. She is training in medical technology at Kaiser Hospital in Oakland.

Married Men

Bachelors should note that marriage could mean a much better chance to reach old age, according to the Health Insurance Institute. In a recent study of longevity, married men were found to live notably longer than single. The disparity in death rates reached a peak in the age bracket 30 to 44. At all age levels, divorced men showed the highest death rate.

Smith-Burr Wedding Rite Held On Ranch In Sunol

Marriage vows were exchanged by Henry Baldwin Dunlap Smith and Cynthia Burr at 3 o'clock Saturday at the bride's family home on the Burr ranch in Sunol.

Harry, as the bridegroom is known, is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Perry Dunlap Smith Jr. of Tiburon. The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Edwin M. Burr of Sunol.

Leslie Nordman of Oxnard was the maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Molly Johnson of Pleasanton, Deborah Bachman of Des Moines, Iowa, Sherry Carlson of McFarland, and Jennifer Smith of Tiburon, the bridegroom's sister.

The bridegroom asked his brother, Rusty Smith of Tiburon, to be best man. Kevin Kelly of Tiburon, Richard Brown of Los Angeles and Thomas Zellerbach of San Francisco were the ushers.

Cynthia was graduated from Ojai Valley School, and attended Temple Buell College in Denver, Colo. She has one sister, Nancy Burr, now studying in Switzerland. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. E. F. Tyler of Castro Valley and Mrs. Edwin G. Burr of La Falva Beach.

Harry attended Redwood High School and was graduated from the Ojai Valley School. He is attending Colorado College at Colorado Springs, Colo., where he is in his junior year.

The couple will travel to Colorado on their wedding trip, and plan to live in Colorado Springs, while the bridegroom completes his education.

Judson-Taylor Vows Exchanged In Utah Temple

Philip Judson of San Rafael claimed Dora Leah Taylor as his bride Friday in an afternoon ceremony at Salt Lake Latter-Day Saints Temple in Salt Lake City, Utah.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Taylor of Dugway, Utah, and he is the son of Mrs. Allan Judson of San Rafael.

Jean Jenson Orem, Utah, was the maid of honor and bridesmaids were Dora's sisters Fay, Karen and Tamara Taylor all of Dugway.

Grant Hudson of Salt Lake City was the best man and Jess Ray Taylor, of Dugway the bride's brother, ushered.

The couple will live in San Rafael after a wedding trip to Disneyland.

Dora was graduated from Dugway High School and attended Brigham Young University on Provo.

Philip is a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School and Brigham Young University. He is employed at the Naval Area Audit Service in San Francisco. Mrs. Robert Vassar of Terra Linda is his sister and his grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Judson of San Rafael.

Poultry Specials Set For Weekend Shopper

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The following guide to the nation's food buys for the weekend was prepared by the U.S. Departments of Agriculture and Interior for UPI.

USDA's Food and Nutrition Service reports that food shopping for the Labor Day weekend should be relatively easy because there will be ample displays of meat and poultry and adequate stocks of some fresh vegetables and fruit in food stores and supermarkets.

BROILER-FRYER chickens turkeys are expected to be holiday specials in all areas. Beef cuts should also be ample, especially roasts and steaks and ground beef.

Smoked picnics are in abundance along with hams and the usual fresh cuts of pork. Fish buys to watch for are Maine sardines, canned tuna, and fish sticks and portions.

Fresh vegetables in best supply are cabbage, celery, corn, onions, potatoes, and tomatoes. Fresh fruit in best supply are bananas, grapes, peaches, and watermelons.

Other foods in USDA's plentiful foods list for August are peanuts and peanut products, wheat products, limes, nectarines, and pears.

BEEF AND PORK prices are mixed in West Coast markets. In San Francisco ribs are higher and in Los Angeles, hindquarters, forequarters, and rounds are lower.

Fresh pork loins are lower in San Francisco but higher in Los Angeles. Sliced bacon is higher in California markets, but down in Portland. Smoked hams are down in Portland and in Los Angeles but up in San Francisco.

Spring lamb is lower in California markets.

Butter is higher in Seattle. Eggs are higher in San Francisco, Los Angeles and Portland.

Calf, veal, and poultry are mostly unchanged.

Fruits and vegetables in best supply include: apples, bananas, grapes, miscellaneous melons, oranges, cabbage, celery, onions, potatoes, and tomatoes.

Hemlines Hold

It looks like no change in hemline lengths for fall. Daytime and short cocktail dresses still ride three to five inches above the knees. But several designers like the look of short day dresses or culottes with floor length coats, usually flared and belted.

INCONCLUSIVE TESTS

Researcher Urges New Study Of Pill

WASHINGTON (AP) — A government researcher today urged a new, multiple-study approach to settling the question whether oral birth control pills —estimated to be used by 10 million women in the United States—have possible long-term harmful effects.

Dr. R. E. Markush of the National Institute of Mental Health said present evidence suggesting such hazards as potentially deadly blood-clots stems largely from studies limited to guilty-by-association conclusions rather than to a pinned-down, cause and effect relationship.

That is, he told the Eighth International Congress of Gerontology, epidemiological studies of possible harmful effects of the "estrogenic hormones" of The Pill have been almost wholly limited to the so-called associative approach: studies of mortality rates from certain diseases among women since The pill became generally available in 1961.

For example, he said, British investigators have reported a rise in death rates from venous thrombo-embolism, blood clots carried to the lungs and elsewhere, since oral contraceptives became available.

American researchers, he said, have confirmed this, and also found a possible associative link between The Pill and arteriosclerotic heart disease.

But he said the associative approach, while inexpensive and providing sometimes important clues "is weak, since it can not distinguish associations which are causative from those which are not."

What's needed, he said, is a combination of:

1. More studies of the "retrospective" type involving specific examination of the medical records of groups of women who have been on The Pill for a certain period of time and those who have not used the contraceptive.

2. Virtually unused prospective studies involving a kind of fresh-start approach. That is, groups of women would be started on the pill and then they, and comparable groups of non-users, would be closely watched over a period of possibly several decades to see how they made out, both physically and emotionally.

Markush also said that additional studies of the associative type should also be carried on.

The researcher also recommended the three-fold test approach for assessing possible health hazards from the long-term use of "estrogenic hormones" as estrogen-replacement therapy for certain women undergoing the menopause.

Estimates are, he said, that approximately 3 million American women, primarily in the ages 45-54, are using medicinal estrogenic hormones as replacements for their own natural hormone of this type.

The medicinal hormones are designed to relieve unwanted reactions which occur in some women during the menopause, such as "hot flashes," and irregular or heavy bleeding.

More Verdicts Handed Out For Campus Rioting

All were charged with disturbing the peace, refusal to disperse and unlawful assembly.

Miranda Bergman and Clifton Y. Yoza were acquitted of all charges. James R. Bliss was acquitted of failure to disperse and convicted of the other two charges.

Martha L. Embry, Thomas E. Gabel, Gail F. Johnson and Bradley F. Kearns were convicted of unlawful assembly but acquitted of the other charges.

So far 84 persons have been convicted, 42 have been acquitted and jurors failed to reach a decision concerning 26. In addition, 107 pleaded guilty or no contest.

The demonstration took place during a strike which unsuccessfully sought the establishment of an ethnic studies college and the admission of all Negroes regardless of academic qualifications.

Home Role Idea For Foes Of Viet War

FAIRFIELD (UPI) — State Supreme Court Justice Stanley Mosk has proposed draftees opposed to the Vietnam conflict could instead perform their service with state and local law enforcement agencies.

The former attorney general outlined the plan yesterday in remarks at a teachers' orientation conference of the Fairfield-Suisun Unified School District.

He said the idea originated with the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, who first suggested it to former Los Angeles Police Chief Thomas Reddin.

"Young men who feel ill-disposed toward bringing order out of chaos in Asia can, in the alternative, help achieve law and order in the cities of America," Mosk said.

He said under the plan, Vietnam objectors would be assigned by Selective Service boards to qualified law enforcement agencies requesting the assistance.

Mosk said draftees would be restricted to support roles, working as clerks and mechanics This would help solve personnel shortages in law enforcement agencies by freeing officers for more important duties.

Mosk said the draftees would be paid the same as their counterparts in the armed forces and be provided living quarters.

But the draftees would be under the exclusive control of the local law enforcement agency to which they were assigned to "avoid any fear of creating a national police force."

Promise Of Equal Voting Rights Cheers Catholics

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — A leader of Northern Ireland's government reportedly promised wide-ranging civil rights legislation last night, including equal voting rights for Roman Catholics in local elections.

Minister of Development Roy Bradford was understood to have given this pledge at a dinner to which visiting British Home Secretary James Callaghan invited a dozen persons representing all sides of the religious warfare which has bloodied the province.

A "one-man, one-vote" law for local elections has been one of the chief goals of the pro-Catholic civil rights movement whose campaign so inflamed Protestant militants.

Because voting in local elections is based on property taxes and most property is owned by Protestants, the Catholics claim they are not represented on the local councils which hand out many jobs and decide who gets public housing.

Callaghan is the British government minister responsible for internal affairs in the United Kingdom, which includes Northern Ireland. He began a three-day fact finding visit yesterday.

Crowds of Protestants and Catholics cheered him as he toured areas of Belfast where there was arson, looting and street fighting the week before last.

Callaghan was visiting more riot-torn areas today. He was also the meet with Rev. Ian Paisley, the firebrand who leads the most militant Protestant faction.

"Perhaps Mr. Paisley will have something to say to me. I will certainly have something to say to Mr. Paisley," Callaghan told newsmen.

PORT ELIZABETH, South Africa (AP) — Italian industrialist Count Dr. Angelo Zegna announced here he will award a Rands 2,000 ($2,800) floating trophy to the producer of the highest quality kid mohair in the world.

Dr. Zegna, of Trivero, northern Italy, said South African sculptors will be invited to submit designs for the trophy and they will be judged by a panel of Italian art critics.

Beatle Paul Now A Father

LONDON (AP) — Beatle Paul McCartney's American wife Linda gave birth to a 6 pounds 8 ounces daughter today.

The baby, born in a London clinic, is named Mary.

McCartney and Linda, daughter of a New York lawyer Lee Eastman, married in London in March.

McCartney was the last bachelor among the Beatles, still Britain's top pop group.

Linda, a society photographer, met McCartney when she came to London to take photographs of him for an American magazine. She is 27, a few months older than McCartney, and has a daughter, Heather, 6, by a previous marriage.

Turtle Ride? One Whale Of A Story

LOS ANGELE S (AP) — It took a whale to save Jonah from the briny deep. Chung Nam Kim says he made it with a turtle, and he's got witnesses.

Kim, a 27-year-old South Korean sailor, yesterday described a turtle kept him afloat after he fell from the deck of a merchant ship in the Pacific Ocean.

Hours after his strange adventure began, he was picked up by a Swedish freighter, the Citadel.

Crewmen of freighter said Kim was swimming with one arm on a turtle's back, and one of them took pictures to prove it.

Kim related his story through an interpreter in a radio-telephone interview aboard The Citadel, which is due here Friday.

He said he left his parents and brothers and sisters in Pusan, went to Japan last October and got a job as deckhand aboard the Federal Nagara, a Liberian ship headed for New York.

As the ship sailed about 100 miles off Nicaragua last Friday, Kim said, he got a headache. It was about 2 a.m. and he couldn't sleep.

So he walked out on the deck for some fresh air, he said, and "one foot went off—and then I went off. Nobody saw it." He started swimming.

"I had been swimming it seemed like 13 hours," he said, when he saw an animal. "I thought it was a shark, then I could see it was a turtle.

"I threw an arm around it and we swam, very slowly, very slowly, for about two hours."

The water was cold, Kim said, and "I was very afraid. I thought I was dying."

Finally he spotted The Citadel. He waved. The crew waved back.

Capt. Horst Wedder of The Citadel said he could see the turtle, three or four feet long. One member of his crew took pictures of it, Wedder said. "I don't know yet what they show, but what you could see from a distance was the round back."

Sailors of the freighter threw Kim a lifebelt. He grabbed it and they pulled him out.

Kim said he looked back and saw the turtle disappear under the water. Nobody on the ship saw it again.

Wedder said Kim "has a lot of marks on his skin like he was bitten by some little animals. They're mysterious marks. I don't know what kind of animal could have made them."

That isn't the only mystery. Why did the turtle play Good Samaritan?

A sea turtle is normally very sensitive and dives when it's disturbed, said a marine biologist, Malcolm Gordon, of the University of California at Los Angeles.

"It's awfully unlikely," Gordon said, "that a guy would be able to use one for a liferaft."

Mercy Death For Camille's Pet Victims

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — The crack of a rifle sounds repeatedly along the hurricane ravaged Gulf coast as man offers the mercy of death to injured and starving animals.

Miss Emily Gloeckler, president of the Florida Association of Humane Societies, said Hurricane Camille left untold thousands of dogs, cats and other pets hurt and homeless along the coastal areas of Louisiana, Mississippi and Florida.

Navy Seabees and Army National Guardsmen cooperating with the Humane Societies are destroying the animals, she said.

"It's so sad," Miss Gloeckler said, "but there is nothing else to do. We have been criticized for killing these animal,s but many of them were too badly injured to save and we just can't find the space or food we need to care for the others."

More than one big, husky Seabee or soldier fought back tears as he placed the muzzle of his rifle between the trusting eyes of an injured dog and pulled the trigger, she said.

Donations coming from across the country are being used to care for some animals in areas that were not so badly damaged and to rebuild the Gulfport Animal Shelter, which was destroyed by the storm.

$260 Camera Stolen

A camera valued at $260 was taken from the glove compartment of a car between 6:30 a.m. and 6:45 p.m. yesterday while it was parked in front of 1629 San Jose Boulevard, Novato, Ronald T. Wulff of 17 Washington Street, Novato, reported to police.

Judge Denies Powell Claim For Back Pay

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal judge has declined to issue a judgment awarding Rep. Adam Clayton Powell pay lost when the Harlem Democrat was denied his seat in Congress.

U.S. District Court Judge George L. Hart Jr., said yesterday that before Powell can get his $55,000 in back pay he will have to refute in court charges by the House that he misappropriated congressional funds.

To do this Powell's lawyers would have to file an amended complaint—which would open the way to a trial on the counterclaim by the House.

Otherwise, Hart indicated he would issue a judgment soon, possibly Friday, simply stating that Powell met the qualifications of membership in the 90th Congress and therefore was entitled to be seated.

After hearing arguments from lawyers for Powell and the House, Hart invited them to file additional views by Friday.

Powell's lawyers argued that a U.S. Supreme Court ruling that Powell had been unconstitutionally denied his seat in Congress in 1967 meant that he was automatically entitled to lost salary and seniority privileges.

"If the Supreme Court thought he was entitled to his salary, why didn't they say so?" Hart asked. On the contrary, he said, the high court "skirted the salary issue as carefully as a ballerina.

"If I issue a declaratory judgment now, it will say nothing about salary," Hart said.

Powell also wants the court to lift a $25,000 fine the House assessed this year when it allowed him to resume his seat. He also wants restored the privileges of 24 years seniority. Hart declined to rule on either of these.

Elementary Art On Display

A display of art work from Marin elementary schools will open the 1969-70 season of exhibits at the College of Marin Art Gallery Tuesday.

On display will be work by students last year in an art appreciation program staffed by volunteer parents and sponsored by the Marin Museum Association.

The exhibit will continue through Sept. 24, with the gallery hours, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and 6:30 to 10 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Reluctant Approval Of Strawberry Plan

Strawberry Recreation District directors have endorsed, in principle, plans for the Strawberry Cove marina by developer Leonard B. Fleischman, including areas to be given to the district, according to secretary Jeanne Heick.

However, Mrs. Heick said, the board restated, at its Tuesday night meeting its preference that the cove not be developed at all, but be retained in its natural state.

'Hair' To Officially Open Tomorrow; Giant Box Office

By GARY TISCHLER

Hang on to your hats, folks, it's officially here!

That would be "Hair," the tribal folk-rock musical directed by Tom O'Horgan, which will have its grand opening performance tomorrow at 8:30 p.m. and you can forget about going if you haven't got a ticket. This one is sold out.

The Geary Theater reports that there are still good tickets left for parts of September and most of October and early November. The play has already netted some $500,000 in advance seat revenue.

The San Francisco company of this irreverent smash, which is playing to audiences in England, Europe and Australia as well as the United States, is known as the Ohlone Tribe of the International Hair Confederacy. Steve Gillette is musical director for this production. Original dance director is Julie Arenal. Nancy Potts designed the costumes.

The San Francisco Mime Troupe will give a free performance of Brecht's "Congress of the Whitewashers" at Washington Square at 2 p.m. Monday.

MUSIC

Brilliant young conductor Seiji Ozawa will conduct the New York Philharmonic, the oldest symphonic organization in the country, in two different performances at the Masonic Auditorium Tuesday and Wednesday.

The Tuesday program will feature the popular young pianist, Andre Watts. Clarinetist Stanley Drucker will be featured in the second program.

The Concord Summer Festival, a week-long mish-mash of a variety of music will wind up Sunday.

Here's the lineup Friday through Sunday:

Sunday — The Oakland Youth Chamber Orchestra, It's A Beautiful Day, The Buddy Rich Band and the World's Greatest Jazz Band.

Frankie Laine and Erroll Garner will be teamed up at the Circle Star Theater beginning tomorrow through Monday.

The Fillmore West summer series winds up this weekend with Spirit, Savoy Brown and Womb tomorrow through Sunday.

Other attractions:

Geary Theater — "Hair," nightly except Monday at 8:30 p.m.; Sunday 2 and 7:30 p.m.; Thursday 2 and 8:30 p.m.

California Palace of the Legion of Honor — Paintings by Pietro Annigoni, through Sunday; drinking vessels from the Sichel collection, through Sept. 14; Chinese jade carvings, through Sept. 23.

Westover Seeking Musicians

Now that the Westover Chamber Orchestra is based in Sausalito instead of San Francisco, director Wynn Westover announces that he is seeking more Marin musicians for the group.

Rehearsals are held Wednesdays at 7:15 p.m. in the Parish Hall of Christ Church in Sausalito. Musicians interested may call Westover at his home in Sausalito.

The orchestra usually presents a series of three concerts each season and schedules five or six rehearsals. Repertoire ranges from classical to modern, and solo artists are frequently featured. The first concert will be performed Oct. 4 at the College of Marin Fine Arts Theater.

Westover is a teacher in the College of Marin music department and at the University of California Extension in San Francisco. He also is head of the music theory department at the Community Music Center in San Francisco and is music director of the Tillman Orchestra.

SHADES OF YESTERDAY

Japan's Little Army Suits National Leaders Just Fine

KAITAICHI, Japan (UPI)— Japan has a spiffy little army which some critics say couldn't fight its way out of a paper bag. But a lot of Japanese couldn't care less.

That judgment may be too harsh, but it is a fact that soldiering in Japan isn't what it used to be.

Professional soldiers don't pack much prestige these days in Japan, where Samurai warriors once were treated with great deference and the World War II Imperial Army had things pretty much its own way.

DEFENSE FORCE

Japan doesn't even call its army an army, preferring instead the euphemistic term "ground self-defense force," or simply the GSDF.

The GSDF resembles not at all the Imperial Army hordes that swarmed through Southeast Asia, endangered Australia and threatened to seize half the world. And that suits the present government of Japan just fine.

The GSDF has 173,000 men in uniform and 30,000 in reserve, It has 770 outdated American-made tanks, 530 armored personnel carriers, 50 surface to air missile launchers, 40 surface to surface missile launchers, 180 helicopters and 4,510 artillery pieces, including the 55 mm howitzer.

BRINGS BLAST

Yasuhiro Nakasone, a potential future candidate for prime minister, may have shocked some people when he said last spring that even against an enemy attacking with conventional weapons Japan would not be able to hold out on its own for more than 10 days.

Nakasone, a member of the ruling Liberal Democratic Party, said his country's defense policy, based on outmoded concepts of 1958, is for Japanese forces to resist invasion for a month and then look to intervention by the United States or the United Nations. He said the GSDF doesn't have enough ammunition to meet even this requirement.

The basis of the defense of Japan is the U.S.-Japan security treaty. Not only do many Japanese oppose that pact, which is subject to renewal next summer, many oppose Japan's having any military forces of its own. Japan spends less than one per cent of its gross national product on defense, a percentage topped by just about every other nation in the world.

Until recently few Japanese politicians would dare speak out for a defense buildup. It just is not a popular cause in a nation whose experiences with war were particularly grim.

Another factor is that many people in this prospering nation just do not feel threatened. Even the defense agency admits the possibility of an attack by the Soviet Union or Communist China is highly unlikely.

So it is not surprising that soldiering in the GSDF is not like soldiering in any other army.

The GSDF's 13th Division is based here at Kaitaichi on the outskirts of Hiroshima. Its 7,800 men are charged with the defense of nine prefectures (states), or about 14 per cent of Japan's land area.

The troops here spend a lot of time trying to make the local citizens like them better. Units of the division have been deployed 117 times in the past seven years to aid the people after earthquakes and during storms, floods and other disasters. The troops also support local festivals and Boy Scout units.

Maj. Gen. Tsutomu Fuseya, vice commander of the 13th, believes all this public relating has done some good, but he admits his men receive 60 hours of riot training per week in case they are needed to put down violence that may erupt in opposition to the security treaty.

Discipline in the GSDF is not what it was in the old imperial army. Soldiers who don't like soldiering may simply resign by turning in their uniforms. Privates who punch sergeants are dealt with in civilian courts on assault charges rather than by courtmartial boards.

The basic pay for a private is slightly less than $50 per month. A full colonel gets $200 per month.

The GSDF has three infantry divisions and one mechanized division in its northern army, charged with the defense of Japan's northernmost island of Hokkaido, which lies within sight of the Soviet Union. The rest of Japan is defended by nine infantry divisions.

Empty Seat On Fairfax School Board Is Filled

Fitzgerald, a nine-year resident of Fairfax, was one of six persons who applied for the post. He is a salesman for the Pacific Pipeline Co. of Oakland and has two children attending Deer Park School in Fairfax. Fitzgerald, 38, lives on Buena Vista Avenue.

Weiss resigned in July. Fitzgerald will serve his unexpired term which runs until June 30, 1971.

The Fairfax School District board also:

COMMITTEE — Approved the format for the Citizens Committee on School Finance; It will include an administrator, two teachers, two school board members and eight other citizens not directly affiliated with the school district. Persons to serve on the committee will be announced next week, trustees decided.

TAX RATE — Was informed that the district's tax rate was set at $3, down 1.5 cents from last year's rate. Michael Mitchell, Marin County auditor-controller, told trustees the assessed valuation of the district was $17,884,914, up 5.3 per cent from last year.

MEETING — Set next Tuesday as the date of its next board meeting.

Legally, no marriage ceremony may be held after 6 p.m. in England.

Campers Told To Move On– Marin Filled

State campgrounds in Marin are jammed and will remain so during the Labor Day weekend, state park rangers have reported. Samuel P. Taylor State Park at Lagunitas is completely reserved for the weekend. Mount Tamalpais State Park, where reservations are not taken, is full now and vacancies are unlikely during the weekend, rangers said.

Other state facilities in Marin are for day use only.

Campers should head north and inland during the weekend, state parks and recreation director William Penn Mott Jr. recommended. Campgrounds already filled in Central California include Armstrong Redwoods State Reserve in Sonoma County, Portola State Park and New Brighton, Sunset and Seacliff state beaches in Santa Cruz County.

Southern California state beaches also are packed. Mott said some spaces are available in the Sierra, the central valley and the northern redwoods regions.

Novato Youth, 17, Booked For Grass

A 17-year-old Novato boy has been booked into Marin County Juvenile Hall on suspicion of possession of marijuana, Novato police reported.

His four companions, ages 14,15, 16, and 17, were cited for possession of alcohol, and released to their parents, according to police.

Police stopped the five in a pickup truck at 2 p.m. Tuesday on Fairway Drive in the Marin County Club Estates, when residents complained that they were prowling around houses. The boy booked had two hand-made cigarettes thought to be marijuana and a gollon of wine was found in the truck, police reported.

Special Meeting

The Marin County Housing Authority will hold a special meeting at 8 p.m. today at the Manzanita Neighborhood Center in Marin City to discuss a contract providing for its modernization program for the coming year.

Justice Hall Deadline To Be Met

The builder of the long-delayed Marin County Hall of Justice will meet the board of supervisors ultimatum to finish the $11.7 million structure by Oct. 1.

This was reported yesterday by Asst. County Administrator John F. Barrows after a meeting between county staff and representatives of the contractor, Robert E. McKee Inc. of Dallas, Tex.

The contractor has put more men on the job and "is pushing the subcontractors a lot harder," Barrows told the Independent-Journal.

Architect Aaron Green reported at the meeting that his inspection showed "a substantial increase in effort to complete the building over two weeks ago," when supervisors issued their ultimatum, Barrows said.

The supervisors said if the work were not completed by Oct. 1, a new contractor would be hired to finish the work.

The only significant work that will not be done by Oct. 1, Barrows said, will be seal coating of exterior walls. This would not affect plans to start moving into the building by mid-October, he said. The move will take about two weeks to complete, he estimated.

Completion of the work already is 10 months behind schedule.

They Laughed When I Sat Down To Pray

TOKYO (AP) — Piano companies in Japan say 560,000 youngsters — 10 per cent more than in 1967 — took piano lessons in Japan in 1968.

They attribute the increase to schools which encourage students to learn to play musical instruments.

Planning Group

The Corte Madera Planning Commission will continue its hearing on proposed amendments to sign regulations at 8 p.m. next Thursday at town hall.

Ross School Board Changes Meeting

Ross School District Board, scheduled to meet Sept. 15, has changed its meeting date to Sept. 22 at 8 p.m. at Ross School, Thomas A. Anderson, board secretary, has reported.

The change was made because the regular meeting date was too close to the beginning of the school year, he said.

Double Tolls For Bay Bridge

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — starting Monday, double tolls will be collected from westbound motorists on three bridges across San Francisco Bay. Eastbound motorists will cross free.

Eastbound toll will be eliminated for the Bay Bridge to Oakland, the Hayward-San Mateo bridge, and the Dumbarton bridge at the south end of the bay.

E. R. Foley, chief engineer for the Division of Bay Toll Crossings, said the change would reduce congestion, increase safety and save the state $300,000 a year, mostly in toll collector payroll and booth maintenance.

Fifty-cent one-way tolls have been collected since Oct. 19, 1968 from southbound traffic on Golden Gate Bridge, which pioneered the successful one-way toll system in the Bay Area.

Burglars Take Persian Rugs

Two Persian rugs valued at $1,100 were stolen from the Vincent O'Kelly residence, 17 Buena Vista Avenue, while the family was on vacation, Corte Madera police reported today.

The O'Kellys returned yesterday to discover the loss. The family had stored its other valuables during vacation, but left the 12-by-15 foot and 3-by-6-foot rugs on the floor, police said.

Tricia Nixon Is Said Doing Well

WASHINGTON (AP) — Doctors still haven't pinpointed the cause of abdominal pains which hospitalized Tricia Nixon, but President Richard M. Nixon's elder daughter is reported improving and free of pain.

The White House reported yesterday that Tricia was still under observation at Walter Reed Hospital, where she was taken by ambulance Tuesday morning.

The Western White House at San Clemente reported earlier yesterday that the President's 23-year-old daughter was out of bed, eating and "doing well."

Youth Faces Counts From Hammer Fight

Edwin Wesley Cadra, 18, of San Rafael, arrested Tuesday night in San Rafael after a fight, high speed chase and car crash, was charged yesterday in Marin Municipal Court with misdemeanor offenses of assault and battery and threatening another youth with a hammer.

His case was continued until today.

Police said that Cadra was involved in a fight in San Rafael with Michael J. Smith, 16, of Larkspur and threatened him with a hammer. Following the fight Cadra drove off and was chased by Smith's friends. The high speed chase ended when Cadra's car crashed into a tree on Belle Avenue.

A passenger received minor injuries in the crash.

In another case pending against Cadra, a felony burglary charge, it was reported yesterday in court that the juvenile court refused to accept the matter because of the youth's record.

A preliminary hearing for him and a co-defendant, Dave Joel Shute, 18, also of San Rafael, was set for next Thursday.

Water Work Finished At Justice Hall

Marin Municipal Water District's work at the Hall of Justice has been completed, three years after the contract was let.

Total cost of installing water facilities for the project was $31,541.49, J. Dietrich Stroeh, a district engineer, told the board yesterday.

The cost was $2,596 over estimates because of a 27 per cent increase in imported backfull quantities and two extra work orders, Stroeh said.

The Marin Municipal Water District board also:

PIPE — Bought 18,500 feet of pipe from Marysville Steel Inc., Marysville, on a low bid of $45,543, well below the engineer's estimate of $54,000.

MILL VALLEY — Awarded a contract for installation of water facilities on Sycamore Avenue, Mill Valley to Maggiora and Ghilotti Inc. of Corte Madera on a low bid of $9,542 under the engineer's estimate of $10,650.

SUPPLIES — Purchased 20 tons of copper sulfate from Wilson and George Meyer and Co., South San Francisco for $8,676; electrical materials for $1,048 from National Electric Supply of San Rafael; and tone signaling equipment for the master control system from Acco, Bristol Division, San Francisco for $13,984.

PHOENIX — Approved a request from Redwood High School to use the area around Phoenix Lake for six track meets.

PERSONNEL — Hired Donald Curry and Stephen Kenney as engineering aides at $602 per month; Carolyn L. McGown as an intermediate typist-clerk at $466 a month, and Chester D. Smith and Glenn M. Walsh as laborers at $558 a month.

San Pedro Odor Can't Be Helped

Complaints about odor from the San Pedro Road pumping station were renewed before the San Rafael Sanitation District Board yesterday.

John Hyams of 41 Loma Linda Road, who previously has appeared before the board to protest the odor, said it is continuing.

Chairman Fred E. Jensen said the district "is doing everything it can" to eliminate the odor, and "there's nothing more we can do. We're not going to move the plant."

Directors also received notice from Marin County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell that the district's assessed valuation is $94,156,892, up 2 per cent from last year.

SAUSALITO INTEGRATION

Panther Breakfasts Triggered Major Controversy

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON
(Fourth of five articles.)

Last May 21, with only three weeks remaining of the school term, the Black Panther Party served breakfast to about 125 Sausalito school children, thereby setting off a major brouhaha.

Alan Jones, Independent-Journal reporter who attended the initial breakfast at Martin Luther King School, reported:

"The Panthers put several posters around the room — pictures of Huey Newton, Eldridge Cleaver and Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. and copies of the Black Panther newspaper. One young man clearing tables led about a dozen children briefly in chants of 'free Huey!' and 'power to the people!" accompanied by the clenched-fist Panther salute. That and the posters were the only propagandizing visible during the breakfast."

That was enough, however, to bring some outcry from Sausalitans over continuing the breakfasts, and to cause State Supt. Max Rafferty to send James M. Hemphill, coordinator of school lunch programs for the state, to take a look at what was going on. Hemphill spent two days in Sausalito, and reported that he observed no propagandizing.

Supt. Phillip W. Schneider said he had authorized the breakfast program, and the Panthers had started it in one week after receiving authorization.

Some residents of Sausalito School District were unsatisfied, however. At the May 26 school board meeting, questions were raised as to how such a program could be started without prior approval by the board. Trustee Martha Freebairn-Smith replied that district policy allowed the superintendent to authorize use of school facilities without board approval.

Mrs. Freebairn-Smith was correct. On Aug. 14, 1967, Schneider — then six weeks in office as superintendent — took before the board a request by Vietnam Summer-Marin for use of the Central School auditorium. The minutes of that meeting relate: "It was decided that present procedure will be continued, requiring the board to consider only the extraordinary or questionable applications."

Apparently Superintendent Schneider did not consider the Black Panther Pary's application to use King School facilities to prepare and serve daily breakfasts was either extraordinary or questionable.

After hearing the complaints that followed start of the breakfast program, the board voted 3-1 to permit the Panthers to continue, James E. Muldoon dissenting and David E. Freedheim absent.

The protests did not die down, however. There were demands that, if it were necessary to serve breakfasts, the program be taken over by some agency other than the Black Panther Party. The Panthers' reply was that no one had ever done anything about it until they started the program.

At a July 23 mass meeting, Schneider reported the federal government might finance the breakfast program. A little later, Hemphill, of Rafferty's office, told a Marin meeting that federal funds for such a program had been available for a year but there had been no request from Sausalito.

Actually, the breakfast program was a variation of a school lunch program Sausalito School District had for many years prior to the 1967-68 school year.

Hot lunches were prepared at kitchens at Richardson Bay (now Martin Luther King) and Central schools. The kitchen at Central has been converted to a science room, but that at King is the one that was used by the Panthers.

Children paid 30 cents per day for lunch, but the district provided free lunches for children unable to pay. It levied an override tax to support the program.

At the Aug. 28, 1967, board meeting (the next after that at which the Vietnam Summer application was taken up), Superintendent Schneider, the minutes record, "announced that for budgetary reasons, the cafeteria will no longer be operated. Sack lunches will be provided for needy children and eligibility will be decided by the school nurse and the community worker."

From time to time thereafter, trustees inquired about the sack lunch program. On Oct. 9, 1967, Asst. Supt. Joseph Amato reported that "all children are being provided nutrition when and at the proper time necessary to sustain them for the school program. Any member of the staff may refer or request any child to receive lunch, breakfast, or snack at any time of day." He made similar assurances at several subsequent meetings.

A side benefit showed up when, at the July 30, 1968, board meeting, Amato reported the tax rate could be reduced for 1968-9 by dropping the override for school lunches, as a surplus had accrued fom the less-expensive sack lunch program. (The surplus was used up in one year.)

A month earlier had come the first hint of need for a breakfast program. Trustee Nathaniel Johnson at the June 24, 1968, board meeting remarked that the monthly report showed more breakfasts than lunches served at Manzanita School and asked why.

Superintendent Schneider replied that "some children are not eating breakfast at home, but are bringing lunches."

(Tomorrow: separatists for an integrated school system.)

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

THIRD SECTION — SAN RAFAEL, CALIFORNIA, THURSDAY, AUGUST 28, 1969 — 21

APPOINTED — Virginia M. Anderson has been named director of nursing services at Cottage Convalescent Hospital, San Rafael. Miss Anderson had been head operating nurse at Marin General Hospital for the past six years.

Walton's View Of The Revolution

Sidney F. Walton Jr. called on black educators at a Berkeley conference nearly two years ago to "work for black revolution and black guerrilla warfare," according to an Oakland teacher who attended the conference.

Walton is the newly hired principal of Martin Luther King School in Sausalito, whose status with Sausalito School District is to be discussed at a closing meeting of the district board tonight.

Hildegarde Dennis of Berkeley, who teaches at Madison Junior High School in Oakland and instructs a night class at Merritt Junior College, said she met Walton at a black educators' conference at University of California in 1967. Black educators from throughout the Bay Area were present, she said. Featured speaker was Nathan Hare, who later was hired by San Francisco State College to head its black studies department and joined the strike of the Black Student Union over the famous "10 non-negotiable demands."

Walton appeared to be in charge of the conference, Mrs. Dennis told the Independent-Journal. He was then a counselor at Merritt Junior College.

Several white teachers from San Francisco showed up, she said, but were ordered to leave. Walton then launched into his revolutionary talk.

Mrs. Dennis said she became angry, rose to contradict him after he cursed the Catholic sisters who teach at parochial schools (she received her early education in such schools) and went on to talk of "killing white bastards and burning down their schools."

The Oakland teacher said she told Walton: "I have had to fight white prejudice all may life; now I'm going to have to fight you."

His response, she said, was to call her a "honky lover." Subsequently, she claimed, "Walton and other Black Power people" tried to get her dismissed from her teaching jobs.

Mrs. Dennis is a graduate of Dillard University in New Orleans and holds a master's degree from Fisk University of California in Berkeley and Santa Barbara. She has been teaching 22 years in California.

Her 18-year-old son, Archie (Tony) Dennis, was severely beaten by a gang of youths last June in San Jose, where he was attending San Jose State College. He is still under treatment at Langley Porter Clinic in San Francisco.

Mrs. Dennis said she had received numerous telephone threats against her life and her son's life. "But they can't scare me," she declared. — to make you afraid. If you are afraid, you are destroyed. They can't do that to me."

Walton's book, "The Black Curriculum," reproduces a newspaper clipping quoting Mrs. Dennis as saying Negro public school students are being told by some black educators to "kill the white man," destroy the schools, and foment revolution against white society.

"She named a counselor at Merritt Junior College, Oakland, and a teacher at Merritt, as being among the leaders of the militant black educators movement," the newspaper story continues.

On the following page of his book, Walton wrote:

"Any 'Negro' who allows himself or herself to be used by the white racist system should be exposed and labeled as a traitor so that the white racist system will see that such people are no longer tolerated in the Black community and that action will be taken against both the 'user' and the 'used.' White newspapers must be made to suffer when they encourage a 'Negro' woman with slave mentality to say what the white racist mother xxxxxx have programmed her to say."

Five Thefts Reported In San Rafael

San Rafael police today reported five burglaries.

Wirecutters were used to open a section of chain link fence around the yard of C and L Auto Wreckers at 931 Second Street, from which $360 worth of auto. transmissions and tires were stolen Tuesday night.

Someone walked through the unlocked side door of United Liquors at 1556 Fourth Street and left with $100 in coins in a cigar box in a rear storage room Tuesday afternoon.

A $30 ice chest was reported stolen Tuesday night from the open garage of Anson A. Troper at 2201 Fifth Avenue.

Lynda M. Lione reported that the screen door on the balcony of her apartment at 55 Fairfax Street was removed August 21 while she was gone and that on Tuesday she found that $24 worth of record albums and a sweater and rings belonging to her roommate were missing. No value estimate was given.

Norma C Wall reported that Tuesday night or yesterday someone entered her home at 632 Belle Avenue by breaking a rear door glass, ransacked drawers and closets, ate a candy bar, left his shirt on the living room floor and departed. Nothing was reported missing.

Attack Of Flu

Ada M. Fusselman of 223 San Anselmo Avenue, San Anselmo, former longtime Marin Junior College District trustee, was reported recovering today in Ross General Hospital from a severe attack of influenza.

Police Arrest Drugs Suspect

Paul Ross Mushen, 19, of Gate 3, Sausalito, was arrested by Sausalito police early today on suspicion of possession of a dangerous drug.

He was held at Marin County Jail for arraignment this afternoon in lieu of $750 bail.

Police said they saw Mushen toss away a small container as they followed him up the Excelsior Lane steps. Officers retrieved the container and it contained a substance believed to be hashish, they said.

Bicycle Stolen

San Rafael police reported today that a $40 bicycle owned by Robert Foppoli of 52 Locksley Lane, San Rafael, was stolen yesterday from in front of Mayfair Market at 340 Third Street.

Petaluma Overcrossing Job Will Be Finished Earlier

The widening and improvement of the Washington Street overcrossing of Highway 101 in Petaluma will be finished earlier than the projected 1977-78 schedule, according to the state highway commission.

In a letter yesterday to Mayor Helen Putnam, T. J. Bagshaw, the commission's executive secretary, said that a report presented to the commission this month showed that widening from two to four lanes will be needed sooner than anticipated because of higher than expected traffic volume.

The report stepping up the construction schedule is an outgrowth of a meeting held in Sacramento in May attended by Mayor Putnam, former councilman Robert S. Lipman and City Mgr. Robert H. Meyer.

Bagshaw said a further review will be made and preparation of designs will be presented to the commission when financing is considered.

Right Address

Rev. John J. O'Conner, who was named to the screening committee for candidates for the Marin County Youth Commission Tuesday, lives at 1 Trinity Way, San Rafael, St. Isabella's rectory, not at 29 Paloma Drive, Corte Madera, as reported yesterday in the Independent-Journal.

Santa Venetia Man Needs More Blood

Patrick Holman of Santa Venetia, recipient of blood donations last year, has been hospitalized again and again needs blood, his wife said today in an appeal for donors.

Holman, 35, of 10 La Brea Way, was admitted to Marin General Hospital Sunday with bleeding in the legs from an old injury. Doctors are stemming the bleeding with cryoprecipitate, a portion of blood plasma, and Holman may be released next week if there is no recurrence, Mrs. Holman said.

Holman has received three bags of cryoprecipitate, each requiring 12 pints of blood, she said. Holman had similar bleeding last November and received more than 36 plasma transfusions.

She asked for donations of any type blood in Holman's name at the Irwin Memorial Blood Bank, 506 Fourth Street, San Rafael.

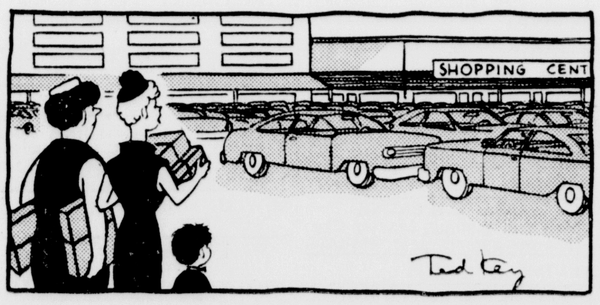
Driver Injured As Cars Collide

James Stephen Ahola, 18, of 303 Cascade Drive, Fairfax, was injured slightly yesterday when his car was struck in the rear by one driven by Dorothy Cecelia McAuliffe of Lagunitas, the California Highway Patrol said today.

Ahola, who complained of a pain in his neck, did not require medical treatment, the patrol said.

The 2:40 p.m. mishap was on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near Montezuma Road.

HAZEL



"Now, where'd we park that car?"

"Now, where'd we park that car?"
"Six lanes over and one block down."

Bolinas Park Bid Rejected

The Bolinas Community Public Utility District last night rejected a county proposal that the district take over maintenance of Bolinas Park, board secretary Jane Phillips reported today.

The county board of supervisors and parks and recreation department had proposed that the district assume responsibility for maintaining the park if it accepted $2,500 to resurface the tennis courts there.

Mrs. Phillips said Bolinas officials would discuss the matter further with county officials to see if a compromise can be compromise can be worked out.

In other action, the board promoted maintenance engineer Edward Genazzi to maintenance foreman with a $25 monthly salary boost to $635. Genazzi has been with the old Bolinas Beach Utility District and the new utility district 20 years.

Tile Flooring Contract Given

A $343 contract to install vinyl tile flooring in the classroom at the drill tower on Atherton Avenue was awarded last night by the Novato Fire District board to Strand Carpet and Linoleum of San Rafael, lowest of three bidders.

The board officially accepted the resignation of director Donald Donahue, and did not name anyone to fill the vacancy as director Joseph Silviera, was absent, Fire Chief Jack Kidder said.

The board adjourned to 7:30 p.m. next Wednesday when it will go over specifications for a new fire truck.

Theft During Fire

While Marin City firemen were out at a fire Tuesday night, burglars broke into the living quarters at the Drake Avenue county firehouse and stole a television set and a clock radio, sheriff's deputies reported today.

HEAR YE! HEAR YE!

Jack Albee (The Magnifico) will arrive in the shire of San Rafael (Cheers) to improve, uplift and instruct the ignorant natives thereof in the ancient art of pantomine. Little ones will be instructed in baroque movements of royal courtesy, as well as jumping-for-joy movements, the sad postures (wherein we bless all our sorrows) as well as the alphabetical, acrobatical and magical postures of arlequino, pantalone, Charlie Chapolone, Marcel Marcelone and other elegant mimics of the ages. Such notice hath the privy seal of Elizabeth Regina and is delivered to you with her love and blessing for THE PLEASURE FAIRE. Magnifico will teach mime to kids and adults twice a week, mornings & after school for ye full month of September. His students shall then perform at the Pleasure Faire, September 27th. Classes—$30 for six lessons. Taught on the Greenwood Stage. Call ye, 1-752-7421, for this and other matters pertaining to ye Grand Parade of Minds in your shire with his great retinue of fools, ragged royalty, stray dogs, and sundry leprechauns, pipers, pages and platypuses. Save your shillings and pence for Albee is coming hence!

GOOD – BETTER – BEST!
The original owners of this 7 year old hillside home have added many extras that make it a delight to show! Starting with 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, they have added a lovely raised hearth fireplace, a large separate workshop and have landscaped this ¼ acre site. If you desire, they'll leave the range, refrigerator and washer & dryer as well. One thing they couldn't improve on — the view! San Anselmo, Ross Valley, the Berkeley Hills to Mt. Diablo. At $31,950, see it!

SELECTION OF FINE HOMES

CLOSE IN — CONVENIENT — SAN RAFAEL
A lovely setting frames this spacious 4 bedroom, 2 bath home, just a short distance to the San Rafael shops. Massive oak trees give shade to the wraparound deck which merges with the beautiful garden area at the rear of the house, all low maintenance landscaping. Home has a workshop in the basement, extra large oven in kitchen; very attractive brick fireplace in the living room. $39,800. Eves. 453-5983.

RUSTIC CONTEMPORARY — NOVATO
Very well maintained home in a charming cul-de-sac of fine houses. Ideal for the family with small children. 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, formal dining room, family room, separate utility room. Attractive garden, landscaped for low maintenance care. $42,950. Eves. 924-4323.

LONGING FOR COUNTRY-STYLE LIVING? — SONOMA
Then this is for you. A well-built 3 bedroom home on 9 acres of land in the Valley of the Moon. Within easy reach of downtown Sonoma and adjacent to the airport, with excellent privacy but convenient to everything. Plenty of room for a POOL, orchard and horses. $45,000. Eves. 456-3383.

ATTENTION TENNIS BUFFS!! — SAN RAFAEL
Close to Racquet Club with Club membership available! A lovely split level, 3 bedroom, 2½ bath home, just 4 years old with a magnificent view. The family room in this immaculate home is large and has an attached laundry area with ½ bath. The foyer is floored in quarry tile, and kitchen has lots of work space. Carpets are like new as are the drapes. Living room has a 10' used brick raised hearth fireplace. Landscaping is excellent and designed for minimum maintenance. Close to elementary school in a fine area. $49,900. Eves. 453-8881.

DOMINICAN HEIGHTS — SAN RAFAEL
A very pleasing four bedroom, 2½ bath family home only four years old, in an excellent residential area. In a beautifully landscaped setting with an abundance of flowers and large oaks, custom swimming POOL for those lazy summer days, outdoor brick barbeque. Home has a formal dining room, large family room with fireplace and is well designed for entertaining and gracious living. 3 spacious decks offer a nice view over the hills to Mount Tamalpais. $62,000. Eves. 456-3383.

SOPHISTICATED — SAN RAFAEL
An elegant home for the mature family. Generous use of terrazzo tile. Sunken living room. Jenn Air Island Cooking Center in kitchen. Breakfast rm. and sep. garden rm. open to sky. 3 bdrms. & den or 4th bdrm., 3 baths, 3,300 sq. ft. Highest quality construction. 1.3 acres. $79,950. Eves. 924-4323.

FERNROCK — SEBASTOPOL
A gentleman's ranch on 6.5 acres of beautifully wooded land, with many stately redwood trees and ferns in abundance. The main home is unusually attractive — the walls and ceiling are insulated with handsome mahogany paneling in the family room and kitchen, floors are hardwood; living room is 30'x18' with fireplace and built-in bookcases; master bedroom is spacious with white marble antique fireplace. There is a 2 bedroom guest house, with fully equipped kitchen, breakfast room, fireplace, bath and stall shower, own well, and patio. Grounds provide a lovely picnic area in a redwood grove. There are three pastures, fully fenced for livestock. The home is secluded but most accessible. $80,000. Eves. 924-4323.

THE VIEW GOES ON FOREVER — NOVATO
from this superb custom-built contemporary 3 bedroom, 2 bath home high above Marin Country Club. Your view includes the valley, lush green golf course and all the way out to the bay. OPULENCE ON THE GRAND SCALE

Exclusively offered, on ¾ acre of land with a view that defies description. Atop Sugar Loaf Drive, you look out through Golden Gate and see full span of bridge, San Francisco, the Marina, Pacific Heights, Russian, Nob and Telegraph Hills and Twin Peaks; on clear days, Oakland and Berkeley are in view to the east. A luxury home of finest quality, this is an authentic Spanish stucco 3 story home. The top floor with 3 bedrooms, 4 dressing rooms, 2 full baths is reached by a magnificent staircase running diagonally through the 27' high entry hall. Downstairs the large kitchen is designed for gourmet cooking and convenience for catered dinners in the banquet sized dining room. The double front doors are massive hand carved solid redwood; living room is large of course and takes advantage of the view; roomy wet bar, large enough for 2 bartenders, but can be shut off from view. Game room on lower level, guest room and bath, unfinished suite, storage. POOL, 36' protected for your enjoyment. One of the few true luxury homes available. $235,000. Eves. 435-1590.

SUMMONS
(General)
No. 53072

Superior Court of the State of California for the County of Marin

vs.

ROBB POTTER CRIST, Defendant

You are directed to file with the clerk of this court in which the above entitled action is brought a written pleading in response to the divorce complaint within ten days after the service on you of this summons, if served within the above named county, or within thirty days if served elsewhere (except that if the action is against the state pursuant to Section 738.5 of the Code of Civil Procedure, within 180 days). You are notified that unless you so file a written responsive pleading, the plaintiff will take judgment for any money or damages demanded in the complaint, as arising upon contract, or will apply to the court for any other relief demanded in the complaint.

You may seek the advice of an attorney on any matter connected with the complaint or this summons. Such attorney should be consulted within the time limit stated in this summons for filing a written pleading to the complaint.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Chemical Agents Available For Painful Bites By Black Flies

VAN DELLEN

Black fly bites are painful and occasionally are associated with swelling of the nearby lymph nodes. Ointments containing antihistamines or a cortisone-like product relieve the itching. Antibiotics help reduce the inflammatory process.

Applications of a good insect repellent to the skin and clothing are good preventatives. These products are most useful in keeping away biting insects but not bees or wasps that sting when provoked. It is well to avoid perfumes, scented creams, and sprays because these tend to attract insects.

We read more and more about severe allergic reactions to insect bites or stings. The involved area swells and the victim may develop asthma and go into shock. In many instances, the sensitivity is confined to specific insects for which desensitizing extracts are available. This is true of the black fly.

IT IS DIFFICULT to develop lead poisoning (plumbism) from food and drink because, by law, they cannot be prepared or stored in containers made of the metal. The regulations also cover the use of lead pipes to convey the liquids. The hazard is well-known, yet illegal stills often are made from old automobile radiators and lead piping. Many "mountain people" succumb to lead poisoning after drinking local moonshine.

According to the British Medical Journal, a middle-aged Englishman developed severe abdominal cramps, vomiting, and diarrhea. On questioning, the man said he drank a quart of his own home-brewed cider each day for 30 years. During the distilling process he poured apple juice onto a lead-lined tray at the base of the press.

THE VICTIM used a 120-year-old cider press. Thirty years ago, the bottom began to leak and it was repaired with a watertight lead covering to prevent the loss of the juice. Thirty years elapsed before the tray gave off enough lead to contaminate the cider and bring on the poisoning.

(Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the Independent-Journal.)

RESERPINE

Mrs. C. E. H. writes: Would you please tell me something about reserpine? What is this drug used for and does it require a prescription?

REPLY

Reserpine comes from the roots of the rauwolfia plant that grows in India. The extract is used in the treatment of hypertension, chronic anxiety, severe mental disorders, and as a sedative, or tranquilizer. It is a prescription product.

TOBACCO AND WEIGHT

W. G. writes: Will the person who gives up smoking put on weight?

REPLY

Many men and women gain weight when they stop smoking because appetite returns and food tastes better. In addition, eating gives them something to do. In time, the appetite settles down and so does the weight.

EQUESTRIENNE

W. R. writes: Is horseback riding too strenuous an exercise for a woman who is three months pregnant?

REPLY

Opinions vary. Conservative physicians do not recommend this activity after the third month of pregnancy.

DIABETES

D. M. writes: Do most diabetics have high blood pressure?

REPLY

No. The incidence of hypertension in diabetics is not necessarily any greater than in those who do not have the disease.

Today's Health Hint — Emotional pressures may cause muscular tension.

Jury Selected To Hear Sadistic Slaying Case

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Selection of a seven-man, five-woman jury was completed late yesterday to hear testimony in the trial of four young men charged with the sadistic orgy slaying of a teen-age girl.

The defendants, all former residents of the Haight-Ashbury District, are charged with killing Ann Jiminez, 19, of Bellingham, Wash. Her battered and bruised body was discovered the day after Christmas covered with obscenities scrawned in lipstick.

In addition to murder, Larry Garrett, 26, Clyde Safley, 24, David Hinkle, 18, and Joseph Henerson, 19, are accused of felony counts of rape, sodomy and oral copulation.

Police said their investigation of the case indicated Miss Jiminez was killed as punishment for allegedly stealing a pair of boots.

Injuries Minor In Span Crash

Ronald Paul Mentgen, 35, of 29B Edwards Avenue, Sausalito, was injured slightly early today when his car was struck by another on the Golden Gate Bridge, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The patrol said Mentgen's car was hit in the rear by one driven by David Allan Colvin, 25, of 95 Barbarbe Way, Tiburon. The impact in the northbound lanes sent Mentgen's car across the southbound lanes into the guard rail, the patrol said.

He complained of neck and shoulder pains and was to see his own doctor. The mishap occurred at 2:30 a.m.

good aim

The I-J's on the way—and so is he!

Perhaps it's the daily habit of delivering the news right to your home that gives I-J carriers, like him, a sense of direction in life.

Maybe it's the feeling of managing a route, where each boy is his own boss. Or the idea of collecting and banking money each month. Or maybe the channeling of energy into responsible effort . . . serving others.

It could be the solid training, too, which these boys receive from our experienced circulation advisors.

But one thing's certain: these boys develop AIMS and GOALS often a lot larger than the boys themselves. The aim to serve . . . the goal of a college education, for instance . . . with savings to attain it. They discover that delivering the paper on time, in place, can lead to the larger ends of independence and initiative.

Otis Sued For Stuck Elevator

CHICAGO (AP) A woman filed a $100,000 damage suit against Otis Elevator Co. yesterday charging she was trapped for five days without food or water in a home elevator that the firm serviced.

Mrs. Rosemary Baur Bull, 58, a member of a socially prominent Chicago family, charged that the elevator stopped between the first and second floors in her four-story Near North Side mansion on July 10.

She said she was alone in the house and could not escape from the elevator without help. She was rescued July 15, the suit said, when her handyman returned from a vacation, and heard the alarm bell ringing.

Her suit filed in Circuit Court charges that she paid Otis $600 a year for elevator maintenance and that she had "complained about noises in the elevator."

Chrysler, Ford To Hike Prices

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. and Chrysler Corp. are reported shipping 1970 model cars to dealers with tentative price increases as high as $275.

The Detroit News said yesterday that average Ford car prices tentatively will be up $68 or about two per cent.

Chrysler Chairman Lynn Townsend has refused to disclose an average tentative price hike but said the 1970 prices would be higher than last year.

These prices represent only notification on invoices to dealers who arrange preintroduction sales. Final prices may be either higher or lower than these tentative estimates.

Ford prices will be set before the cars go on sale officially Sept. 19. Final Chrysler prices will be decided shortly before their sale opening Sept. 23.

New Brush Fires Blaze Along The French Riviera

NICE, France (AP) — Two dozen or more brush fires blazed along the French Riviera today from the Pyrenees to the Italian frontier. Police speculated some were deliberately set.

Campers near Cannes reported seeing someone run away after igniting paper beneath a pile of wood. A fireman near Barjols reported a similar incident.

Officials said several thousand acres were burned out, adding to the more than 10,000 acres ravaged by fires last weekend.

A resident in the fire-blackened Florieyes Valley, formerly one of the Riviera's beauty spots, said: "There won't be anything to burn here for 10 years."

Eighty fire fighters from villages in central France arrived to help more than 1,000 firemen, soldiers, Algerians and U.S. 6th Fleet personnel trying to contain the flames. Firemen were assembled as far away as Paris to fly to the scene if the situation deteriorates.

So far only minor injuries have been reported.

One fire reportedly reached a perimeter of 18 miles during the night. Others were advancing with one or two-mile-wide fronts, officials said.

The wind that fanned the flames last weekend diminished this morning, however, and spokesmen said the fire fighters were able to control the flames in most areas except a 21-mile fire front near Barjols, one of the widest.

More than 650 men with 200 fire engines were battling that blaze, helped by two Catalina amphibian planes dumping four tons of water every few minutes.

Arraignment On Card Charge

Allen Richard Sledge, 27, of 4 Tamarack Avenue, San Geronimo, was arraigned yesterday in Marin Municipal Court on a felony charge of signing another person's name to a credit card.

Judge Hadden W. Roth released him on his recognizance and told him to return to court Tuesday to plead to the charge.

He is accused of committing the offense July 16.

Hearing Scheduled For Errant Drivers

A preliminary hearing has been set for Sept. 18 in Marin Municipal Court for Kent Earl Hausman, 19, of San Rafael and Michael Henry Sklar, 24, of no known address, who are accused of possessing marijuana July 7.

They were arrested by a narcotics agent who was on his way to the San Francisco zoo when he noticed their car weaving.

San Franciscan Booked For Gun

A 23-year-old San Francisco man who had been stopped for a vehicle violation was arrested by the California Highway Patrol last night on suspicion of carrying a concealed weapon.

Jonathan Walter Randell was booked at Marin County Jail where he was being held for a court appearance this afternoon in lieu of $3,125 bail.

The highway patrol said Randell's car was stopped on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near Wolfe Grade at 8:15 p.m. because it was making excessive noise.

An officer reported he smelled burnt marijuana and when he told Randell he was going to make a search, Randell admitted he was carrying an automatic pistol.

Records On Cleaver Fund Still Missing

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A federal grand jury investigating the Black Panther Party has failed to obtain records of the Eldridge Cleaver Legal Defense Fund Committee. The records were subpoenaed.

Committee chairman Robert Scheer, editor of Ramparts magazine, and Ric Hyland, executive secretary of the defunct committee, said they told the grand jury yesterday they don't have the records.

Malcolm Bernstein, attorney for Scheer and Hyland, said Ramparts moved since the committee was last active and the records have not been found.

He said Scheer and Hyland "answered all questions. We have nothing to hide. If we had records they would have been produced."

However, he said they would have balked at producing names of contributors.

The appearance of Melvin Newton, Panther finance minister and brother of party founder Huey Newton, was continued until Sept. 9.

Allan Brotsky, Newton's attorney, said he will file a motion Friday to quash the subpoena for Newton to appear and produce records of the defense fund for his imprisoned brother.

Brotsky is fighting the Newton subpoena to prevent disclosure of the names of fund contributors.

He said he would rely on a Supreme Court ruling in a case between the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and Alabama that to reveal such records infringes on freedom of association.

Hyland said he was quizzed about the Peace and Freedom party as well as the Cleaver fund.

Zoo Gorilla Kills Its Baby

OMAHA, Neb. (UPI)—Benoit killed her son because she didn't know what it was, authorities have decided.

Benoit, a gorilla at Omaha's Henry Doorly Zoo, gave birth to a three pound male yesterday at the zoo, climaxing a romance with Casey, a male gorilla from the St. Paul, Minn., zoo.

But 10 hours after the birth, the baby gorilla died of injuries inflicted by his mother. Zookeepers said Benoit carried the baby with its head in her mouth and shook it vigorously before the keeper was able to tranquilize the mother and place the new born gorilla in an incubator.

Zoo authorities explained Benoit didn't know what the baby was because she had not been raised in a gorilla family-type atmosphere.

Ex-Governor's Wife Expecting First Child

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — The 41-year-old wife of former Gov. Robert B. Meyner is expecting the couple's first child after 13 years of marriage.

Helen Meyner announced yesterday that she and her 61-year-old husband, who is the Democratic candidate for governor again this year, expect a baby in late February.

She said pregnancy was achieved with the aid of the fertility drug Pergonal.

"We had always hoped to have a child, but one has to be philosophical about it," Mrs. Meyner said. "I had had a fertility problem."

She said that she had been under treatment by fertility experts at Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center in New York City for about four years, "then surprisingly it was effective this spring."

Mrs. Meyner, a brunette with blue-grey eyes, said her husband was delighted with the prospect of becoming a father at last.

"He reacted with characteristic humor," she reported. "He said, 'Well, it's too late for grandchildren, so I might as well settle for children.'"

Mrs. Meyner said she was not concerned about giving birth to her first child after the age of 40. "I've never felt better."

Santa Venetia Heist

Burglars who entered the home of Thomas E. Haman at 52 Vendola Drive, Santa Venetia, stole between $200 and $300, sheriff's deputies said yesterday. The theft occurred sometime last weekend.

Mrs. Cann Is Marin Champ Of Champs

LAURA CANN, en route to victory

MRS. NANCY GAPINSKI, 86

MRS. BETTY ROBERTS, 87

MRS. VIRGINIA MAY, 88

MRS. TILLIE GONDAK, 88

MRS. JEAN DEKAY, 88

Mrs. John Cann, looking cool and trim and not a bit unruffled, was just a shade disappointed.

"I had too many double bogeys," she said in the San Geronimo National Golf Course clubhouse yesterday afternoon.

The perennial champion of the Meadow-Club near Fairfax and mother of four had three double bogeys, but it wasn't nearly enough to prevent her from charging to the second annual Marin County Women's Golf Tournament of Champions title as she carded a steady 41-41-82 over the demanding San Geronimo course.

She broke from a front-nine deadlock with home course champion Mrs. Lawrence Gapinski.

Mrs. Gapinski, 43, finished in the runnerup spot, four strokes behind at 41-45—86. Mrs. Don Roberts, 44, the Mill Valley champ, was third at 46-41—87.

Mrs. William May of Indian Valley in Novato, last year's champion, experienced some tough luck around the greens and finished in a tie for fourth with Mrs. Charles Gondak, 49, the Marin Country Club champ at 88. Mrs. May carded a 46-42—88 and Mrs. Gondak wound up with a 43-45—88.

Mrs. Richard DeKay, 45, the Peacock Gap (San Rafael) champion who had said she didn't have a prayer, turned out to be accurate as she finished last with a 48-50-98 total.

Laura Cann, 43, who may have been just a shade unsatisfied with her round, didn't know she'd won the title, having come in with the first threesome.

She found out when the second threesome of Mesdames Gapinski May and Gondak arrived and congratulated her.

"I'm really surprised," she said. "Mostly, I concentrated on meeting the ball squarely. I tried for par. I got the strokes when it counted."

Mrs. Gapinski's game came undone on the back nine.

"I ran into too many par threes on the back nine," she said. "I was really nervous, too. That's Laura's secret. She wasn't."

Mrs. Cann admitted as much. At least she didn't show any case of nerves she may have had.

Both ladies, who are tennis partners when not playing golf, thrived on the pressure of this tournament.

"It's really great," Mrs. Gapinski said. "It's so different playing with a gallery. You're always aware of the audience, how you look, what you're doing."

Marin Firm Jumps Into The Motorsports Market

Last Sunday's Trans-Am sedan stopover at Laguna Seca en route to the Sept. 21 date at Sears Point International Raceway brings to mind motorsports in general and my friend H. K. White of Larkspur in particular.

Mr White is the 31-year-old president of the San Rafael-based H. M. Labs, Inc., whose Sta-Power products are rapidly gaining in the engine conditioning market.

Probably tempted by Andy Granatelli's promotional success with STP through the motorsports market, White is jumping into auto racing with both feet on the accelerator. Think of the Indianapolis 500-mile race and you think of Mario Andretti PLUS Granatelli and STP.

Sta-Power already has under contract drivers Ron Grable and Bob Brown, well-known along the road racing circuit, plus the mechanical know-how of Ken Holden as chief consultant.

May Have Indy Car By 1971

White's newest promotional projects are presently building a Formula One car for international competition and, says he, "Our long-range goal is to have a car carry the name Sta-Power in the 1971 500-mile Indianapolis race."

This is not a piddling financial undertaking because Indy-type cars range from $60,000 to $100,000. It's not like going down to the local motormart, kicking a few tires, taking a spin around the block and then signing a time-payment contract.

But, the rewards can be great, ala Granatelli. Motorsports ranks second only to horse racing and its pari-mutuel inducements as America's most popular spectator sport, so I'm told.

Why, putting the name Sta-Power emblem on an Indy car is better than, say, stamping Saxon Apple Juice on Willie Mays' shirt.

Beth To Be Honorary Ref

MRS. BETH KAUFMAN of Greenbrae, founder of the National Amateur Athletic Union's fabulously successful age-group swimming program, will be honored as honorary referee at a junior swim meet in Lafayette, Sept. 6-7.

EX-BERKELEY sports writer Jim Scott has written a book, "Ernie Nevers, Football Hero," about the Tiburon resident's rise from a teen-age fat boy in Santa Rosa to national gridiron fame. Published by T. S. Denison & So. of Minneapolis, it's directed for the younger readership, much like Scott's previous literary effort on behalf of Bob Mathias, the All-American boy.

HIS MANY Marin friends will be happy to know that ex-Drake High and College of Marin star Bill Ingram has just about nailed down the number one quarterback job at U. of Cal at Davis this fall. Bill was number two man last season.

A SLIGHT correction in final standings from Sunday's Dipsea was announced Monday by the sponsoring Mill Valley Junior Chamber of Commerce. Jack Lawson, who finished 10th, was declared an unofficial entry and bumped off the list, moving everyone up one notch. Thus, 1968 winner Don Pickett of Tiburon placed 10th instead of 11th and two-time winner Jack Kirk 20th instead of 21st.

Power And Speed Of Bonds Keeps Giants Driving

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "I'm not a go-go guy like some other base - stealers," says Giants' second-year star Bobby Bonds. "I only steal when I think it can help the club."

Bonds placed his theory into practice yesterday, making his second steal of the game in the 10th inning and scoring the winning run on Jim Davenport's bases-loaded single for an 8-7 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies.

San Francisco sought its eighth straight win today when Ray Sadecki, 4-8, opposed Billy Champion, 4-6, in the final 1969 competition between the clubs. The Giants hold an 8-3 advantage over Philadelphia.

Bonds' two steals gave him 36 in 39 attempts for a sizzling .923 percentage, tops in the majors. He hadn't attempted a theft since taking over as the Giants No. 5 batter when the winning streak began.

SIX HOMERS

Concentrating more on power, Bonds has belted six homers in the seven games, including his 28th following a walk to Willie McCovey in the second inning yesterday.

"I don't feel any more pressure batting fifth," said Bonds, a former leadoff batter. "A lot of times when they walk McCovey (it's been done 96 times), there's a man on third, so I go for the sacrifice fly."

McCovey also continued his lusty run production in the single in the third inning and a two-out, two-run homer in the fifth after Willie Mays was safe on an error.

The homer was McCovey's league-leading 41st and the four runs batted in boosted him past Ron Santo and into the lead with 110. McCovey has 19 RBIs in the seven games; Bonds, 15.

John Callison was the Phillies' batting hero, cracking a two-run homer in the fifth, a run-scoring double in the seventh and a game-tying triple in the ninth.

FARRELL LOSER

Reliver Dick Farrell, 3-4, yielded Bonds' single and stolen base with one out in the 10th. Dave Marshall was walked intentionally, and Dick Dietz, who homered in the fourth also walked.

Davenport batted for Hal Lanier and lined the second pitch into right field, making Frank Linzy, 11-6, a winner and keeping the Giants a half game ahead of the Reds and Braves, who also won Wednesday.

Mays had to leave the game after chasing Callison's triple. He suffered an injury near his left knee that will sideline him for a few days. Ken Henderson was removed in the third with a stiff neck.

"I've gotten to the point where I don't worry about injuries any more," said Manager Clyde King Wednesday. "Somehow, somebody always steps in and does the job--like Davenport did today."

Davenport explained his seventh game-winning hit of the season: "I was trying to go to right, to get the ball up for a sacrifice fly. I haven't played in quite a while, so I was glad I could help."

Foreman Hints Rick Will Face Lawsuit

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The new owner of the Oakland Oaks hinted strongly yesterday he will sue Rick Barry if the star forward refuses to play for the American Basketball Association team in Washington, D.C.

Earl Foreman, who purchased the Oaks for $2.6 million and plans to move them to Washington and rename them the Capitals, said he plans no further talks with Barry, who starred for the club last year.

"We have a contract with Mr. Barry and when the time comes that he is called upon to fulfill that contract, we will ask him to do so," said Foreman. "If he doesn't we will have to take other action."

DINNER WITH ALEX

Foreman said he had had dinner with Alex Hannum, coach of the Oaks, and very much wanted him to come to Washington with the team.

Hannum has been trying to obtain another ABA franchise Oakland, Albuquerque, N. M., and Kansas City have been mentioned as possible sites.

Barry, in the meantime, remained silent as to his plans in the face of persistent rumors that he would sign with the San Francisco Warriors of the National Basketball Association.

NO COMMENT

The Warriors, for whom Barry played before jumping to the Oaks, also refused comment on whether a signing of Barry was imminent.

Foreman denied reports he would not complete transfer of the team unless Barry and Hannum went with it.

"Without equivocation, without condition, without mental reservation, I have purchased a basketball team and I plan to take that team to Washington," he said.

U. S. NET STAR GOES DOWN TO DEFEAT

Bob Lutz of Los Angeles found the going a bit rough as he hit the ground in match with Australia's Tony Roche in the U.S. Open Tennis Tournament at Forest Hills, N.Y. yesterday. Roche won, 9-11, 6-4, 6-4, 9-7. Story on page 34.

Injuries Cripple Raiders; Lassiter Is Still Missing

SANTA ROSA (AP) — Pete Banaszak probably will replace running back Hewritt Dixon for the Oakland Raiders Sunday against the San Francisco 49ers because Dixon pulled some shoulder muscles Monday night against the New York Jets.

Banaszak looked good yesterday as the Raiders worked hard on their running game, which coach John Madden says is "always the last to get going" in shaping up a football team.

BIRDWELL HURT

Tackle Dan Birdwell is still out with a knee injury and rookie Art Thoms, a No. 1 draft choice from Syracuse, suffered a knee injury against the Jets and was placed on the injured waiver list yesterday.

Put on the list at the same time was Rodger Bird, starting safety, who had surgery for a shoulder injury during the off season and played briefly against New York.

The Raiders also placed 10 or more players on the regular waiver list but would not disclose the names of those cut. Two defensive backs, Don Ford, a rookie, and Charley Werner, a veteran, learned, however, that they were listed and refused to practice yesterday.

Substitute quarterback Cotton Davidson and rookie halfback Ken Newfield, who also has a knee injury, were others put on waivers.

HERB MICHELSON

A's Big Question: Kubiak Or Campy?

OAKLAND — Bert Campaneris is having such a poor season with the A's, it's amazing they don't sit him down right now for the rest of the year.

From conversations with several members of the Oakland club—not to mention other American League players—there seems to be no question that the A's would be a far better, more cohesive club in this stretch month with Teddy Kubiak at shortstop.

Campy's record a year ago, when he led the league in hits and, once again, in stolen bases, inspired an A's publicist to call him "the most exciting player in the American League."

But this season Campy has not even been the most exciting player on the Athletics, or the most exciting shortstop in the league. True, he was injured for nearly a month. Yet the injury alone is not sufficient excuse for Campaneris' dreadful play.

KEEPING CAMPY in the lineup would be reasonable, say some of the players, were not Kubiak available. Teddy's outhitting Campaneris by some 20 points and, while filling in during Bert's injury, fielded with excellence. He has more range, although perhaps not the strong arm of Campaneris.

But those physical attributes aside, there's a statistic that should dictate playing Kubiak: While Ted was a regular, the A's won 18 of 23 to keep them in the race with Minnesota. Since Campaneris returned, Oakland has been struggling to play .500 baseball.

And in the first 20 games after his return, Campy hit barely a lick — just above .150. He simply wasn't getting on base; Campaneris' greatest value is getting on base, where he can use his speed to pick up a theft and rattle the pitcher.

UNDER IDEAL, strictly utopian, circumstances, the A's picture a hot-hitting Campy leading off followed by Rick Monday, whose speed and left-handed bat makes the hit-and-run tantalizing. With these two fellows to harass the opposing pitcher, No. 3 man Reggie Jackson could then be at least as destructive as he's turned out anyway.

But the keystone of this plan has collapsed, and Monday never did hit well enough early in the year to merit his elevation to the second spot. So the alternative is to go with rather fast Jose Tartabull at leadoff and follow him with Kubiak.

Oakland won in July this way. And they need to win very badly in September — any way they can.

The knowledgeable baseball people will tell you there are at least eight shortstops in the league better — at bat, afield, or both — than Bert Campaneris. The list includes names such as Brinkman, Belanger, Fregosi, Aparicio, Petrocelli, Cardenas, Michael, Oyler.

MOST INTERESTINGLY, there are those who rate Kubiak — when he's playing regularly — at the level of several of those eight.

Campy is a quiet, brooding loner off the field; a reckless, demonstrative sort when he's playing. He's also a distinct favorite of A's owner Charles O. Finley.

Benching "the league's most exciting player" would draw a surprised, angry reaction from fans. But such a move could be a key to the flag.

Keyes May Be Richest Eagle Ever

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Purdue All-American Leroy Keyes has ended his holdout against the Philadelphia Eagles, and he says he is anxious to get out on the football field to justify the terms of his three-year pact.

General Manager Pete Retzlaff said the contract "has provisions that could make Leroy the highest paid Eagle in the team's history."

Although he refused to discuss the exact terms of the agreement, reportedly in the neighborhood of $200,000, Retzlaff said it includes a "no-cut" provision for the first year and "regular" salaries for the following years.

Keyes and Retzlaff finally came to terms yesterday, some six weeks after the National Football League club began training sessions at Albright College in Reading. After a brief news conference in Philadelphia, the Eagles' top draft choice left for Reading to join the team.

"I feel I'm about 82 per cent in condition right now," the 6-foot-3, 210-pound Keyes joked.

"The other 18 per cent will come with experience, and when the season starts, I hope I'll be able to justify my salary."

Keyes said he had been working out with his former teammates at Purdue while contract negotiations stalled. But he added, "I'm still worried about whether my body is going to be ready for professional linebackers."

Retzlaff said that Keyes might get into an exhibition game Saturday against the New York Giants, in Princeton, N.J.

Mets Turn Bullies, Trail By Only Two

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

It took the New York Mets seven years to recover from the National League's first expansion, but the second one has turned out to be a big hit for them—and Jerry Koosman.

After taking their lumps from the older teams since they came into the league in 1962, the Mets suddenly have become bullies themselves against one of this season's new kids on the block, the San Diego Padres.

With Koosman, who hurled a two-hitter, once again taking advantage of San Diego hitters and embarrassing pitcher Clay Kirby, the Mets rolled to their 11th straight victory over the expansionist Padres Wednesday night.

The 4-1 triumph crept the charging Mets within two games—and even on the all-important loss side—of the sinking Chicago Cubs, the East Division leaders who were beaten by Cincinnati 6-3 in the afternoon for their fourth consecutive defeat.

Cincinnati's victory matched San Francisco's 8-7, 10 inning afternoon verdict over Philadelphia and kept the Reds within a half game and three percentage points of the first-place Giants in the West Division.

PACE KEEPING

Atlanta, a half game and five points back, also kept pace with a 1-0 victory over Pittsburgh, and Los Angeles remained one game behind with a 7-3 triumph over Montreal. Houston, three games back, beat St. Louis 5-1 in 10 innings in the other game.

The Mets, who lost only their first game against the Padres this season, bid a sad farewell to San Diego after their sixth straight victory. Koosman, on the other hand, couldn't be sure whether he was more sorry to leaven San Diego or Kirby.

O-FOR-58

Against the rest of the National League's pitchers, Koosman is 0-for-58, but against Kirby he is 3-for-5 after two hits Wednesday night.

Koosman's line single, his first hit in 49 at bats, in the third inning, started a rally that ended in Cleon Jones' two-run double for a 2-1 lead. He beat out a topper in the seventh. His only other hit this year, off Kirby, was a bunt single.

Kirby, taking his 18th loss against three victories, had other troubles in the sixth when Art Shamsky doubled in a run and scored on Ken Boswell's single.

Koosman, 12-8, and 3-0 against San Diego, yielded only a homer to Ollie Brown and a single to Al Ferrara in the first inning. He beat the Padres 4-1 on six hits during an earlier 11-game Mets' winning streak that brought them alive in May and June and won 3-2 on five hits during their current six-game run—and 12 of 13—that has cut 7½ games off Chicago's lead in two weeks.

The Cubs, losing their third in a row against Cincinnati and seventh in nine games, fell before Alex Johnson's two-run double and solo homer and Lee May's two-run homer.

MAJOR LEAGUES

Division Playoff Schedule Is Set

NEW YORK (AP) — Ten teams, including seven in the National League, have the green light to start printing tickets for baseball's first divisional playoffs for the league pennants but for six of the teams, the tickets will only be souvenirs.

The clubs given the go-ahead yesterday were Baltimore, runaway leader in the American League East, and Minnesota and Oakland in the AL West. In the National League, Chicago and New York were named in the East and Cincinnati, San Francisco, Atlanta, Los Angeles and Houston in the seesaw NL West.

The playoffs, a best-of-five series, are scheduled to start on Saturday, Oct. 4. The AL playoffs will start in the home city of the East winner, presumably Baltimore; while the NL series will begin in the home of the West Division champion. After the first two games, the teams will shift to the home city of the rival club.

Winners of the league playoffs will win berths in the World Series, a best-of-seven contest, starting on Saturday, Oct. 11 in the American League city.

Representatives of 12 clubs were invited to the meeting in the office of Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn. The St. Louis Cardinals and the Pittsburgh Pirates, currently third and fourth in the NL East, attended the meeting but were not given permission to start printing tickets.

The representatives decided there would be a day of travel between the second and third playoff games only if the clubs had to jump from one coast to the other.

Joe Cronin and Warren Giles, presidents of the American and National Leagues, respectively, also said a one-game sudden death playoff would be held in the event of division ties for first place at the end of the regular season.

CAMPY ON THE RAMPAGE

Oakland's Bert Campaneris slides hard and safe into second base, forcing Detroit shortstop Mickey Stanley to drop the ball in the first inning. Campaneris was hit on the shoulder by the same ball on a throw by Tiger first baseman Norm Cash. Detroit won yesterday's game 2-0. (UPI Telephoto)

Detroit Kid Blanks A's On Three Hits

DETROIT (AP) — Mike Kilkenny, the Canadian southpaw who got interested in baseball through bubble gum cards, gummed up Oakland's hitting machine last night by pitching the Detroit Tigers to a masterful 2-0, three-hit-victory.

The 24-year-old rookie from Bradford, Ont., relied on his curve ball and recently developed "sneaky fast ball" to hold the Athletics to three singles. He struck out six in gaining his first major league shutout, evening his record at 4-4.

The teams were to go at it again tonight with Oakland's Chuck Dobson, (14-10), scheduled to oppose Mickey Lolich (16-7).

"I thought it was pretty exciting looking at those pitchers on the baseball cards," Kilkenny smiled.

JUST HOCKEY

The lanky, dark-haired pitcher peeled off his sweaty uniform in the Tiger dressing room and spoke of his background:

"Where I come from all they play is hockey," he said. "In my town nobody wanted to go down to the ballfield because it was a disaster area, and there was nobody around to teach the game anyway."

"When the guys got to be 15 they would find a girl, start sitting in the back rows at the movies—and three days later it seemed like they were almost married.

Kilkenny was given his first major league start July 31 because Tiger Manager Mayo Smith was in dire need of a fourth starter.

LOST FIRST TWO

He lost his first two games to the American League East Division's front runner Minnesota and thought he blew his chance of starting again.

The Tigers tagged Jim "Catfish" Hunter, now 9-12, for lone runs in the third and fourth innings. The first scored on a walk to Bill Freehan, a ground out by Don Wert and a single by Mickey Stanley, who drove in six runs in Tuesday's doubleheader. Then in the next inning, Willie Horton walked, stole second, and reached third when A's catcher Phil Roof's threw into center field for an error. Tom Matchick slashed a single to right scoring Horton.

The only hits Kilkenny allowed were singles to Bert Campaneris in the third and Hunter in the fifth, plus a bunt single by Jose Tartabull in the eighth.

Pro Grid Grudge Weekend

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Houston Oilers, sporting the best squad in years, hope to snap the Dallas Cowboys' hold on the texas Pro Championship tonight in a sell-out game at the Astrodome which kicks off a 13-game holiday weekend program.

Coach Wally Lemm warned his Oilers to watch for quick outside and up the middle plays when he learned that the Dallas starting backfield will include Craig Baynham and Les Shy.

"That's their speed backfield," Lemm said.

The Oilers also will have an eye on Cowboy quarterback Craig Morton, who stepped in for retired Don Meredith to direct the multiple formation Dallas attack. It was Morton who came off the bench late in the game the last two years to clinch 30-17 and 33-19 thrillers for the Cowboys.

Both teams have identical 2-1 pre season records and almost identical rushing records. Dallas has averaged 120 yards on the ground while allowing 86 yards on defense. Houston has averaged 126 yards to its opponents' 86 yards.

Morton has a slight edge over Pete Beathard, the Oilers' rapidly maturing quarterback. In three games, Beathard has completed 35 of 71 passes for 534 yards and four tochdowns while Morton has hit on 39 of 77 for 561 yards and three touchdowns.

Another grudge game is on tap Friday night when the Kansas City Chiefs, unbeaten in four exhibitions and the hottest team in the American Football League, meet the Cardinals at St. Louis for the Governors' Cup. The Chiefs won the inaugural game last year 13-10 and are favored to repeat.

FIRST DEFEAT

Kansas City got a 418-yard, four-touchdown performance from quarterback Len Dawson while beating the Los Angeles Rams 42-14 last weekend. Cardinals' quarterback Charlie Johnson managed 15 for 32, 162 yards and one touchdown in the loss to Minnesota, the Cards' first defeat after two victories.

In Saturday's games, the New York Giants (0-2) meet the Philadelphia Eagles (1-1) at Princeton, N.J.; Los Angeles (1-2) is at San Diego (2-1-1); Chicago (2-2) faces Buffalo (1-3) and Green Bay (1-2) takes on Cleveland (2-0-1) in a doubleheader at Cleveland; Miami (0-4) hosts Baltimore (4-0); New Orleans (1-2) entertains Atlanta (2-1), and Cincinnati (1-2) travels to Pittsburgh (1-1).

In Sunday games, San Francisco (0-3) is at Oakland (1-3), Minnesota (3-0) faces the Jets (2-2) in New York, and Boston (1-2) entertains Denver (1-2).

Eagles' General Manager Pete Ratzlaff indicated running back Leroy Keyes, the last of the big name holdouts who signed yesterday, might see some action against the Giants.

Keyes, All-America from Purdue, said he hoped he'd be able to justify his salary, reported in the vicinity of $200,000.

82 PER CENT

"I feel 82 per cent in condition now," said Keyes, who started working out at Purdue six weeks ago.

Both teams will unleash their best running backs. Tucker Frederickson will make his first start for the Giants and Philadelphia expects their ground game to improve with the return of Tom Woodeshick, who missed the early pre season games because of a knee strain.

The Rams will be minus veteran cornerback Clancy Williams, who was indefinitely suspended by Coach George Allen Wednesday.

Allen threatened to trade Williams because of his "indifferent attitude."

"There's more to this game than just ability," Allen said. "I don't care if he has intercepted 19 passes the last three years. He has had an indifferent attitude toward the game and toward practice this season."

Williams, the Rams' No. 1 draft choice from Washington State in 1965, was not immediately available for comment. He has been bothered by a bruised right arm suffered three weeks ago in the pre season opener against Dallas.

The appearance of Buffalo's O. J. Simpson and Chicago's Gayle Sayers on the same field has helped lure a sell-out crowd for the doubleheader at Cleveland. Simpson played about half the game in last weekend's 21-7 losing encounter with Baltimore. The most publicized rookie in pro football history carried five times for 25 yards and returned a kickoff for 23 yards.

Sayers, in the Bears' 19-17 loss to Houston, was contained in rushing, managing only 34 yards in 11 carries, but he returned a kickoff 97 yards for a touchdown.

Strike May Upset Golf At Hartford

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (AP) — Frank Beard, Dave Hill, and controversial Ray Floyd rule as the top candidates for the first prize today on the eve of the strike-threatened $100,000 Greater Hartford Open golf tournament.

Among them, they have won eight tournaments this year, well over $300,000 in purses and have been in the forefront of this season's major development—the emerging dominance of some of the younger tour regulars.

The tournament, threatened by a strike of local caddies which the caddy master said would have prevented staging the event, has an unusual Friday through Monday foremat because of the Labor Day weekend.

Some 300 local caddies had threatened to stage a sit-down strike on the grounds if professional touring caddies were used. Some 37 top professionals had shown up with their own bag-toters, but 17 of them—including Jack Nicklaus and Dan Sikes—quickly made other arrangements, and the locals were mollified.

JUST SIT THERE

"I don't know what we'd have done if some of the pros hadn't decided to take the boy assigned to him," caddy master Mike Coyne said Wednesday. Coyne was one of the key figures in solving the dispute.

"We couldn't have moved 300 of them off the course. They were just going to sit there and not let anyone get off the tee."

This event is the last of four qualifying tournaments for the rich Alcan Golfer of the Year to be played in Portland, Ore. Sept. 25-28.

Early Start Aids Melnyk In U.S. Amateur Opener

OAKMONT, Pa. — Steve Melnyk got the early start yesterday and it helped quite a bit in giving him the first-round lead in the U.S. amateur golf championships at the Oakmont Country Club.

Melnyk started early when the greens were still damp to make for relatively easy putting. He finished with a one-under-par 70, just two strokes ahead of Vinny Giles, two-time runnerup in this tournament.

Today, Giles, who shot a 72, got the early start.

FOOTBALL

"I don't care if he has intercepted 19 passes the last three years," Allen continued. "He has had an indifferent attitude toward the game and practice this season." Then the coach added: "I am considering trading him."

Today is Thursday, Aug. 28, the 240th day of 1969 with 125 to follow.

The moon is between its full phase and last quarter. The morning stars are Venus and Saturn. The evening stars are Mercury, Mars and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1833 the British Parliament banned slavery throughout the empire.

In 1922 a New York realty company paid $100 to sponsor the first radio commercial (Over WEAL).

In 1963 more than 200,000 demonstrators staged an orderly civil rights march in Washington, D.C.

In 1968 the Democratic Party nominated Hubert Humphrey to run for President as Chicago police battled thousands of anti-war demonstrators.

A thought for the day: Theodore Roosevelt said. "The first requisite of a good citizen in this republic of ours is that he shall be able and willing to pull his weight."

Finnish Competition For Santa Claus Land

HELSINKI (UPI)—The Finnish public has been invited to compete in a contest in which a first prize of 18,000 Finnmark ($4,290) will be awarded for the best design submitted for a Disneyland-like park to be known as Santa Claus Land.

The park will be built on a 5,975 square yard site near Rovaniemi in Finnish Lapland. The plan must include small workshops, hotel, sauna, restaurant and amusement facilities. Winners will be announced in November.

Expert Always Tries To Let Opponents Take The Finesses

Beginners love to take finesses: if the finesse works, the beginner gets something for nothing. Experts hate to take finesses: if the finesse loses, the expert feels he should have tried some other line of play. The expert's solution is to get an opponent to take his finesses for him.

TRUMP TRICK

West opened the jack of diamonds, and declarer won in dummy. He drew one round of trumps with the ace, cashed the rest of the diamonds and then gave East his trump trick.

East returned the three of spades, and South considered a finesse with the jack. A beginner would take the finesse, losing to the king, and would win the spade return with the ace. Now South must lose two club tricks since West will cover with the king of clubs whenever South leads the jack.

BETTER LINE

Since the actual South was an expert he found a better line of play. Instead of trying a spade finesse, South took the ace of spades and then continued with the jack. The idea was to force the opponents to begin the clubs since if West led anything else dummy could ruff while South discarded a club.

After taking the king of spades, West led a low club. Declarer played low from the dummy, and East had to put up the queen to win the trick.

FREE FINESSE

Now East had to return a club, and dummy got a free finesse.

Notice the importance of cashing the diamonds before giving the lead to the defenders. If you want to force the defenders to begin the clubs, you can't afford to leave them a safe exit in diamonds.

DAILY QUESTION

As dealer, you hold:
♠ Q 4
♥ 8 7 6 4 3
♦ A Q 7
♣ A 10 3.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Pass.

You have 12 points in high cards and one point for the doubleton. This is enough for an optional opening bid, but you decline the option because a doubleton queen is not quite worth three points and because your long suit is too emaciated to bid. You would bid one heart if you had two low spades and five hearts headed by the queen.

English More Popular Than German

In 1968, 71 per cent of the students took English as their first foreign language, compared with 65 per cent in 1964-65. Only 28 per cent studied German. Before World War II, the main first language was German.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

Automotive Repair Complex Is Mushrooming In Novato

There are now three separate businesses at 862 Vallejo Avenue, Novato, where a single firm operated before.

Novato Automotive Service, previously listed here, continues doing general automotive service and repair work. It is operated by Valesco Baldwin of Petaluma, who has the master lease on the building, using five stalls.

Body work is done by Jerry Gulick of Petaluma, using two stalls, under the name of Novato Auto Body Shop. This will have a separate phone number.

Novato Radiator Shop, also with two stalls, is being operated by George Ascot of Novato. This, too, will have a separate phone number.

Moving in within the next few days, with an opening next week, will be Roland Trehearne Associates, located for the past two years at 508 Third Street, San Rafael. Trehearne has leased larger quarters at 25 Mitchell Boulevard through William W. Hoey and Co.

This company acts as manufacturers agent for computer hardware and other electronic equipment.

JOHN S. SANFORD of Tiburon has been appointed Mexico City representative for Wells Fargo Bank. An assistant vice president, he joined the bank in 1954. He was once assistant manager of the San Rafael office and later manager of the 725 Irving Street office in San Francisco. Most recently he has been on the staff of the training department. He and his family will live in Mexico City.

Sanford

Uston

KENNETH S. USTON of Tiburon has joined the staff of the Pacific Coast Stock Exchange as a vice president for finance, personnel and planning. He was formerly director of planning for American Cement Co. Before that he was a management consultant with Cresap, McCormick and Paget and earlier was with Southern New England Telephone Co.

JACK A. STEPHENS of Sleepy Hollow has been appointed western regional manager for Rand McNally and Co. and will have his headquarters in San Francisco. For the past 15 years he has been with Scott Foresman and Co., educational publishers in Palo Alto.

ROY (DUSTY) RHODES of San Rafael is new traffic and parking director at the San Rafael main office of Bank of Marin, replacing Robert Bond, who has recently moved to Nevada. Rhodes, who finds it difficult to go into complete retirement, in now a healthy 73. At the age of 47 he decided to apply for enlistment in the U.S. Navy, was accepted and later saw police action in Korea. He has also seen service as custodian of the Masonic Building in San Rafael and with Crocker-Citizens National Bank.

NATIONAL SALES HONORS have been awarded by the Addressograph-Multigraph Corp. to Andrew J. G. Watson of San Anselmo, assistant sales manager in San Francisco, and to Gary D. Drummond of San Rafael, sales representative for Marin County. Both have been made members of the company's Hundred Club for going over their sales quotas and will attend a company meeting in Hollywood, Fla., in September.

Nepal-Chinese Trade At $2.6 Million

KATMANDU (UPI) — Nepal will import Communist Chinese goods valued at $2.6 million during 1969, according to an agreement signed between Nepal's state-owned National Trading, Ltd., and the state corporation of Communist China.

Proceeds from sale of the Chinese goods will be used to finance Chinese-aided projects in Nepal.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Investor Patience Needed For Turnaround Situation

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I foolishly got caught by conglomerate glamor and bought Avnet around 35. I'd appreciate your opinion. — R. N.

A. I believe Avnet is worth holding as a turnaround though you will need patience while evaluating its emergence from a series of adverse circumstances.

Stocks of many respected electronics firms have been having a hard time; conglomerates are depressed, and in addition Avnet has had strikes to contend with as well as shrinking margins from price weakness in color-TV tubes and overcapacity in its copper wire plant.

However, earnings should move up in fiscal 1969-70, aided by cost cuts, corporation restructuring and the current uptrend in sales which is expected to continue. Broadened operations are being skillfully integrated through long-term planning by experienced managers.

Q. Last January I bought 25 shares of Clary Corp. at 23⅝. My adviser thinks it will be a winner so I've held on. Should I sell if I don't need the cash? —W. H.

A. Clary peaked out in July, 1968, at 32¼ and you've ridden it down from its best performance level in 1969. Until earnings are out of the red — they slipped early this year — I don't expect share price to show any real bounce.

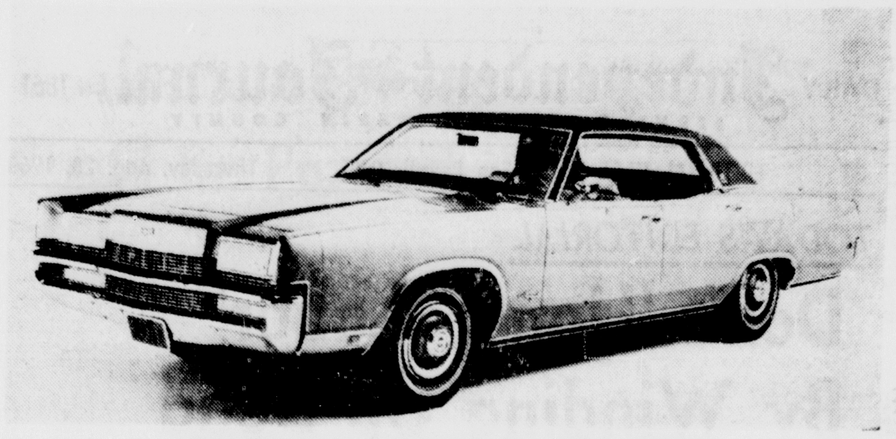
The company's product mix of gyroscopes, small computers and peripheral equipment, mobile homes and housing components suggests areas of potential profitability that could help Clary to become a speculative winner. How long this might take is impossible to predict. The burst of speculative strength in Clary's shares a year ago reflected a tripling of earnings between 1966 and 1968, from 16 cents a share to over 50 cents. Since then sales have fallen off 21 per cent, an earnings deficit has appeared and recent acquisitions must be effectively integrated. Your decision to hold or to sell depends largely on your temperament because even partial recovery to your cost seems rather far away.

Extra Facilities

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Power Commission has authorized Colorado Interstate Gas Co. to build $4.6 million worth of additional natural gas facilities in Wyoming.

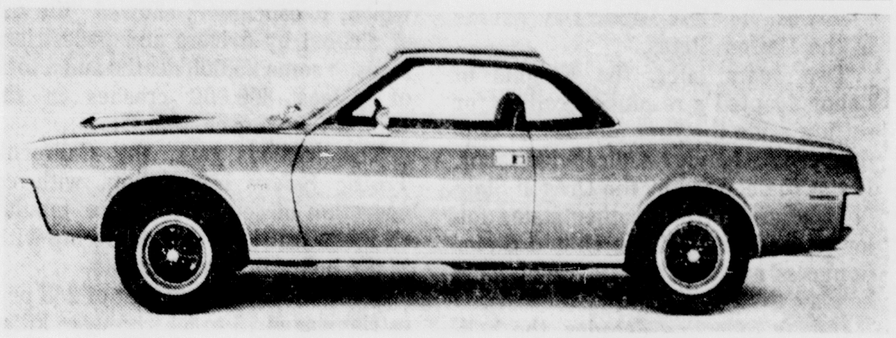
Hawaii Costs High

HONOLULU (UPI) — Food costs in Hawaii run from 15 to 20 per cent higher than those on the West Coast, according to the U.S. Bureau of Labor statistics.



MERCURY MARQUIS FOR 1970

Engineering and design refinements and a number of new options are in the new Marquis to go on sale in September. The 1970 model maintains its Continental look and has newly designed grille and tail lights. Cars will be sold in Marin at Larry Brink Motors, Mill Valley, and Marin Bay Lincoln-Mercury, San Rafael.



1970 JAVLIN LONGER

American Motors' Javelin sports hardtop includes numerous exterior and interior styling changes and will be almost two inches longer. A new hood features two simulated air scoops, which with an optional performance package, are used to facilitate a ram-air induction system. Javelins will go on sale Sept. 25 at Anderson Motor Co., Novato; Dexter Rambler, San Rafael, and Larry Brank Motors, Mill Valley.

Woolworth Sales Top $1.9 Billion

NEW YORK (UPI)—A business that started with nickels is nearing the $2 billion mark in annual sales.

There was a 5-cent ceiling on all merchandise when F. W. Woolworth opened the first of the stores to bear his name 90 years ago. Price ceilings, which went to 10 cents and later to 20 cents, were abandoned in 1935.

Today the company has annual sales exceeding $1.9 billion.

Stocks On Higher Side At Day's End

Motors traded in both directions. Florida East Coast Railway was one of the biggest moving rails after climbing more than 5 Wednesday.

Conglomerates were mixed, as were gold mining shares. Steels and chemicals traded in fractions, but oils and electronics were ranging to more than a point from previous closings, generally on the plus side.

Aircrafts and airlines showed scattered strength.

Among the most active issues were Leasco Data, Fairchild Camera, McGraw-Hill, Cities Service and Loew's Theatres.

Don't 'Honor Labor' By Winding Up Dead

On the first Monday of September in 1882, the Knights of Labor, led by Terrence V. Powderly, grand master workman, paraded in the streets of New York in a demonstration of solidarity of the laboring classes.

It was the first Labor Day parade in the United States.

Two years later, the Knights of Labor adopted a resolution calling for setting aside the first Monday of September as a holiday dedicated to labor. It was so declared by the Oregon State Legislature in 1887. Other states followed, and in 1894 the United States Congress made Labor Day a national holiday.

During following decades, the holiday was marked by parades of labor union members, generally in the working clothes of their trades, and by picnics, athletic events, and public programs.

THE AUTOMOBILE changed all that.

Labor Day now is an excuse for a holiday away from home. Because it falls on a Monday, the resulting "long week end" lures Americans by the millions onto the highways, starting Friday evening. The resulting slaughter in traffic accidents has made the Labor Day week-end a "holiday of death."

Adding to the dangers from crowding of highways is the holiday atmosphere which results in more drinking drivers than on normal week ends.

DESPITE THE ADAGE that "gasoline and alcohol don't mix," a lot of people try to mix them on the Labor Day week end.

The fatality of the mixture is demonstrable. The U.S. Department of Transportation in a report to congress last year detailed a nationwide study which, it concluded, showed "the use of alcohol by drivers and pedestrians leads to some 25,000 deaths and a total of at least 800,000 crashes in the United States each year."

The previous year, the California Traffic Safety Foundation, with cooperation of county coroners, tabulated 2,099 traffic deaths occurring within six hours of the accidents.

It found that 61 per cent of 283 pedestrians aged 15 to 64 who were killed in traffic had been drinking.

Of 1,510 drivers fatally injured, 53 per cent had been drinking.

The figures speak for themselves.

LABOR DAY would do more honor to organized labor—for which it was established—if we went back to parades, picnics, and programs for its observance. But who goes to a parade nowadays? And to get to picnic grounds means getting out on the road in an automobile—especially in a place like Marin, where public transportation is minimal at best and almost nonexistant on a holiday.

There's one solution left, however: Stay home. Watch the television. Mow the lawn. Get to know the family a little better.

And if you have to drive some place this week end, don't drink. Becoming a corpse is a poor way to pay honor to labor.

Yellow Lights Mean Caution

Have you ever seen a pair of bright yellow reflectors in your headlights or in a flashlight beam in the garden? These yellow reflectors are just the size of pennies, but they mean caution for they are the bright, inquisitive eyes of a raccoon. Few wild creatures have eyes with comparable reflecting ability.

It is almost uncanny to come face to face with a pair of these little, yellow headlights unexpectedly. Sometimes it can be a bit eerie until one realizes that they are just the curious eyes of friendly, lovable Mr. Raccoon.

AN EDUCATOR'S VIEW

How 'Democratic Process' Is Applied On Campuses

By JOHN W. GILBAUGH
Professor of Education
San Jose State College

As the country moves toward political conservatism at the polls, college campuses continue undisturbed as bastions of left-wing liberalism. Consequently, the alienation between town and gown and between the university community and the general taxpaying public is becoming more pronounced.

Why do changes mandated at the polls by the electorate go unheeded on college and university campuses? Do those elected lack the capacity to establish campus control? Not entirely. Somehow professors have convinced trustees and state legislators that college and university campuses should be autonomous political entities. And that they whould be run democratically as local state and federal governments Since city councilmen, mayors, state assemblymen and senators and governors, and federal congressmen and the President are elected, so also, should college and university department heads, deans, presidents and members of university senates be elected.

Though the analogy is widely used in public higher education, it is fraudulant and misleading.

WHILE ON the surface, city, state and federal electoral systems seem applicable to colleges and universities, the fatal flaw in the comparison becomes readily apparent if the system of electing administrators and college senators is applied to off-campus political entities. For example, at the city level, using the college system, firemen and policemen would elect their own officers and administrators, determine who among their number would be hired, promoted or fired, and formulate all regulations regarding firefighting and law enforcement. City employees, not qualified voters at large, would determine the membership of the city council and the method of naming a mayor.

At the state level, assemblymen and senators would be elected by the state's civil service employees. They, in turn would elect the governor. Each department of government would elect officers and determine within broadly prescribed limits who would be hired, promoted, or fired.

On the federal level, United States congressmen and senators would be elected by government employees. The President of the United States would be designated by Congress, or a committee established by that branch of government. The armed forces would be virtually autonomous — free to impose their edicts on the populace at will. What, then, would be the role of Mr. Average Taxpayer? Why 8he voting for the tax collector and paying taxes!

SO, WHILE college and university professors press forward in establishing "communities of scholars" with virtual political autonomy, patterned after city, state and national levels of government — the voice of the taxpayer has been effectively muted. Indeed, the system is out of harmony with one of America's most sacred traditions — taxation with representation.

Though trustees are said to be the link between the taxpaying public and the public's campuses, the public interest has not been too well served. For trustees, insulated in office by long-term appointments, have become mesmerized by professorial rhetoric. Consequently, while the general public cries out for campus sanity, college and university campuses continue their leftward political thrust unimpeded.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — California consumers are somewhat better off as the result of legislation passed by the 1969 session, according to Speaker of the House Robert T. Monagan, R-Tracy.

Monagan says, "high among the accomplishments of the legislature this year must be listed the laws enacted for the protection of consumers."

AMONG THESE laws he lists some of the annoyances the consumer suffers in what has been a flow of unsolicited merchandise through the mail.

The state, of course, cannot control what goes through the mail, but it can and did enact laws whereby the recipient is no longer responsible for returning matter that was unsolicited.

Gov. Ronald Reagan has signed a measure authored by Monaghan which declares that mail-delivered, unsolicited merchandise "constitutes a free gift" which the recipient can "utilize, give away, or throw away."

In other words if you receive a package of address labels, or anything else, along with a dun for money or a contribution, you can use them or toss them in the wastebasket, as you choose, and the sender under the new California law, can't come back and demand his money.

ALONG WITH THIS goes withdrawal from participation in book-clubs, record clubs, picture clubs, etc., which has been a difficult matter in the past.

Policies of some organizations operating these kinds of businesses is to ignore a cancellation and keep on sending the merchandise, threatening a law suit in small claims court if the receiver fails to pay.

This is going to be different now. Just give the club 30 days' notice of cancellation, anf if it keeps on sending the merchandise, the receiver won't be held responsible under the law.

The new measure no doubt will cause the clubs, including those that are legitimate, to pay more attention to their computerized address systems.

CREDIT CARDS were another item dealt with by the legislature. Similar relief is given the individual who is sent an unsolicited credit card, as he has no responsibility and is absolved from any obligation with regard to unauthorized purchases made with such a card if he has not used it himself.

Also a credit card holder's obligation is cancelled when he gives responsible notice of loss of the credit card by phone, telegram, or letter.

Additional protections were enacted to shield the consumer from being victimized in connection with insurance purchases and cancellations, prescription labeling, purity of pet food, property purchases in subdivisions, and home improvement contracts, Monagan said.

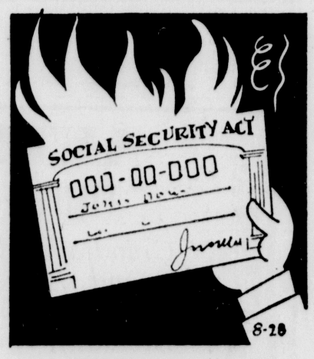
TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

Soupy Sales, crossing the campus of a Southern California institution of learning, saw a bearded and beaded student burning something in a trash can. "Your draft card, no doubt?" hazarded Soupy. "No, sir," replied the student with unexpected civility. "I'm not opposed to war. I'm opposed to work. This is my social security card."



OVERHEARD:

At a ladies' club luncheon: "My husband's brain weighs so little he could walk on a charlotte russe."

At a golf club: "I'm leaving everything I've got to my kids. I only hope they can keep up the payments."

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Here's Real Reward For Recreation Staff

I would like to thank Ed Adams, Gary Howell, Ed Johnson, and the rest of the staff of the Novato Parks and Recreation Department.

They did a fine job and I participated in it as much as I could. Just recently they took us on a trip to Marine World. I had a lot of fun and so did a good many others.

I hope they continue their great work.

McCarthyism In Reverse Shadows Upcoming Senatorial Campaign

WASHINGTON — The most severe and the most crucial struggle for control of the Senate since 1950, when the rampant right-wing forces of Sen. Joseph McCarthy were threatening responsible government itself, is in clear prospect for 1970.

The Senatorial elections of next year will be at once the least partisan and the most significant of those two decades. It is already plain, parenthetically, that the companion contest for the House of Representatives will be so far overshadowed as to seem all but irrelevant.

IN 1950, because the virulent and largely fradulent nature of the so-called anti-Communist "crusade" of the McCarthy types was an infinitely bigger issue than any mere matter of party labels, the more responsible members of the Senate in both parties largely abandoned routine partisan considerations in the campaign. Democrat did not necessarily support Democrat and Republican did not necessarily support Republican. The touchstone was how candidates stood on McCarthyism and, in general, on a politics of reckless emotional violence.

McCarthyism with all it implied was imperiling the effective functioning of the Republican party, though the senator himself was a Republican, and the times insistently demanded a holiday on conventional partisanship.

NOW, the challenge is in some respects quite similar; and this time it directly involves the Democratic rather than the Republican party. For the New Left within the Democratic Party is imperiling its effective functioning. Where Joseph McCarthy proceeded with a harsh cynicism to force this government into an irrationally extreme hard line against world communism, the current Democratic New Left is motivated by an irrationally excessive trust. Its shrill conviction — which it simply will not allow to be debated in dispassionate political terms — is that peace is just around the corner if only this country will sufficiently disarm itself.

McCarthy's devil-hunt was among alleged pro-Communists in the State Department; the Democratic New Left's devil is a "military-industrial complex" alleged to reside in the Pentagon and endlessly to lobby for war and suffering.

McCarthy's notion by logical extension wound up in something close to the infinitely dangerous doctrine of preventive war. The Democratic New Left's dogma by logical extension winds up with something close to the appalling foolishness of neutralism and pacifism. So, a blindness from the right of 20 years ago has been succeeded by a blindness from the left of today.

IT HAPPENS, moreover, that it is precisely this sort of Democratic senator who is most numerous this time among those who must meet the voters in 1970. If the Republicans can unseat as many as seven of this type, they can take the Senate. Ordinarily, they would have hardly a ghost of a chance. But the times are not ordinary; and the simple truth is that, as in 1950, many a sitting Democratic senator, and many a powerful Democrat outside the Senate, will no more lift a finger in aid of New Left colleagues than many a responsible Republican senator of 1950 would lift one in behalf of right-wing colleagues.

It is, therefore, not wise to wave off, as typical partisan overstatement, the claims of the Republican senatorial campaign committee, headed by John Tower of Texas, that the GOP can, in fact, win the Senate. It can do so, that is, if the country grows tired enough meantime of the vehement new isolationism and flight from reality that has been foisted upon the Democratic Party in the Sanate by a minority which nevertheless controls the leadership and largely dominates the headlines.

This, then, is the name of the game for 1970. Shall the Republicans — who have, parenthetically, some problem of their own from the left but on no such scale as that of the Democrats — ride to power on the suicide impulse of far-liberal Democrats who seem to have mistaken the howls of campus "demonstrators" for the voice of the people?

Nixon, To Woo China, Needs Finesse Of Troudeau

By FREDERICK NOSSAL
Toronto Telegram News Service

HONG KONG — To woo China, the Nixon administration will have to follow the path taken by Canada's Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau. Like Mr. Trudeau, President Nixon will have to make the Chinese Communists feel they are wanted and needed in the international community, and that as a potential great power China should be given a say in global affairs.

The present U.S. position is negative. Washington is putting out feelers toward Peking because it may be dangerous not to do so.

Secretary of State William Rogers said in Canberra recently that China had been isolated from world affairs for too long, and that this was one reason the United States is seeking to open channels of communication. But the dialogue with the Chinese proposed by Mr. Rogers will be utterly barren unless the dilemma of Formosa is at least discussed intelligently.

THE CHINESE are convinced they have been wronged by the United States and by other countries pursuing a similar policy toward them. In grossly oversimplified terms — because to go into the tangled history of Sino-American relations in detail would fill several volumes — this is how Peking sees the situation:

Japan grabbed Formosa and other Chinese islands following the Sino-Japanese War of 1895. Japan invaded Manchuria in 1931, pushed southward through the rest of China later that decade, and subsequently tried to conquer all of Asia.

Long before the end of the Pacific war, the Allies promised China that all possessions taken by the Japanese would be returned. Formosa was returned to Chiang Kai-shek's regime in 1945, but Chiang lost the civil war against the Communists and took refuge on the island province.

The Chinese Communists today claim they have an excellent legal case to ownership of Formosa.

MR. TRUDEAU has sidestepped this difficulty by using one of Peking's favorite slogans — that the question of Formosa is one to be decided by the Chinese themselves.

Canada is not willing to endorse the territorial limits of China as outlined on Communist maps. But the Trudeau Government is not saying — as did the Pearson administration — that there is an independent de facto nation called Formosa or Taiwan. The matter of Formosa's legal status is simply left in the air.

Obviously President Nixon cannot take similar short cuts to improve ties with Peking. The United States has specific treaty commitments to Chiang's regime, the Republic of China.

Mistress Maria, Not Contrary Puts TLC Into Her Garden

The other day we met Maria West of Corte Madera who has a hardy garden where the sweet corn harvest is now going great.

"It grew crazy," said Mrs. West. "People don't have good corn around here. I had the best of luck. I got real corn on the cob."

Asked how this was accomplished, Mrs. West replied that she just uses horse manure and straw.

SHE ALSO HAS a row of zucchini running right across the garden and, around the border, flowers. The tomatoes are coming on now and Mrs. West says she has a Mexican squash that grew "the size of a watermelon."

This year she experimented with Jerusalem artichoke, which is not known too well, looks like ginger root and is high in protein.

"I have potatoes in the ground," Mrs. West, a slim lady with dark eyes, said.

MRS. WEST, barefoot and in shorts, pointed with pride to her French shallots and garlic drying on the rail of the porch. Then she rubbed some leaves of a potted plant and put her fingers up for smelling.

"Basil," she exclaimed proudly, "that the Dagos pay a big price for." "Are you Italian?" we asked. "Yeah," she said, smiling.

Mrs. West said she gardens barefoot, "like a hippy — but I'm not one."

She said that she is from Louisiana and her folks gardened .

"That's all I knew (gardening) until I learned waitress work," Mrs. West said.

THE BAREFOOTED gardener said she also preserves her crops and has about 500 jars of canned goods stored away.

Swiss chard can be grown all year around in Marin, Mrs. West said, and it doesn't take up much space. She also grows onions, carrots and cabbage all year.

She said one doesn't need a green thumb if he puts a little TLC (tender loving care) in the ground as she does.

"It gives me a wonderful feeling about how soil does make things grow — just like those guys that went into orbit — and that you can really accomplish things with your hands if you want to put yourself to it. They ask me, 'Is that how you stay so slim? You're out in the garden so much.' "

THE TOMATOES are ripe, too, in a couple of pots behind the San Anselmo firehouse, according to fireman Don Whitney, who says he brings fertilizer in from a ranch and rest is accomplished by watering.

He added, "We have a real garden at Station 2 which is cared for by Al Colombo and Gerry Cahill." He said they have squash, tomatoes, lettuce and beans. Whitney said the firemen get a lot of supplies from the garden and added, "It helps cut down the cost of food around here."

ART BUCHWALD

Once-In-A-Lifetime Thrill —For The Entire Family

CAPE COD — One of the problems of taking children on vacation is that there is nothing to do with them in the evenings. There is one movie house in our town on Cape Cod, and it shows a different film every night. Unfortunately none of the children has been able to go because every film that they've shown has been graded by the Valenti code as "M" for mature audiences only, "R" for restricted audiences only, or "X" which means you have to prove you're Dirty Old Men before they let you in.

You can therefore imagine my surpirse when I heard the other day the Bijou Cinema was advertising for Saturday night a "G" picture, which meant it was for the entire family. I couldn't believe it, so I ran down to the theater to see if it was possibly true.

OTHER PARENTS had also heard the rumor, and there was a large crowd in front of the building staring at the "coming attractions" poster which said the film on Saturday had been declared for general audiences "without any restrictions."

"What could it possibly be?" a father next to me said. "I don't know," I admitted. "I thought they had given up making films for the entire family." "Maybe it's a foreign film," his wife suggested. "It could be an old MGM film that they retitled," another man said. "I'm sure Hollywood wouldn't make new film for children to see."

A LADY became indignant. "They should have given us some advance notice. I had a big dinner planned for Saturday evening and now I have to cancel it." "Why?" cancel it." "Why?" a man asked. "I've never seen a movie for general audiences, and another one may not come along for years," she said.

Apparently word had spread beyond the town because people were driving in from the countryside to see the poster. Main Street was clogged with cars and fathers were standing in the middle of the street holding their children on their shoulders so they could get a better look at the "G" rating.

The manager of the movie house came out perspiring. "Please go home. This is Thursday and the family movie isn't scheduled until Saturday night. You're hurting my regular business."

NOBODY MOVED. "How do we know we can get in on Saturday night?" a man shouted. "Yeah," someone else yelled, "suppose the whole Cape hears you're showing a 'G' movie? We won't be able to get in. Why can't we buy our tickets now?"

The crowd was becoming ugly. The manager got up on a box. "Please," he said, "It's not my fault. We're only permitted to show one film for the entire family each summer. If it was up to me I'd show another one, though heaven knows where I'd find it."

A mother cried, "We support you when you show you 'M' and 'R' movies. Why can't we get some consideration when you show a 'G' movie?"

"HOW ABOUT a matinee?" I suggested. "In that way more people could see it."

"I can't show it at a matinee. Next Saturday's matinee is already booked for 'I Am Curious — Yellow.' "

"My child's never seen a movie," another mother cried. "Couldn't children who have never seen a movie be given first preference?"

"Madam," the manager said. "We can't cater to lower age groups."

IT LOOKED hopeless, so I decided to go home. As I suspected, the word had spread all along the Cape that our cinema was going to show a family movie, and on Friday morning caravans of people started to arrive with tents and sleeping bags.

By Saturday morning people had abandoned their cars 20 miles from the town and walked on foot in hopes of seeing it. By Saturday afternoon the place looked like the Woodstock Festival at Bethel, N.Y. The Bijou Cinema has only 500 seats, so 60,000 people had to be turned away from the theater. But they didn't seem to mind.

The father of one tribe said as he tied up his bedroll, "I think just being in town where they were showing a film for the entire family, even if we didn't get in, was a wonderful experience for the kids.

Bakersfield Slayer Could Be Paroled

BAKERSFIELD (UPI) — A man sentenced to die by hanging 42 years ago for the slaying of his wife and stepdaughter is coming up for parole at San Quentin Prison.

Kern County Asst. Dist. Atty. Richard Bradshaw said he was informed today by the California Department of Corrections that Odd Cornell, 75, would be up for parole soon. He did not mention a date.

At his trial in February, 1927, the prosecution said Cornell, a Bakersfield truck driver, became angry with his wife Oct. 17, 1926, for charging him with a statutory offense against the step-daughter, Fairy Gerace, 14.

He was said to have shot his wife, Fairy Cornell, three times with a .45-caliber weapon and then shot the girl before turning the gun on himself. After shooting himself, he saw the girl was still alive, and shot her again, the prosecution contended.

Cornell subsequently recovered from a chest wound.

On Feb. 9, 1927, Cornell was sentenced to death by hanging by then Superior Court Judge R. T. Lambert.

However, he escaped the gallows when he later was declared insane and was sent to Mendocino State Hospital.

Several years later, Cornell was declared cured and returned to San Quentin. But Gov. James Rolph Jr. commuted the death sentence to life in prison without possibility of parole.

Later the sentence was changed to life in prison with possibility of parole, but when Cornell applied for parole in 1935 the action created a furor in Kern County and he was turned down.

Bradshaw said there was no indication Kern County authorities would oppose Cornell's parole this time.

CARE Self-Help

NEW YORK (UPI)—Since its inception in the early 1950s, CARE's self-help program has shipped enough farm implements throughout the world to help 716,000 farmers and their sons learn and practice modern farming methods to increase crop yields and earn more family income.

Contrary Addendum In Portnoy

COCOA, Fla. (AP) — Religious leaflets have been finding their way into the sexy parts of "Portnoy's Complaint" and other novels in Cape Kennedy area public libraries.

"It's a sneaky way of creeping up behind you and socking it to you," said director Charles E. Huber of the Cocoa Library.

Huber said he wrote to "Gospel" in Eau Gallie, Fla., which signed the leaflets and complained of their insertion while the books are on the library shelves.

James T. Lufin, director of the small religious group, said: "I print them and give them out at no cost. I have no idea what happens to them after that."

Huber said he had found more than a dozen of the leaflets in the library's books. Particular targets, he said, are sexy novels.

The leaflets carry brief sermons and Biblical quotations, Huber said.

Huber wrote Gospel: "Any responsible citizen is welcome to donate to the public library books that reflect his view of the world, but those views must compete on open and equal terms in the intellectual marketplace, and not be inserted into the legitimate works of other men."

Even A Princess Can't Wear Mini

ROME (AP) — Princess Paolo of Liege, sister-in-law of Belgian King Baudouin, ran afoul of the Vatican's ban on miniskirts, two Italian publications reported today.

The newspaper Il Tempo said the princess, a native of Italy who is the wife of Baudouin's younger brother, Prince Albert, was stopped by a guard as she was about to enter St. Peter's Basilica with two friends.

Paolo told the guard, "All right, we will come back some other time," Il Tempo said.

The magazine Novella 2000 published a picture of the princess smiling as she talked with a guard at the entrance to St. Peter's. She was wearing a miniskirt that was not as short as many but still ended above the knees.

The Vatican last week banned women in miniskirts and men in shorts from St. Peter's.

Youths Plead Guilty In Theft

Three San Rafael youths accused of burglarizing a San Rafael house Aug. 20 pleaded guilty yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to a reduced charge of petty theft.

Sentencing was set for Sept. 26 for Michael B. Harris, 18, Gerry S. Boatright, and Robert B. Moffett, both 19.

They were arrested when they reportedly were removing furniture from a house at 66 Brookdale Avenue.
